MIGRATION: SOLIDARITY WITHIN THE EU

THE COMMISSION'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE LEADERS' AGENDA

#FutureofEurope #EURoad2Sibiu

Over the past years, the European Union has provided significant financial and practical support for its Member States to tackle immediate challenges, better manage migration and protect the EU's external borders. The EU has worked closer together operationally, financial and politically, with support being offered to Member States through the EU budget, the deployment of manpower and equipment and through the EU relocation scheme.

Member States must now step up their efforts to meet their responsibilities and ensure that Europe is ready to face future migration challenges head on and in full solidarity. More must be done to help ease the pressure on the countries most affected, to ensure the EU agencies tasked to support Member States have the right tools at hand and to make the best use of the funding available.

SUPPORTING MEMBER STATES ON THE GROUND AND AT SEA

The EU provides material support to its Member States in terms of manpower and equipment through its Agencies. Experts and staff from the European Border and Coast Guard Agency, the European Asylum Support Office (EASO) and Europol are currently at work both on land and at sea to help Member States manage and strengthen the external borders, provide protection to those who need it, effectively return those who do not and, above all, to save lives.
