

2 June 2020

11th webinar organized on 4 June by the “COVID-19 Clinical Management Support System” on “COVID-19 and Rare Liver diseases”

Four experts from the ERN RARE-LIVER will hold the seminar, which will take place on 4 June from 17.00 to 18.00 (CET). The purpose of the webinar is to provide clinicians with the most updated knowledge on ‘SARS-CoV-2 as a special risk in rare liver diseases’

The webinar will be held by Prof. Dr. Ansgar W. Lohse, ERN RARE-LIVER Coordinator, Director and Chairman, I. Department of Medicine, University Medical Center Hamburg-Eppendorf in Germany, by Prof. Dr. Jörn M. Schattenberg, Metabolic Liver Research Program, I. Department of Medicine, University Medical Center Mainz in Germany, by Priv.-Doz. Dr. med. Julian Schulze zur Wiesch, Medical Specialist in Internal Medicine, University Medical Center Hamburg-Eppendorf in Germany and by Dr. Thomas Marjot, Oxford Liver Unit, John Radcliffe Hospital, University of Oxford, UK. Attendees will then be able to ask questions to the speakers. The webinar will be recorded and available for off line vision afterwards.

In the context of the “COVID-19 Clinical Management Support System” launched by the European Commission, DG SANTE organises a series of webinars to support clinicians and other healthcare professionals at the frontline of the care of COVID-19 patients. These webinars will bring the expertise and recommendations of several experts from the 24 ERNs in the management of challenging cases of patients suffering at the same time of COVID-19 and a rare or complex disease or conditions.
