<ul style="list-style-type: none">Do you take the view that the discussion of demographic trends and managing their impact should take place at European level?If so, what should be the objectives, and which policy areas are concerned? Oui. Prévision des évolutions démographiques Détermination d'un cadre global de gestion de l'activité et de la retraite.
1. The challenges of European demography
1.1. The challenge of a low birth rate
Over many years, the Union has been making considerable efforts to achieve equality between men and women and has coordinated national social protection policies. <ul style="list-style-type: none">How can a better work/life balance help to tackle the problems associated with demographic ageing?How can a more balanced distribution of household and family tasks between men and women be encouraged?Should the award of certain benefits or advantages (leave, etc.) be linked to an equal distribution of tasks between the sexes? How best to ensure an adequate income for both parents on parental leave?

- How can the availability of child care structures (crèches, nursery schools, etc.) and elderly care structures be improved by the public and private sectors?
- Can a reduced rate of VAT contribute to the development of care services?
- How can parents, in particular young parents, be encouraged to enter the labour market, have the career that they want and the number of children they want?

Permettre à tous de partager le travail à travers une réduction de la semaine de travail (par exemple 4 jours par semaine). Garder une fiscalité élevée et surtout dans niches fiscales.

1.2. The possible contribution of immigration

The Thessaloniki European Council in June 2003 declared that an EU integration policy for immigrants should help to meet the new demographic and economic challenges currently facing the EU. This is the debate initiated by the Green Paper adopted last January.

- To what extent can immigration mitigate certain negative effects of demographic ageing?
- What policies should be developed for better integrating these migrants, in particular young people?
- How could Community instruments, in particular the legislative framework to combat discrimination, the structural funds and the Employment Strategy, contribute?

Favoriser l'installation des universitaires internationaux lorsqu'ils étudient en Europe

2. A new solidarity between the generations

2.1. Better integration of young people

European objectives have been laid down for the prevention of long-term youth unemployment, combating early school leaving and raising the level of initial training. The structural funds help to attain them at grass roots level.

- How can initial training and adult training schemes be improved? What can non-formal education and voluntary activities contribute? How can the structural funds and the instruments for achieving better access to the knowledge society contribute?
- How can the bridges between school and working life and the quality of young people's employment be improved? What role should social dialogue play? What can dialogue with civil society, in particular youth organisations, contribute Laisser aux jeunes l'accès à des postes de responsabilité qui leur permettent d'aider à déterminer leur avis (notamment à la commission): un grand nombre de ceux qui sont actuellement au pouvoir raisonne dans un cadre de pensée qui a conduit à une impasse spatiale et temporelle: - spatiale par l'oppression des pays riches sur les PVD - temporelle par une mauvaise gestion et un recours à l'endettement qui font payer aux générations futures et aux jeunes et leur propre subsistance et l'incurie des dirigeants passés. Un renouvellement générationnel important doit donc avoir lieu en préalable à la revitalisation du dialogue social, pour s'assurer qu'il s'agit d'un véritable dialogue et non d'une captation de la parole.

- How can Community policies contribute more to combating child poverty and poverty among single-parent families and to reducing the risk of poverty and exclusion among young people?
- What forms of solidarity can be fostered between young people and elderly people?

Réduction du risque d'exclusion: partage du travail, réduction tant de l'âge de la retraite que du travail les dernières années. Solidarités jeunes / personnes âgées: que les personnes âgées et cessent de se comporter en prédateurs (en voyageant très souvent en avion, transport contribuant activement à l'effet de serre, et en achetant des produits à bas coûts dont la production est effectuée dans des conditions inhumaines). On pourra ensuite construire sur des bases plus saines une solidarité entre générations.

2.2. A global approach to the “working life cycle”

In order to foster the transition to a knowledge society, EU policies promote the modernisation of work organisation, the definition of lifelong learning strategies, the quality of the working environment and “active ageing”, in particular raising the average retirement age. Demographic changes reinforce the importance of these policies, whilst raising new questions:

- How can the organisation of work be modernised, to take into account the specific needs of each age group?
- How can young couples' integration in working life be facilitated and how can we help them to find a balance between flexibility and security to bring up their children, to train and update their skills to meet the demands of the labour market? How can we enable older people to work more?

Pourquoi considérer comme un postulat l'élévation de l'âge moyen de retraité du marché du travail ? Il semble suicidaire de permettre aux plus âgés de travailler davantage alors que cette génération monopolise les postes de direction et ne partage pas assez le travail. Il serait plus intéressant de leur proposer de cesser progressivement et plus tôt de travailler.

- How can work organisation best be adapted to a new distribution between the generations, with fewer young people and more older workers?
- How can the various stakeholders in the Union contribute, in particular by way of social dialogue and civil society?

2.3. A new place for “elderly people”

The European coordination of retirement scheme reforms is promoting more flexible bridges between work and retirement.

- Should there be a statutory retirement age, or should flexible, gradual retirement be permitted?
- How can elderly people participate in economic and social life, e.g. through a combination of wages and pensions, new forms of employment (part-time, temporary) or other forms of financial incentive?
- How can activities employing elderly people in the voluntary sector and the social economy be developed?
- What should be the response to pensioner mobility between Member States, in particular with regard to social protection and health care?
- How should we be investing in health promotion and prevention so that the people of Europe continue to benefit from longer healthy life expectancy?

Age légal de départ à la retraite, au maximum à 65, et impossibilité par la suite d'avoir le moindre mandat d'administrateur. Interdire de manière très strict le cumul entre salaire et pension, qui conduit à voler à un emploi à un actif à qui on demande en plus de payer sa retraite. Permettre la participation bénévole et efficace des retraités qui le souhaitent dans la vie associative si cela ne vole par de réels emplois aux jeunes. Encadrer strictement les activités de R&D médicales en renforçant le poids de la recherche publique et de la prévention et en mettant sous contrôle les laboratoires pharmaceutiques.

2.4 Solidarity with the very elderly

The coordination of national social protection policies is due to be extended to long-term care for the elderly in 2006. How can this help to manage demographic change?

- The coordination of national social protection policies is due to be extended to long-term care for the elderly in 2006. How can this help to manage demographic change?

- In particular, should a distinction be drawn between retirement pensions and dependency allowances?
- How do we train the human resources needed and provide them with good quality jobs in a sector which is often characterised by low salaries and low qualifications?
- How do we arrive at a balanced distribution of care for the very old between families, social services and institutions? What can be done to help families? What can be done to support local care networks?
- And what can be done to reduce inequality between men and women when they reach retirement age?
- How can new technologies support older people?

Considérer que l'allocation d'autonomie doit systématiquement être remboursée à la mort de la personne âgée, par préemption des biens du défunt. Permettre des modèles économiques qui font que les nouvelles technologies au service des personnes âgées soient payées d'abord par elles.

3. Conclusion: what should the European Union's role be?

- Should the European Union be promoting exchanges and regular (e.g. annual) analysis of demographic change and its impact on societies and all the policies concerned?
- Should the Union's financial instruments – particularly the structural funds – take better account of these changes? If so, how?
- How could European coordination of employment and social protection policies better take on board demographic change?
- How can European social dialogue contribute to the better management of demographic change? What role can civil society and civil dialogue with young people play?
- How can demographic change be made an integral part of all the Union's internal and external policies?

Contrôle actif des droits nationaux. Rotation des personnels en Europe pour permettre l'émergence de dirigeants plus jeunes. Prendre en compte l'équilibre démographique et économique global et notamment centrer la question démographique sur toutes les générations
