

Antti Ripatti

Antti Ripatti is a professor of Empirical Macroeconomics at the University of Helsinki and in Helsinki GSE. He is a Visiting Scholar at the Research Unit of the Bank of Finland and a member of the Scientific Council of the National Audit Office of Finland.

His research interests focus on quantitative and empirical macroeconomics with applications to monetary policy and macroprudential policy.