The EIP-AGRI has published a brochure 'Thematic Networks under Horizon 2020 - compiling knowledge ready for practice'.

Working on a specific topic, these thematic networks collect existing scientific knowledge and best practices and translate them into easily understandable end-user material.

Through concrete examples, the brochure sets out everything you need to know about thematic networks: aims and objectives, choosing the themes, who to involve and the benefits of their activities. It also focuses on the dissemination which must be carried out by thematic networks and gives examples of Practice Abstracts which thematic networks must produce (short summaries of innovative techniques in a common format).
