Alphabetical order

To visualise all articles in alphabetical order, please chose statistical articles or background articles

- Statistical articles present an analysis of different statistical topics covering the complete range of statistical subjects published by Eurostat – including social and economic statistics, as well as a large range of more specialised statistics. The articles are regularly updated with fresh data and contain the main statistical findings of the indicators presented and also give references to related publications and other information.
- Background articles provide comprehensive methodological information on the different statistical topics on subjects such as statistical methods or classifications.
