The deflator of sales adjusts for inflation in retail price developments, and is used to calculate real increases or decreases in retail sales over a specific period of time.

Related concepts

- Consumer price index (CPI)
- Harmonised index of consumer prices (HICP)

Statistical data

- Comparative price levels of consumer goods and services
- Services producer price index overview