Economic sentiment decreases further in both the EU and the euro area

In June, the Economic Sentiment Indicator (ESI) continued to decline in both the EU and the euro area. It fell by 2.5 points in the EU and by 2.7 points in the euro area, to 94.6 and 94.9 respectively. In both regions, the ESI remains below its long-term average.

The sectoral developments in the two areas were broadly similar and were characterised by a fall in all confidence indicators except for services, which increased slightly. The decline in confidence in the manufacturing sector was more marked in the euro area than in the EU.

The large majority of countries reported a fall in sentiment in June. Among the large Member States, Spain registered a significant drop (-6.2), while declines were more moderate in France (-2.7), Germany (-1.5), and Italy (-0.1). In the UK, sentiment recovered (+2.1) but still remains below its long-term average.

According to the bi-annual industrial investment survey, which was carried out in March and April of this year, most managers expect to increase their investment volumes in 2008 as compared to 2007. In 2008, real investment is expected to grow by 5% in the EU and 6% in the euro area. This represents an upward revision of expectations from the 3% in both regions reported in the previous investment survey conducted during the fourth quarter of 2007.

(a) The indicator is the arithmetic average of the balances (%) of the questions on production expectations, order-books and stocks (the last with inverted sign).

(b) Highest figure is considered as a minimum, lowest figure is considered as a maximum.

(c) With effect from May 2008, a number of partner institutes in the programme have changed; this may cause a break in some series. Details of the changes are available on the BCS website.
