Glossary:Data dissemination

Statistics Explained

Data dissemination is the release of information obtained through a statistical activity. Data dissemination consists of distributing or transmitting statistical data to users. Various release media are available for this purpose, for example: the electronic format including the Internet, paper publications and files available to authorised users or for public use, public speeches and press releases.

Further information

- Handbook on Data Quality - Assessment Methods and Tools

Related concepts

- Data

- Data status upon release

- First release