Are you looking for funding for your environment, nature, or climate action project? Check the 2019 LIFE calls for proposals and take a look at some tips to help with your application.

LIFE funds projects under sub-programmes for environment (which also includes nature and biodiversity), and climate action. It covers traditional smaller projects and larger integrated projects which allow beneficiaries to receive and use funding from many sources, including the EU, national budgets and the private sector.

Other funding in the form of operating grants is available for NGOs.

Deadlines

Most environment projects should be submitted in June 2019 and climate action projects in September 2019.
