I. Objective of the General Publicity

The submission of proposals is not possible at this stage: each action described in the list of planned actions (see point III) will be the subject of a specific call for proposals. The list of ad hoc grants is given for reasons of transparency and will not be the object of any specific call for proposals.

II. Context: the Mission of the Enterprise and Industry Directorate General

Enterprise and Industry DG works to ensure that EU policies contribute to the sustainable competitiveness of EU enterprises and facilitate job creation and sustainable economic growth. It plays a major role in implementing the Europe 2020 strategy. We pay particular attention to the needs of manufacturing industry, tourism, and small and medium sized enterprises, managing programmes to encourage entrepreneurship and innovation and ensuring that Community legislation takes proper account of their concerns.

This grants annual programme revolves around the Objectives of the Enterprise and Industry Directorate General's Annual Management Plan.

In order to reach these Objectives the following activities, from which the grant programme is derived, are to be carried:

1. Competitiveness, industrial policy, innovation and entrepreneurship

The activities of Enterprise and Industry DG in this area are designed to assist the on-going adjustment of Community industry to industrial change in an open and competitive market, improving its competitiveness in the face of global competition and stimulating entrepreneurship to ensure a steady supply of new entrants into business.

2. Internal market for goods and sectorial policies

This activity covers measures designed to ensure the smooth operation of the internal market (either through horizontal measures or through actions which focus on particular economic sectors such as automotive or chemicals).

3. Space and Security

The aims of the actions carried out in the area of space are as follows:

- to move and coordinate Space activities at EU and international level, so that the competitiveness of the sector is enhanced
- to bring the Global Monitoring for the Environment and Security services into operation
- to strengthen the technological base of the space industry through actions carried out under the 7th Framework Programme for research and technological development.
- to increase the technological basis for security in Europe so that higher security levels are possible

4. EU satellite navigation programs

EU satellite navigation programmes activity aims at providing global satellite-based navigation infrastructures and services, notably the European Satellite Navigation System (Galileo) and the European geostationary navigation overlay system (EGNOS). The Galileo programme is Europe's initiative for a state-of-the-art global satellite navigation system, providing a highly accurate, guaranteed global positioning service under European civilian control. EGNOS aims at providing satellite-based services to improve the performance of the Global Positioning System (GPS) over Europe.

Under this activity, the DG pursues the following specific objectives, which are multi-annual:

- to develop and provide global satellite-based radio navigation infrastructures and services (Galileo)
- to provide satellite-based services improving the performance of GPS over Europe (EGNOS)

The measure, which would be a key initiative in the context of the action plan to boost sales of European innovative solutions at a global scale, aims at further developing the approach of the Lead Market Initiative as a prime model for demand-oriented industrial innovation policy. As procurement budgets are primarily managed by individual national, regional, and local contracting authorities, this specific implementing measure will provide Union support for procurements of innovative technologies and solutions by public authorities in participating countries, and leverage participating countries procurement budgets towards innovation. As underlined above, the action might address in particular certain areas such as mobility or health, which have been identified in the Innovation Union flagship initiative or in other initiatives as sectors where public procurement can make a real difference and which have not sufficiently been addressed in previous calls in 2009 or 2011.
