Feedback:

We would like the strategy to deal more explicitly with the problem of the enormous plastic waste generated by single use plastics, and offer alternatives for waste prevention through redesign of materials in a way that does not harm marine ecosystems, birds and fish.

There is not enough discussion of the role of producers, and the modification of EPR for packaging programs and mandates to improve recycling programs, promote composting, and reduce plastic pollution.

Use of waste-to-energy options like incineration and gasification should be discouraged in favor of more sustainable zero waste alternative strategies.
