In our Region there is a hard social opposition to WtE proposals, not only to Incineration Plants but to Coincineration too. I ask for this roadmap to clarify the health impacts of this technologies. But not only to identify the BATs involved but the actual knowing of health studies that have assessed health impact around incineration or coincineration plants (kiln cement,...). People that is against to these plants argue that there are a lot of studies concluding there is a relevant health negative impact (cancer,...). Apply these studies a right methodology to conclude it? Are the conclusions right? Which are the national and International Health Authorities position?
