Horizon 2020 multi-actor project LIVESEED focuses on increasing the availability of cultivars adapted to organic growing conditions. Partners include research institutes, breeding organisations, seed companies and organic associations. Bram Moeskops (IFOAM EU): “We have brought the main stakeholders together that play an important role in the organic seed market. With this multi-actor consortium we can bring organic seeds and organic breeding forward.”

More information. [1]

Links