Annex 1 – schema functioning of the early warning, preparedness and crisis management mechanism, including the pre-decisional phase

The Commission will carry out a permanent process of evaluation and assessment of the implementation of CEAS and its impact on the functioning of the Dublin system, closely coordinating with EASO and other relevant stakeholders.

Where potential issues of concern are identified, affecting the smooth running of the Dublin system, the Commission might approach the Member State concern informally, and ask for remedial action.

Where no remedial action was taken or where the problems cannot be solved via an informal process and based, where appropriate, on consultations with EASO.

Article 33 mechanism

- COM recommends a PAP
  - MS does not accept PAP
    - COM to envisage follow up
  - OR
  - MS accepts PAP
    - Following monitoring, COM considers that PAP/CRIS-MAP addressed the issues
    - END of the process
  - Following monitoring, COM considers that CRIS-MAP did not address the issues
    - Process/monitoring continues until COM considers that the issues have been addressed.

Throughout the procedure foreseen in Art 33, the Council will monitor the situation and provide political guidance, including, together with the European Parliament, on solidarity. The Council will be informed whether a Member State intends to present a preventive action plan, will receive the action plans and the reports of implementation. The Commission will inform the European Parliament of the key elements of the action plans and transmit reports on their implementation.
