Master of Advanced Studies in Interpreter Training [1]

Highly modular and fully online

The University of Geneva (FTI) is launching its Master of Advanced Studies in Interpreter Training 2019-21. Acquire the pedagogical skills required for effective and efficient training of interpreters for all settings and modalities. Courses include task and skill analysis, progression and sequencing, problems and remedies, teaching note-taking, teaching simultaneous interpreting with text, testing and assessment, ethics, feedback and supervising theses. The program is highly modular and taught fully online (on TR@IN [4], the FTI’s customized online training platform).

More information [5]