1. Introduction

In accordance with the European Statistics Code of Practice, Eurostat makes information available to all users on an equal basis.

Regulation 1445/2007 establishing common rules for the provision of basic information on Purchasing Power Parities and for their calculation and dissemination, sets out minimum rules on publication of information at aggregated level.

Specific rules agreed with participating Member States regarding dissemination of more detailed price information derived from the European Comparison Programme are set out in Chapter 13 of the Eurostat-OECD methodological manual on Purchasing Power Parities (2012 edition).

Document A6465/14/59rev "Calculation of Intra-EU Correction Coefficients in accordance with the EU Staff Regulations" (Chapter IX) summarises the policy agreed with Member States regarding publication of results.

It should be recalled that the production systems for the European Comparison Programme and the Article 64 Correction Coefficients are both designed to produce robust results at the level of overall aggregates, but do not necessarily provide such assurance at more detailed levels of disaggregation. Moreover, the European Comparison Programme calculates results on a multilateral basis (fixity for the EU28) whereas Correction Coefficients are calculated as a bilateral comparison with Brussels, which necessarily affects the sample size involved.

In recent years there has been repeated discussion about greater access to detailed information, both with statistical experts in the working group (eg. document A64/11/29) and elsewhere (eg. informal social dialogue with staff representatives "Groupe Technique Rémunération", correspondence with heads of administration responsible for EU agencies located outside Brussels and EU Representations in Member States). Legal decisions relating to Article 90 claims by staff (notably in Varese, Italy which has seen a long-term decline in the correction coefficient value by comparison to the value for Rome that also applies to all other duty stations in Italy) have supported the current publication policy.

Nevertheless, in the light of evolving practice in the European Comparison Programme, discussion with partners and the professional desire to help users understand the global value applied for adjustment of remuneration, Eurostat now proposes an expanded level of publication detail.

2. Current level of publication detail

On the Eurostat free data website, a time series is published for the global correction coefficient, and the global value excluding rents.

On the DG.BUDG website, a time series is published for the official exchange rate between national currency and the Euro.

In the Eurostat annual report, purchasing power parity values for the current year and the preceding year are published at the level of the 12 COICOP main groups, together with the global value, the global value excluding rents, and the value for rents. Additional tables provide information about the main component factors explaining change by comparison to value calculated for the previous year.

3. New level of publication detail

Appendix 1 to this document reproduces the list of authorised analytical categories from the Eurostat-OECD methodological manual on the European Comparison Programme, together with the existing additional categories already published for Article 64 Correction Coefficient purposes. This list includes the 12 main COICOP groups, and adds a selection of basic headings and interim aggregates. In total there are 35 analytical categories.

Appendix 2 to this document presents the information for the foregoing list of analytical categories as at July 2013 and July 2014.

It is intended that this document will be a regular presentation at the annual meeting of the Article A64&65 Working Group.

4. Conclusion

Delegates are invited to:

- a) Take note of the information presented in this document, and;
- b) Give their endorsement, or;
- c) Consider whether some of the proposed detail should be suppressed;
- d) Consider whether additional information (eg. expenditure weights) should also be disclosed.

5. Working group decision

Following the presentation by Eurostat, delegates from two Member States confirmed that they were in favour of publishing as much data as possible but that this should not be more than the original data sources publish. There were no dissenting voices.

Eurostat clarified that the aim is not to publish more than the ECP, and that in line with the meeting discussion the proposal in the document would be implemented with the following changes:

- i. group the analytical category "Rents" under COICOP group 4 "Housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels" rather than showing it at the end;
- ii. rename the category "Other food" to clarify the basic headings it includes (= "Sugar, jam, honey, chocolate and confectionery" + "Food products not elsewhere covered");
- iii. not to calculate "balancing sub-aggregates" within COICOP groups for which only selected analytical categories are authorised for publication;
- iv. expand the information to include detailed expenditure weights as well as the price indices;
- v. replace the price index column for the previous year with a column showing the % movement;

vi. expand the information to also cover pensioners as well as active staff.

Appendix 3 to this document implements the Working Group decision for staff.

Appendix 4 to this document implements the Working Group decision for pensioners.
