This workshop took place in Vienna in November 2016. Participants from the European forestry sector pooled their ideas on innovative value chains from multifunctional forests. Examples range from 3D printing using cork, to trekking trails and mushrooms with health benefits.

Read the workshop report to find out about these and other inspiring examples [1].

See the workshop webpage here for presentations and other documents [2].

Source URL:

Links