SUMMARY

In line with the revised 2014-20 Multi-annual Indicative Programme for Afghanistan, the overall objective of this action is to strengthen the civilian police force in the country. As protracted insecurity and fragility continue to lie at the core of the country's development challenges, continued EU support to civilian policing and the sustainment of the police force is indispensable.

The financial efforts required for sustaining the Afghan National Security Forces are only guaranteed by prolonged external support. The overall budget for the security sector in 2017 was at EUR 1.98 billion\(^5\) which constitutes 36% of the overall national budget. Institutional capacity remains limited. Lack of reform within the Ministry of Interior and the Afghan National Police weighs on the stabilisation efforts and the development of a well-functioning Rule of Law-based society and civilian policing in Afghanistan.

The Government of Afghanistan has prioritised the reform of the Ministry of Interior and its police force, which provides a window of opportunity for much needed institutional reforms, to which this action contributes through two distinguishable components, i.e. the Law and Order Trust Fund for Afghanistan (LOTFA) and the EU Police Advisory Team.

This action aims at further contributing to the currently existing two LOTFA-projects. (i) The Support to Payroll Management Project provides exclusively for full Ministry of Interior (MoI) payroll management along with the timely provision of salaries for around 150 000 employees.

\(^5\) 2.3 billion USD - InforEuro rate in November 2017.
(ii) The MoI and Police Development Project is centred on developing national capacity for self-sustained reform and improvement of the MoI as an institution, and the police services with a view to the civilianisation of the police force as instruments for citizen safety and maintenance of the rule of law.

In the volatile context, it is essential to avoid pervasive capacity gaps within the MoI and its police force and to provide strategic level support through the Police Advisory Team-project. The project will provide strategic support with a view to the transformation of ANP into a civilian police force and to enable MoI and ANP to effectively perform their tasks through a professional police force. Several advisors will be placed in the MoI in order to contribute to the re-orientation and policy reform, to improve institutional accountability on the basis of strengthened internal monitoring and information management and to support the professionalisation of the Afghan Police Force as such. The project will build on support managed by the European Commission’s Service for Foreign Policy Instruments and funded under the Instrument contributing to Stability and Peace (IcSP) as per the Exceptional Assistance Measure in favour of Afghanistan – "Support to police reform and to national peace initiatives". Following a stock-taking exercise, the present action foresees a continued funding of these activities under the Development Cooperation Instrument (DCI) through a new service contract while closely linking to and following on the IcSP project.

Advancing gender equality and the empowerment of women within the MoI and ANP is a priority under both components of this action and provided for through the establishment of an improved gender coordination mechanism, the provision of safer work environment, gender appropriate facilities for female police personnel and a gender sensitive police curriculum.

The LOTFA component will be implemented by UNDP in indirect management (Delegation Agreement). The Police Advisory Team-component will be implemented in direct management (Service Contract).

1 CONTEXT

1.1 Sector/Country/Regional context/Thematic area

The overall security situation in Afghanistan, due to increased insurgent activity, has markedly deteriorated since 2015 and remains intensely volatile. The Afghan National Security Forces (ANSF) remain in control of approximately 64% of the total territory of Afghanistan, while the remaining 36% is either controlled by insurgents or contested. This translates into approximately three million Afghans living under insurgent control or influence.

The ever-growing delay in organising the legislative and district council elections in 2018 underlines the fragility in the political institutions which could be further compounded by the ongoing power struggle between the political parties in the run up to the 2019 Presidential and Provincial Councils elections.

Security, rule of law, political fragility, respect for fundamental values, viability of the economy and corruption constitute key risks for meeting Afghanistan’s development objectives and for further deteriorating. Corruption is a wide-spread ailment, undermining trust in and legitimacy of the police force, impeding its effectiveness as well as overall economic development. The high degree of corruption in the security sector also undermines state legitimacy and, thereby, increases support for insurgents. A sufficient degree of security, and to that end, continued international support to the Government of Afghanistan (GoA) is indispensable in order to reduce developmental and macroeconomic risks.

The lack of reforms within the MoI and the Afghan National Police (ANP) remains a key challenge for stabilising the state and developing the rule of law and civilian policing in Afghanistan. Institutional capacity remains limited. The MoI has seen frequent changes in its leadership over the past decade and the fragile security situation and the involvement of the ANP in the counter-insurgency efforts have hampered its transformation into a civilian police force as advocated for by the EU and other partners. Nonetheless, the ANP has massively increased from the intended strength of 62 000 in 2006 to 157 000 in 20178.

1.1.1 Public Policy Assessment and EU Policy Framework

The EU contribution is aligned with the New European Consensus on Development of 2017, while security constitutes an integral part of the peace, stability and democracy focal sector in the revised EU-Afghanistan MIP 2014-2020.9 Nearly four decades of protracted conflict have resulted in weakened government institutions, including the security sector which prompted the GoA to commit to a comprehensive reform programme at the Brussels Conference on Afghanistan (BCA). The Afghanistan National Peace and Development Framework10 (ANPDF) is the core of the current Afghan development policy, which complements the Self-Reliance through Mutual Accountability Framework11 (SMAF).

National Strategic Plans: In order to create a sustainable police force, the MoI's well defined long-term vision is set forth in a series of strategic plans to outline the missions, roles and responsibilities of the MoI: The “Ten-Year Vision for the ANP (2013-2023)”12 which establishes the objectives of the ANP. Stemming from the Ten-Year Vision, the Ministry of Interior Strategic Plan (MISP) is now the primary document for managing and assessing the MoI’s performance.

Reorganisation of the ANP: In 2017, the four-year implementation plan13 of the MoI was approved which is to bring about the reorganisation of the ANP, by transferring 36 325 police personnel to the Ministry of Defence (MoD).14 The transfer of the semi-military capacity of the ANP to the MoD shall allow the ANP to re-focus on its core tasks and to shift to a civilian policing

8 As per the staffing table (Tashkil table) provided by the MoI.
10 The Afghanistan National Peace and Development Framework (ANPDF) is a five-year strategic plan for achieving self-reliance. The Framework presents a long-term development narrative by providing consistent high-level guidance to government and other stakeholders.
11 Realising the need for deepening mutual accountability between GoA and the international community, the Tokyo Mutual Accountability Framework (TMAF) of 2012 initiated a new phase of their relationship and has been effectively guiding their activities. The TMAF and the reform agenda of the government together represented the actions to be taken which had been consolidated in the SMAF in 2015 and subsequently refreshed by the SMART indicators in 2016.
13 The stated goal of the transfer is to improve unity of command by combining Afghan National Army (ANA) and ANP combat forces under one command structure. The transfer also aims to reduce corruption and ministerial complexity within the MoI, enabling it to focus on civil policing and promotion of the rule of law.

model. In order to achieve the "civilianisation", the President decided to appoint external civilians into key positions at the MoI up to the level of Minister with the purpose of increasing civilian oversight.

Gender and security: UNSCR 1325 is recognised by the GoA as an important resolution to promote women’s representation in security. Following that, the "National Action Plan for the Women of Afghanistan" was established. It serves as the government’s instrument for implementing policies and commitments on women’s empowerment and gender equality. Their implementation remains far from ensuring gender equality. In 2014, the MoI adopted a strategic plan for the recruitment of and support to female members of ANP with an ambitious long-term aim of increasing the current 1.9% ratio of female police personnel to 10% by 2023.

International Community: The July 2016 NATO Summit in Warsaw reaffirmed the NATO member states’ mutual commitment to ensure long-term security and stability in Afghanistan\(^\text{15}\). The BCA underlined that stability and security are not divisible; they can only be achieved and maintained with an approach that promotes security for all states in the region. It re-emphasised that a secure, stable, and prosperous Afghanistan is vital to peace and stability in the region.

At the third Senior Official Meeting of October 2017, the President of Afghanistan pointed out the government’s commitment to forging a stable and sustainable country through a long-term process of reforms and institution building. Reform efforts focus as a priority on the critical drivers of corruption. In that respect, the National Anti-Corruption Strategy was adopted in 2017 pursuant to which the GoA will consider a wide range of reforms in the nation’s security sector to root out administrative corruption.

EU Policy Framework: On the EU side, the Foreign Affairs Council on 16 October 2017 adopted the new EU-Afghanistan Strategy\(^\text{16}\) (2017-19) which, inter alia, foresees the support to a more effective, responsive and transparent civilian police force, including the professionalisation of the police, the fight against corruption in that area and the support to institutional reforms and capacity building, drawing on the experience of the EUPOL Afghanistan Mission which ended in 2016.\(^\text{17}\) EU support for MoI reform and the professionalisation of the ANP shall also continue through a new EU Police Advisory Team as well as political engagement.

1.1.2 Stakeholder analysis

The main stakeholders in police matters are the MoI and the ANP, the Police Women Councils (PWCs), the provincial governments, district chiefs, the National Security Council (NSC), as well as LOTFA donors\(^\text{18}\) as the main financiers of the police sector in Afghanistan in the last 15 years.

\(^{15}\) NATO Allies and Resolute Support Mission partners committed to give financial support to the Afghan security forces until 2020, as part of the broader effort by the international community. Afghan authorities are expected to maintain own financial support to the Afghan security forces.

\(^{16}\)The new EU policy framework for Afghanistan is based on the Joint Communication on Elements for an EU Strategy on Afghanistan and reflects the Global Strategy for the European Union’s Foreign and Security Policy, the new European Consensus on Development and the 2014-2020 Multi-annual Indicative Programme for Afghanistan.

\(^{17}\)See Joint Communication on Elements for an EU Strategy on Afghanistan.

\(^{18}\)Currently: The United States of America, European Union, United Kingdom, Japan, Republic of Korea, Germany, Australia, Canada, Czech Republic, Kingdom of Denmark, the Netherlands, Hungary, Norway, Poland, Italy, New Zealand, Switzerland, Finland, Estonia and the Combined Security Transition Command – Afghanistan (CSTC-A).
The MoI is responsible for the ANP, the Afghan Special Narcotics Force, the Counter Narcotics Police of Afghanistan, and the Afghan Public Protection Force. It also supervises the General Directorate of Prisons and Detention Centres (GDPDC). The MoI supported PWCs are a practical mechanism to support police women and advance their participation, protection and professionalisation. The PWCs, through their presence in the provinces of Afghanistan, are capable of working locally to build capacity and solidarity to improve welfare among female police personnel. The National Security Council, led by the President, is the supreme institution entrusted with the authority of making decisions regarding national security, national interests, territorial integrity and national sovereignty.

Other Afghan stakeholders are:

- the Ministry of Women Affairs (MoWA) as the lead agency for promoting women’s rights and advancement in Afghanistan. The MoWA provides direction, builds inter-ministerial collaboration and develops the capacity of government agencies to ensure that policy formulation, planning, implementation, reporting and monitoring respond to the differential needs and situations of women;
- the judiciary institutions, especially those in the criminal justice chain such as the Attorney General’s Office (AGO) in order to strengthen the linkage between the police and prosecution through an integrated police-justice reform;
- civil society organisations such as the Afghan Women’s Network (AWN) in the area of gender equality and empowerment of women to ensure a robust gender focus;
- independent oversight bodies such as the Afghan Independent Human Rights Commission (AIHRC) and the Supreme Audit Office (SAO) to guarantee external oversight.

The MoI, and its police force the ANP, are the direct beneficiaries and the population of Afghanistan are the final beneficiaries of this action.

1.1.3 Priority areas for support/problem analysis

Sustainment of the ANP: The priority for the EU’s engagement in the sector is to support the Government of Afghanistan in sustaining and further developing a professional ANP that delivers essential services to the Afghan people for improved public trust, safety and security, eventually achieving a fully self-reliant and rule of law-based civilian police force at the service of its citizens. The by far largest portion of donor contributions remains committed towards the sustainment of the ANP, covering a large part of the currently unsustainable security sector costs throughout the period of transformation to safeguard progress made over the past decade and to provide an enabling environment for the GoA to move out of the current state of fragility. This support includes institutional strengthening of the MoI, its payroll management system and the MoI-led police professionalisation. Increased support is needed to crack down on the “ghost police” issue, i.e. the intentional false reporting of staff numbers for fraudulent financial gains, through reinforced physical verification systems with the utilisation of biometric features.

Civilianisation: Particular attention will be paid to supporting the transformation of the ANP towards a more civilian-oriented policing model to bolster the state’s legitimacy and enforce rule of law country-wide, and safeguarding the rights of women and children. In this respect, the EU Police Advisory Team is aiming at providing continuity in supporting the reform process with the provision of sound EU expertise and strong EU visibility, building on the achievements and the lessons learned from the EU’s long-term support to police reform in Afghanistan through the EUPOL Afghanistan Mission. Building on EUPOL efforts, i.e. advancing institutional reform of the MoI and professionalising the ANP, the project shall support the MoI and the ANP on the strategic level with the transformation of the ANP into a civilian police force.
Internal and external oversight: Given the high-risk environment for corruption and mismanagement prevalent in the MoI and its police force, transparent and reliable programme management, monitoring and evaluation systems and governance structures need to be in place. Furthermore, increased focus will be put on the MoI’s internal audit structure, in particular that of the MoI's Office of the Inspector General (OIG), and on complaints/transparency mechanisms along with the external oversight by Civil Society Organisations and the international community.

Gender: In line with the Gender Action Plan 2016-20 (GAP II), the empowerment of women shall be promoted through increasing their role in policing by getting better chances for employment in the sector, getting proper female facilities and better protection against all forms of violence including sexual and gender based violence. Having the comfort of interacting with an increasing number of female police personnel in police matters will also be in line with the MISP. The PWCs in all 34 provinces will provide the capacity and guarantee for the thorough implementation of the gender equality objectives.

19 The OIG is charged with internal audit functions, including inspectorate of administrative and financial procedures across all the administrative and support functions of the MoI, including budget and finance, procurement, logistics, facilities, personnel, ICT and similar directorates and departments.

20 GAP II Thematic Priority: Physical and Psychological Integrity, objectives No. 7 and 9.
Involvement of ANP in human rights violations. | M | Continuously monitor human rights situation and liaise with CSOs, international organisations incl. women’s networks. Raise concerns with GoA where needed through policy dialogue and the existing coordination mechanisms, incorporate human rights training in police professionalisation programme with particular attention to women’s and girls’ human rights.
Dismantling of funding mechanisms that can guarantee fiduciary risk management and misappropriation of donor funds. | M | Closely cooperate with transition team on phased transition of funding mechanism to MoI into enhanced Afghan ownership without jeopardising capacities of funding mechanism to provide sound fiduciary risk management assurances.
Misappropriation of donor funds. | M | Continuously monitor the spending of donor funds through the evaluation mechanisms of LOTFA and recover funds upon identified ineligibilities.
Ethnic tensions within the ANP. | M | Continuously monitor the government appointments among ethnic groups within the ANP through the LOTFA technical working groups and raise the issue during policy dialogues with the GoA as a potential conflict source.
Unintended consequences caused by the recruitment, training of female staff without adequate basic qualifications. | L | Maintain monitoring of the recruitments through existing coordinating mechanisms i.e. LOTFA technical working groups.

Assumptions

- Afghanistan remains on its current trajectory in terms of security with only intermittent deterioration of the current situation;
- GoA remains politically stable;
- Donors remain engaged and sufficient funding to cover the overall high security sector expenditures is made available at least until 2020, while donors jointly support GoA’s longer-term planning for cost reductions to render the security sector sustainable and self-reliant.

3 Lessons learnt, Complementarity and Cross-cutting Issues

3.1 Lessons learnt

Afghan-ownership: National ownership is key for success of security sector reform processes. Important elements of Afghan ownership have continued to be lacking to date and as a result, reforms have not fully addressed the complex political, geographical and cultural characteristics of the country, or the needs of the local population. Limited attention was given to institutional development of the MoI to ensure that sustainable systems were in place to pay, train, maintain and manage the ANP itself. The capacity-development approach has been fundamentally re-viewed with regard to the lack of progress in building Afghan institutions during the past decade.

Coordination: The lack of effective coordination is one of the most common criticisms of police support in Afghanistan. The efforts of the international community have been characterised as ad hoc and poorly aligned. Coordination platforms have been established to address this problem, but overall with limited effect. To ensure national ownership, effective coordination would more usefully be led by the GoA, oriented around national goals and linked to funding and monitoring and evaluation systems. For the future, special emphasis should be put on effective and aligned stakeholder coordination.

"Ghost police": Continuous pressure from donors is inevitable to enact full transparency and accountability on expenditures, to increase the reliability and accuracy of the MoI's payroll management. The absence of sufficient safeguards created an environment ripe for exploitation, i.e. the ghost police trick, in which unit commanders falsely reported extra personnel and siphoned the money distributed for salary payments into their own bank accounts. Based on that experience, in 2017 LOTFA donors decided to make salary payments only on the basis of validated numbers of police personnel via the personnel asset inventory (PAI) mechanism, reinforced by biometric authentication preventing the manual manipulation of data. The PAI process is expected to be completed by April 2018. This new method had been successfully tested at the MoD and upon successful implementation the likelihood of pay-outs to ghost personnel shall be substantially reduced.

Phased transition of the non-fiduciary payroll management functions to the MoI: In September 2015, LOTFA donors set up benchmarks to measure the MoI's readiness to take over the non-fiduciary payroll management functions from UNDP. Based on the findings of the August 2017 assessment on the fulfilment of the benchmarks, despite the measurable progress achieved since the previous assessment of 2016, donors decided to postpone the handover as the required capacity had not yet been fully in place. The lesson learned is the importance of clear targets and milestones to measure progress and assess the stage of completion of the benchmarks. The lack of clear targets led to a diverging understanding among partners on the "sufficiency" of progress to enable transition.

Gender: In order to increase the number of female police personnel, the MoI and international partners have made extra efforts to seek for and attract qualified women to join the ANP. However, as it has turned out, many illiterate women without required skills have been recruited into the ANP instead. This has led many male ANP staff to question the benefits of such affirmative action. The mismanagement of the female recruitment has had some unintended consequences: it has reinforced the stereotypes of women and their roles in the male-dominated environment of ANP, created fear and a sense of unfairness among male staff of losing their positions to unqualified female candidates and created an unwanted stigma for qualified and competent policewomen.

EUPOL Afghanistan Mission: After nearly a decade of support to civilian policing in Afghanistan, the EUPOL Afghanistan Mission had come to an end in 2016. The Mission highlighted the importance of acting in concert, in a single framework in order for the Member States' actions to succeed. Achieving tangible results in mentoring and advising is a complex and lengthy process that is also shaped by external factors - such as the tough security situation, the frequent turnover of Afghan officials and the rotation of mentors. The fact that the Mission focused on civilian policing while most of the ANP was involved in counterinsurgency operations was a recurrent problem and an obstacle towards the success of the Mission. The community policing concept, introduced and partially implemented by EUPOL, focusing on police building ties and working closely with the citizens, is generally accepted as the desired model for future policing in Afghanistan and is to be continued. Intelligence led policing has also been generally accepted as an effective tool to professionalise the national police but it is not used countrywide therefore further support is needed.
3.2 Complementarity, synergy and donor coordination

The foreseen action is based on the lessons learned of the EU engagement in the area of policing and rule of law, i.e. the activities of the former EUPOL Afghanistan Mission and the previous phases of LOTFA. It is embedded in a well-developed context of complementarity within the security sector but also in the support to the justice sector, to anti-corruption efforts and to civil society activities.

Beyond the security sector, the foreseen activity is aligned with the EU-funded Capacity-Building for Results (CBR) programme of the World Bank's Afghanistan Reconstruction Trust Fund (ARTF), especially on the elements related to the "civilianisation" of the MoI's core public administration functions, the EU-funded Justice Service Delivery Project of the World Bank's ARTF, the EU financed State Building Contract for Afghanistan II (2018-2020) pertinent to its link to GoA's anti-corruption policy and the objectives of the public finance management (PFM) support programme to improve sound management of public finances, reduce fiduciary risks, improve policy-based budgeting, increase fiscal transparency and accountability and also the reform efforts of the Attorney General's Office (AGO) incentivised by the EU through the World Bank's Afghanistan Reconstruction Trust Fund (ARTF) "Ad hoc Payments" facility.

The activity also benefits from close linkage to UNDP implemented programmes in the justice sector, on anti-corruption as well as on the EU co-funded Institutional and Capacity Support to the Parliament of Afghanistan (ICSPA). Gender-relevant synergies are ensured by this action through building on the achievements of EUPOL and the previous phases of LOTFA while a dedicated gender specialist ensures the gender awareness of this action.

The project will build on support managed by the European Commission's Service for Foreign Policy Instruments and funded under the Instrument contributing to Stability and Peace (IcSP) as per the Exceptional Assistance Measure in favour of Afghanistan – "Support to police reform and to national peace initiatives". Following a stock-taking exercise, the present action foresees a continued funding of these activities under the Development Cooperation Instrument (DCI) through a new service contract while closely linking to and following on the IcSP project.

For the donor coordination in the framework laid down in the 2012 Chicago Summit Declarations and the ongoing security sector reform efforts, the Oversight and Coordination Body (OCB) has become the key forum for donors and the GoA to identify funding needs and match them with available donor funding, while also providing oversight and control on the overall security spending. The OCB reviews adherence to commitments given by the GoA and bilateral donors, while the political dialogue on reform bottlenecks and longer-term sustainability has to date not materialised within this framework. The International Police Coordination Board

21 The EUPOL mission supported both the police and prosecutors in enhancing their cooperation and coordination until the end of 2016.

22 The CBR's objective is the recruitment of junior- to high-level managerial civil service positions within the public administration, and which regulates salaries for these posts based on a pre-established scale and career progression based on merit.

24 The OCB is supported by an informal donor-only coordination format, the so-called Kabul Friends of Chicago (KFoC). Most of the OCB donors, among them individual EU Member States, are also donors to LOTFA and the reinforced governance structures within LOTFA allow for effective coordination of donors within and without LOTFA.
(IPCB)\textsuperscript{25} coordinates, prioritises and guides the international police reform efforts, with a view towards ensuring consistency between the strategic/policy and operational levels of the ANP. The participation of LOTFA donors in the work of the IPCB fosters donor coordination through a dedicated channel and further increases consistency of the work being done vis-à-vis the police sector. The IPCB operates under the General Directorate for International Coordination (GDIC) of the MoI which also operates the donor aid coordination database.

3.3 Cross-cutting issues

Gender: Efforts to promote gender within the MoI have so far brought rather disappointing results. While the number of female staff has increased, it has not corresponded with improvements in the police response to gender based violence (GBV). Only few female staff have reportedly been spared from abuse, discrimination or harassment by male colleagues. Addressing and improving the situation of female staff, and also empowering the ANP to react more effectively to GBV, are priorities in this action. LOTFA puts emphasis on increasing the role of women in the Afghan police force, for the first time a gender work plan and monitoring and evaluation (M&E) framework was developed and a series of trainings were held to change the discriminatory attitudes towards female police and to ensure the effective implementation of gender tasks assigned to the MoI, also equipping the MoI with effective complaints mechanisms to better female-related complaints.

Human rights and rule of law: Human rights and rule of law are critical in the police professionalisation efforts, but important also in the wider ministerial functioning. Hence promoting the inclusion of human rights into national legislation is a priority. Although the MoI Strategic Plan (MISP) endorses the promotion of human rights, the latest assessments conclude that there are still substantial risks inherent to the ANP’s operations, including torture and ill treatment of conflict-related detainees, recruitment of children and sexual harassment and violence towards female police women; abuses largely carried out with impunity. The risk assessment also reviewed existing accountability and mitigation measures and found a trend of support for greater accountability and mitigation of violations, but a noticeable lack of capacity to follow through and implement reforms.

Anti-corruption and PFM: Fighting corruption and transparent PFM in the security sector are key objectives both for donors and the GoA and will be targeted with priority through this action in an ongoing effort to increase accountability and transparency of the MoI.

Environment: A stabilised and improved security situation through an effective police force will support the implementation of government policies in all sectors (including, e.g., environmental protection and climate change adaptation and mitigation).

4 DESCRIPTION OF THE ACTION

4.1 Objectives/results

As per the Multiannual Indicative Programme (MIP) 2014-2020 for Afghanistan, the overall objective is to strengthen the civilian police force.

\textsuperscript{25} The International Police Coordination Board (IPCB) was established in 2013 to act as the main coordination board for police reform in Afghanistan.
The first specific objective (SO1) is improved efficiency and transparency of the MoI's payroll management system. The second specific objective (SO2) is the improved capacity of the ANP to enforce law and order. The third specific objective (SO3) is an improved citizen relationship, institutional accountability and professionalism of the ANP in providing law enforcement services.

The expected outputs O1 to O7 refer to the LOTFA-component, whereas O8 to O11 refer to the Police Advisory Team-component:

4.3 Intervention logic
The establishment of a trusted, professional and effective national police service is an essential element of peacebuilding and state building to support countries breaking cycles of violence and progressing out of fragile situations. The EU is committed to supporting the Afghan government in re-establishing trust, the rule of law, safety and security through civilianisation and professionalisation of the Afghan police, based on principles of community-oriented policing, human rights norms and standards.

Achieving self-reliance in the security sector will take a long time and certainly until the envisaged end of the transformation decade, i.e. 2025. This action, through the LOTFA component aims at contributing to the short- to mid-term stabilisation efforts through the payroll management function, while the longer-term sustainability will be addressed under the MoI’s institutional reform and police professionalisation efforts as well as through the Police Advisory Team-component by providing strategic support to the MoI with the aim of transforming the ANP into a civilian police force and improving the work environment and career prospects for female police personnel.

Under the current LOTFA, interventions are split into two separate components, i.e. SPM and MPD under one Trust Fund. The splitting of the programme into two components allows for better facilitation of the full handover of the payroll management functions over time to the Afghan government upon the fulfilment of all LOTFA donor conditions. Meanwhile, the longer-term development activities can be implemented at a more appropriate and flexible pace.

The action shall contribute to the establishment of a reformed, transparent and accountable MoI and a professionalised civilian police force that delivers essential services to the Afghan people for improved public trust, safety and security, eventually achieving a fully self-reliant and rule of law-based civilian police force at the service of its citizens without the current burden of military roles. The action shall also promote the economic and social rights and the empowerment of women.

Advancing gender equality and the empowerment of women within the MoI and ANP is a priority of this action and provided for through the establishment of an improved gender coordination mechanism, the provision of gender sensitive police curriculum, safer work environment and gender appropriate facilities for female police personnel.

5 IMPLEMENTATION
5.1 Financing agreement

In order to implement this action, it is foreseen to conclude a financing agreement with the partner country.

5.2 Indicative implementation period

The indicative operational implementation period of this action, during which the activities described in section 4.2 will be carried out and the corresponding contracts and agreements implemented, is 60 months from the date of entry into force of the financing agreement. Extensions of the implementation period may be agreed by the Commission’s authorising officer responsible by amending this decision and the relevant contracts and agreements; such amendments to this decision constitute technical amendments in the sense of point (i) of Article 2(3)(c) of Regulation (EU) No 236/2014.

5.3 Implementation modalities

5.3.1.1 Procurement (direct management)

5.3.1.2 Indirect management with an international organisation

This action may be implemented in indirect management with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP). This implementation entails the Law and Order Trust Fund for Afghanistan (LOTFA) activity and its successor. This implementation is justified because UNDP as LOTFA Administrator has more than fifteen years of experience, is the only entity capable of implementing this activity due to the economies of scale and has been endorsed by the GoA as the main civilian funding mechanism for policing.
The entrusted entity would carry out the following budget-implementation tasks: launch calls for tenders and for proposals; define eligibility, selection and award criteria; evaluate tenders and proposals; award grants, contracts; act as contracting authority concluding and managing contracts, carrying out payments. The entrusted entity could sub-delegate part of its budget implementation tasks to the GoA, i.e. the payment of salaries as this activity is implemented within UNDP's National Implementation Modality (NIM).

5.4 Scope of geographical eligibility for procurement and grants

The geographical eligibility in terms of place of establishment for participating in procurement and grant award procedures and in terms of origin of supplies purchased as established in the basic act and set out in the relevant contractual documents shall apply, subject to the following provisions.

The Commission’s authorising officer responsible may extend the geographical eligibility in accordance with Article 9(2) (b) of Regulation (EU) No 236/2014 on the basis of urgency or of unavailability of products and services in the markets of the countries concerned, or in other duly substantiated cases where the eligibility rules would make the realisation of this action impossible or exceedingly difficult.

5.6 Organisational set-up and responsibilities

The LOTFA project management and governance structures are aligned with international standards for project management and oversight. The structures ensure UNDP’s accountability for programming activities, results and the use of resources, while at the same time fostering national ownership and alignment with national processes. To fulfil these functions, a two-tier project management structure is established that includes a Steering Committee and the Technical Working Groups.

The EU Police Advisory Team will be headed by a Team Leader who will be supported by the implementing partner’s backstopping team. The Team Leader will directly report to the EU Delegation on a daily basis and be the point of contact for the MoI and EU Delegation. Besides periodical progress reports, an important function of the Advisory Team will be the provision of support to the ongoing policy dialogue on Security Sector Reform conducted by the EU Delegation and EU MS with the GoA. To this end, the Advisory Team will provide status reports on questions of relevance to the EU Delegation either upon its own initiative or upon request by the EU Delegation.
5.7 Performance monitoring and reporting

The day-to-day technical and financial monitoring of the implementation of this action will be a continuous process and part of the implementing partner’s responsibilities. To this end, the implementing partner shall establish a permanent internal, technical and financial monitoring system for the action and elaborate regular progress reports and final reports. Every report shall provide an accurate account of implementation of the action, difficulties encountered, changes introduced, as well as the degree of achievement of its results (outputs and direct outcomes) as measured by corresponding indicators, using as reference the log frame matrix (for project modality) or the list of result indicators (for budget support). The report shall be laid out in such a way as to allow monitoring of the means envisaged and employed and of the budget details for the action. The final report, narrative and financial, will cover the entire period of the implementation of the action. The Commission may undertake additional project monitoring visits both through its own staff and through independent consultants recruited directly by the Commission for independent monitoring reviews (or recruited by the responsible agent contracted by the Commission for implementing such reviews), including the monitoring of outputs pertinent to the gender sensitivity of this action.

5.8 Evaluation

Having regard to the importance of the action, a final evaluation will be carried out for this action or its components through a joint mission. The evaluation reports shall be shared with the partner country and other key stakeholders. The implementing partner and the Commission shall analyse the conclusions and recommendations of the evaluations and, where appropriate, in agreement with the partner country, jointly decide on the follow-up actions to be taken and any adjustments necessary, including, if indicated, the reorientation of the project.

Indicatively, one contract for evaluation services shall be concluded in Q2 2021.

5.9 Audit

Without prejudice to the obligations applicable to contracts concluded for the implementation of this action, the Commission may, on the basis of a risk assessment, contract independent audits or expenditure verification assignments for one or several contracts or agreements.

Indicatively, one contract for audit services shall be concluded in Q2 2021.

5.10 Communication and visibility

Communication and visibility of the EU is a legal obligation for all external actions funded by the EU. This action shall contain communication and visibility measures which shall be based on a specific Communication and Visibility Plan of the Action, to be elaborated at the start of implementation and supported with the budget indicated in section 5.6 above. In terms of legal obligations on communication and visibility, the measures shall be implemented by the Commission, the partner country, contractors, grant beneficiaries and/or entrusted entities. Appropriate contractual obligations shall be included in, respectively, the financing agreement, procurement and grant contracts, and delegation agreements. The Communication and Visibility Manual for the European Union’s External Action shall be used to establish the Communication and Visibility Plan of the Action and the appropriate contractual obligations. The Implementation modality is public procurement (service contract) in direct management.

Indicatively, one contract for communication and visibility shall be concluded in Q1 2020.
APPENDIX – INDICATIVE LOGFRAME MATRIX (FOR PROJECT MODALITY)\textsuperscript{26}

The activities, the expected outputs and all the indicators, targets and baselines included in the log frame matrix are indicative and may be updated during the implementation of the action, no amendment being required to the financing decision. When it is not possible to determine the outputs of an action at formulation stage, intermediary outcomes should be presented and the outputs defined during inception of the overall programme and its components. The indicative logframe matrix will evolve during the lifetime of the action: new lines will be added for including the activities as well as new columns for intermediary targets (milestones) for the output and outcome indicators whenever it is relevant for monitoring and reporting purposes. Note also that indicators should be disaggregated by sex whenever relevant.
