CHESS - your personal guide for educational and entertaining museum visits

Tourist guides, audio guides... they all guide our museum visits in ways that don't really take into account our own preferences and interests. How much more entertaining and informative a museum visit would be if we had a personal guide, expert and entertaining at the same time, to turn the visit into a personalized enjoyable experience? The Chess project opens up for us this possibility in an accessible and affordable manner. If you want to know more, check out this article in the Guardian.
