Vision and Aims	Its main objectives are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• improving legal certainty in technology transfer by providing current, legally commented contract models;</li> <li>• support of open innovation processes through the provision of a comprehensive collection of information and tools;</li> <li>• dissemination of current developments, support measures and best practice examples in the field of intellectual property in knowledge and technology transfer;</li> <li>• establishment of networks in the IP and knowledge transfer community;</li> <li>• trends setting in the field of IP in knowledge transfer.</li> </ul>
Key Features	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• IPAG: The IPAG provides public online access to standard model contracts for technology transfer (in German and English) free of charge. The contract samples were drawn up by the NCP-IP in cooperation with universities, non-university research institutions, industrial companies and SMEs. They cover all areas of cooperation between research institutions and companies (e.g. license agreements, material transfer agreements, patent purchase agreements and research and development agreements) that are relevant to technology transfer, and they are continuously developed and updated. They are available for download at www.ipag.at.</li> <li>• Open Innovation Toolbox: Since October 2019, the new Open Innovation Toolbox has been available to anyone interested to help open innovation projects succeed - based on fair conditions. It is a comprehensive collection of information from selected open innovation methods and tools with experience reports and practical tips for implementation. www.fair-open-innovation.at.</li> <li>• Dissemination of knowledge: we organise regular online and offline events to promote knowledge about IP issues within the community in Austria. Furthermore, we draft current and regular updates about IP</li> </ul>
