

Retail trade is a form of trade in which goods are mainly purchased (bought) and resold to the consumer or end-user, generally in small quantities and in the state in which they were purchased by the retailer (or following minor transformations).

Related concepts

- Wholesale trade
- Distributive trade

Source

- OECD glossary of statistical terms