07	[RRSI] Reinforced Role of Social Indicators Description: The Reinforced Role of Social Indicators (RRSI) project aims at achieving a sustainable upgrading and modernisation of European social statistics in key areas in support of the Commission's priorities: growth and job creation, the reduction of poverty and social exclusion, skills and mobility. The RRSI thus aims at reinforcing the development, production and dissemination of Social Statistics by Eurostat particularly in the domains of income, poverty and social exclusion timeliness, labour market, social fairness, skills and mobility, better links between income, consumption and wealth and between micro and macro data on income, consumption and wealth. This will allow Eurostat to make substantial, measurable advancements in these areas of social statistics in response to direct policy needs and with a view to bringing key social indicators up to a level considered to be on an equal footing with macroeconomic indicators. To ensure this, a suite of new and improved statistical indicators will be created in a way that, when taken together, will represent a coherent upgrading of key social statistics. This will require the project to be managed as a set of interrelated work packages that will fall under the overarching RRSI heading and which will ultimately deliver a set of indicators that will demonstrably improve key attributes of social statistics including with respect to statistical quality as defined in Article 12 of the Statistical Regulation ((EC) No.223/2009) and also with reference to the ESS Code of Practice. Product(s): • [Skills] Improved data on skills. Other output(s): • Methodological documents. • Experimental statistics.	Project (2015-2021)

(NUTS=Nomenclature of Territorial Units for Statistics). Product(s): • [Reg] EU regions and regions' typology. • [DegUrb] Degree of urbanisation.	Process
08	[Urb] Urban statistics Description: Urban Statistics cover a range of statistical indicators for European cities. A smaller set of indicators are produced on an annual basis and a larger one on a multi-annual basis complemented by methodological work using small area statistics harvesting big data sources and open data sources. Product(s): • [Urb] Key indicators on European cities. Other output(s): • Inventory of novel methods for obtaining small scale statistics making use of advanced techniques and taking into account national experiences in the area. Other financing DG(s): REGIO.	Process
08	[751] Supporting the Energy Union Description: Compile data and provide services to facilitate the monitoring of progress towards the Energy Union objectives. Support DG ENER - and DG CLIMA if appropriate - in proposing, evaluating and reviewing legal acts with monitoring requirements. Support DG ENER and DG CLIMA in implementing the new Regulation on Governance of the Energy Union and Climate Action and related legislation; where needed, adapt and complement energy statistics. Support priority areas and their data needs such as on energy security or energy poverty. Follow up and contribute to other legal acts with implications for energy statistical reporting (e.g. energy efficiency directive and renewable energy directive). Contribute to conceptual and methodological developments of statistical indicators to design and monitor energy policies. Disseminate statistical information related to the Energy Union, including through high visibility publications. Output(s): • Contribute to the 4th State of the Energy Union report; contribute to country factsheets and SWD key indicators. • Support DG ENER and DG CLIMA in implementing the new Regulation on Governance of the Energy Union and Climate Action. • Conceptual and methodological development of statistical data to design and monitor Energy Union objectives. • Disseminate statistical information related to the Energy Union. • Tender on energy poverty to explore feasibility of calculating indicators on the basis of existing data.	Project (2016-2022)

08	[921] Improving relevance of energy statistics Description: Adapt energy statistics to evolving policy needs and legislative initiatives at the EU level. Identify and fill data gaps; accommodate new data needs. Further disaggregate final energy consumption by sector and main energy uses to comply with Article 9 of Regulation (EC) No. 1099/2008 on energy statistics. Produce energy balances according to new methodology; publish documentation. Implement data collection on crude oil imports and crude oil supply costs as European Statistics. Product(s): • [NRG] Energy. • [NRG-BS] Energy balance sheets. Other output(s): • Finalise the breakdown for final energy consumption in industry; develop a reporting template. • Launch discussions on disaggregating final energy consumption in transport and services; prepare pilot exercise. • Prepare including detailed breakdown of final energy consumption in future update of Regulation (EC) No. 1099/2008. • Publish updated methodology for energy balances and documentation. • Publish balance builder (MS Excel tool). • Incorporate data collection on crude oil imports and crude oil supply costs in forthcoming (2019) update of Regulation (EC) No. 1099/2008.	Project (2019-2022)
08	[922] Improving timelines of energy statistics to support the Energy Union NEW Description: Improving the timeliness of data transmission defined in Regulation (EC) No 1099/2008 on energy statistics. Launch pilot projects to encourage reporting before the mandatory deadline. Investigate the feasibility of using monthly data for nowcasting. Collect, produce and disseminate early estimates of energy balances; analyse their accuracy. Develop methodology for estimating the consumption side of energy balances. Product(s): • [NRG] Energy. • [NRG-BS] Energy balance sheets. Other output(s): • Year-1 energy balance estimates (data for the supply side and key aggregates). • Launch tender for year-0 estimates for supply side of energy balances and key indicators. • Describe methodology for early estimates.	Project (2019-2022)
08	[923] Improving accessibility and clarity of energy statistics NEW Description: Complement and further develop visualisation tools, notably for energy balances, energy prices, energy imports and exports, and energy infrastructure. Finalise the implementing act establishing the content of quality reports on natural gas and electricity prices as laid down in Regulation (EU) 2016/1952. Explore feasibility of a more quantitative approach (indicators) to quality reporting in energy statistics to obtain more relevant information on accuracy, confidence intervals, etc. Output(s): • Updated Sankey diagrams for energy balances. • Updated visualisation tools for energy prices. • New visualisation tool for energy imports and exports. • New visualisation tool for energy infrastructure. • Finalise implementing act on the content of quality reports for natural gas and electricity prices (in accordance with Article 7(3) of Regulation (EU) 2016/1952). • Prepare and launch tender to develop quantitative indicators for quality reporting.	Project (2019-2022)

11	[794] Methodological Support Big Data Description: The use of big data for official statistics is a very new topic for statistical services. Skills related to computer science, statistics and domain specific knowledge are required to successfully perform projects in this domain. New methods for data analysis, processing and management have to be applied. There is a lack of data scientists in statistical offices. This lack should be compensated using contracts on methodological support for Big Data projects internal to Eurostat. Use of big data sources requires additional supporting actions like implementation of strategies on skills, communication, legislation or IT infrastructures. Output(s): • Implementation of skills strategy. • Implementation of IT infrastructure strategy. • Implementation of strategy on access to data.	Project (2018-2020)
11	[901] Development of methodologies, frameworks and proofs-of-concept for the use of big data in official statistics NEW Description: The internal capacity of Eurostat in dealing with big data is fundamental for its preparedness for and understanding of the current changes in the data landscape. New data processing and data analytics methodologies need to be developed and spread in Eurostat. Encompassing frameworks to organise and understand statistics from the big data sources to the production of European statistics need to be developed. Following the opportunities and the needs of the several statistical domains, specific proofs-of-concept should be developed, such as human mobility, enterprises networks and web activity. Output(s): • Proofs-of-concept on specific applications of big data developed. • Published frameworks for the production of statistics based on big data. • Published methodologies on using big data for official statistics. • IT environment in Eurostat prone to be used for exploring several types of big data.	Project (2019-2022)

11	[BIGD] ESS Vision 2020 BIGD & Smart Statistics Description: In the Scheveningen Memorandum (27/09/2013), the DGINS called for a Big Data Action Plan and Roadmap (BDAR) to follow up its implementation. The BDAR 1.0 was adopted by the European Statistical System Committee on 26/09/2014 and contains a list of actions for achieving the long-term goal of integrating big data sources into official statistics' production. Smart Statistics will analyse the technological foundations of the statistical and information system of 2025 which will operate within an enlarged digitisation of our societies, greater interactions between the web, the web of data and a multitude of smart environments (Internet of Things (IoT), smart cities, industry 4.0, etc.), and the enabling role of artificial intelligence in these smart environments. The project will be based on proofs of concept that were developed as part of the feasibility study in 2017 in specific areas of smart environments, such as energy, transport, employment, health, population, economics, consumption, etc.). Particular attention will be paid to possible role of artificial intelligence in the production of official statistics and to the blending of traditional core survey instruments and sources (Labour Force Survey, Statistics on Income and Living Conditions, Health, etc.) with big data. Output(s): • Launch of pilots on big data and official statistics. • Launch of pilots related to smart environments. • Conditions of integration of big data and smart environments into smart statistics. • Conditions of access and use of big data sources. • Cross-sectional work on methodology, quality, IT infrastructure and dissemination. • Workshop on Big Data. • Implementation of successful pilots from 1st round of Big Data pilots (2017-2018).	Project (2014-2022)
11	[DARA] Infrastructure for the release of confidential data for scientific purposes - decentralised and remote access to confidential data in the ESS Description: To set up a network of national safe centres in the European Statistical System (ESS) providing access to EU secure use files; data should be accessible remotely from the safe centres to the central node in Eurostat. Output(s): • Workflows for DARA system. • DARA infrastructure tested. • Launch of accreditation of safe centres where access to European secure use files will be provided.	Project (2014-2019)
