LEADER building social inclusion: integration, civil society and education

LAG nordburgenland plus

Our motivation for working with this topic

LEADER can enable different approaches to positively influence relations between migrants and asylum seekers with local populations, as well as contributing to their integration into society.

This is what we did and do

A project implemented by two municipalities in the LAG area works to provide language support, social opportunities, conflict management, youth coaching and networking to asylum seekers in the Neusiedler See region. In addition, the project sets up various groups composed of local volunteers and new-comers to assess and improve new-comers language and work skills thus supporting them in their professional integration.

Another project implemented by a public library is working to foster cultural exchange between people living in the northern Burgenland region and asylum seekers, offering discussion groups on topics related to culture and language training.
