19th Meeting of the FAO-CIHEAM Mountain Pastures sub-network

The FAO-CIHEAM subnetwork on Mountain Pastures aims to share scientific and technical knowledge on mountain pastures and livestock farming, for which, among other activities, it organizes biennial meetings in singular European mountain areas.

On mountain pastures in particular, adequately conducted livestock can be a tool for the efficient management of large areas of high natural value. At the same time, it can sustain a viable economic activity and provide differentiated products that fulfill societal demands for quality and environmentally-friendly production. Optimizing these aspects requires a multidisciplinary approach, combining research and development on ecology, animal, plant, social and environmental issues. Exchanging information on these aspects is the overall objective of this meeting.

For more information visit the [website][1] of the event.

Dates:
Tuesday, 14 June, 2016 - 08:00 to Thursday, 16 June, 2016 - 17:00

Group content visibility:
Use group defaults

Image:

---

[1]: https://ec.europa.eu/eip/agriculture
[2]: Other
Meeting

Venue Address:
Mediterranean Agronomic Institute of Zaragoza, Zaragoza, Spain

Location:
Spain [3]

Keywords:
animal husbandry [4]
Animal husbandry and welfare [5]
pasture [6]
high nature value farming [7]
Farming practice [8]

Published by Eneli VIIK on Wednesday, 20/01/2016
Last modified by Eneli VIIK on Wed, 20/01/2016 - 08:42

Source URL:
https://ec.europa.eu/eip/agriculture/en/event/19th-meeting-fao%E2%80%90ciheam-mountain-pastures-sub

Links