Market Surveillance for growth and jobs

- Europe needs to rebuild its economy and address grand challenges
- The only way forward is to unleash Europe's potential to manufacture and market future products and services
- Shortage of finance, decline in consumption in Europe, unfair competition from developing countries drive profit margins down
- Machine tool builders are exposed to unfair competition both outside
  Europe (protectionism) and in the Internal Market (weak market surveillance)
- European framework conditions need to be adjusted so that...

Europe capitalizes on an economic model which enables manufacturers to create value through quality and high performance goods, and to generate highly-skilled jobs.
