

Contents

Foreword	3
Acknowledgements	4
Contents	5
1. About indicators, information and communication	7
How indicators relate to information transmission and interactive communication	7
How indicators relate to data, information, and knowledge	8
Context and process of indicator-based communication	9
Informative and social functions of indicator-based communication	10
2. The role of the context in indicator-based communication	11
The role of the context at the creation level	11
The role of the context at the dissemination level	13
3. Indicator-based communication — ‘two-way road’ or why interactivity matters	15
Interactivity at the creation level: indicators and public dialogue	15
Interactivity at the dissemination level	18
4. Indicators for whom? — Users and user needs	22
5. How to reach the citizens?	25
A wide range of communication channels	25
Conveying clear and understandable messages	29
6. Communicating complexity	34
Indicator sets: scoreboards and dashboards	34
Composite indicators	37
Eurostat synthetic indicators	39
Aggregated dashboards	40
7. Summary	42
Bibliography	43