Amended proposal for a

REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL

establishing the Just Transition Fund
EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL
   • Reasons for and objectives of the proposal

On 14 January 2020, the European Commission adopted its legislative proposal\(^1\) establishing the Just Transition Fund, together with a proposal\(^2\) to amend its legislative proposal on the Common Provisions Regulation.

In line with the objective of achieving EU climate neutrality by 2050 in an effective and fair manner, the Just Transition Fund aims at alleviating the economic, environmental and social cost of the transition towards climate neutrality, for the benefit of the territories that are most negatively affected by the transition. The Fund’s support is focused on economic reconversion measures, reskilling of affected workers and job seeking assistance.

The Coronavirus disease outbreak ("COVID-19") has prompted many governments to introduce unprecedented measures to contain the pandemic. This in turn has led to a sharp decline in the level of output in many economies with severe social consequences. It will pose significant challenges for public finances and debt management in the years to come, which in turn may limit public investment necessary for the economic recovery.

In addition, national and regional capacities to address the effects of the crisis differ between Member States and regions due to the diverse economic structures and fiscal positions. If left unaddressed, such differences may result in an asymmetric recovery and lead to increased regional disparities, which in turn can undermine the Internal Market, the financial stability of the Eurozone and our Union as a whole.

In order to prevent the widening of disparities as well as to avoid an uneven recovery process, it is therefore necessary to provide additional support over the short and medium term to Member States and regions in order to help their economies and societies weather the situation and to ensure a swift and sustainable recovery of their economies.

In this context, investments in the green transition must be accelerated to create the conditions for Europe’s long-term growth and resilience of the European economy to future shocks. This should be fully reflected in the future programmes and investment priorities. Accelerating the move out of fossil fuel extraction and carbon-intensive activities through targeted support for economic diversification and creation of new economic opportunities and jobs has enormous potential to get Europe’s economy growing. Enabling regions and citizens to successfully address the transition towards a climate-neutral economy must be at the forefront of our efforts.

It is therefore proposed that additional resources of EUR 35 613 048 000 (in current prices) are made available for the Just Transition Fund. Of these additional resources, EUR 2 810 048 000 should come from budget appropriations, bringing the level of the programme under the next MFF to EUR 11 270 459 000; these should be allocated in the course of the ongoing negotiations at the level of the European Council. The remaining additional resources of EUR 32 803 000 000 will cover the period from 2021 to 2024 and will constitute external assigned revenue stemming from the European Recovery Instrument.

\(^1\) COM(2020) 22 final.
These amounts will be distributed among Member States reflecting their capacity to finance the necessary investments to cope with the transition towards climate neutrality in accordance with the methodology set out in Annex I of the proposed Just Transition Fund Regulation.

By way of derogation from the rules applicable to external assigned revenue set out in the Financial Regulation, these additional resources shall follow the applicable rules set out in the CPR once they are assigned to programmes, including CPR rules on commitments and decommitments.

In order to preserve the capacity of Member States and regions to use their cohesion policy resources to support economic, social and territorial cohesion, the additional resources from the European Recovery Instrument will not require transfers from national allocations under the European Regional Development Fund and the European Social Fund plus.

Consistency with other Union instruments

The support provided through the Just Transition Fund is complemented by a dedicated just transition scheme under InvestEU. It will support a wider scope of investments, notably by contributing to the transition through providing support to low-carbon and climate-resilient activities, such as renewable investments and energy efficiency schemes. This scheme will also be able to deploy financing for energy and transport infrastructure, including gas infrastructure and district heating, but also decarbonisation projects, economic diversification of the regions and social infrastructure.

Additionally, a new public sector loan facility implemented with the EIB will provide support to combining grants from EU resources with loans provided by the EIB for public entities in view of benefitting the most negatively impacted territories identified in the territorial just transition plans.

Synergies and complementarities between the three pillars will be ensured through the territorial just transition plans, where development needs of the most impacted territories stemming from the climate transition will be identified.

2. LEGAL BASIS, SUBSIDIARITY AND PROPORTIONALITY

Legal basis

EU action is justified by Article 174, paragraph 1, TFEU: 'The Union shall develop and pursue its actions leading to the strengthening of its economic, social and territorial cohesion. In particular, the Union shall aim at reducing disparities between the levels of development of the various regions and the backwardness of the least favoured regions'.

To provide for the setup of the Just Transition Fund, it is necessary to base the proposal on Article 175 TFEU, which explicitly calls on the Union to support the achievement of the objectives set out in Article 174 by the action it takes through the Structural Funds, the EIB and the other existing Financial Instruments.

Article 175, paragraph 3, TFEU also provides that ‘if specific actions prove necessary outside the Funds and without prejudice to the measures decided upon within the framework of the other Union policies, such actions may be adopted by the European Parliament and the Council acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure and after consulting the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions’.

It is also necessary to base the proposal on Article 322(1)(a) TFEU in view of enabling targeted derogations from the Financial Regulation.
Subsidiarity and proportionality

In accordance with Article 4(2) TFEU, the Union has shared competence with Member States in the area of economic, social and territorial cohesion as well as of certain aspects of social policy. It also has competence to carry out actions to support, coordinate or supplement the actions of the Member States in the area of education and vocational training as well as industry (Article 6 TFEU).

The implementation of the Just Transition Fund under shared management is underpinned by the subsidiarity principle. Under shared management, the Commission delegates strategic programming and implementation tasks to Member States and regions. Thus, Union action is limited to what is necessary to achieve the Union objectives as laid down in the Treaties.

Shared management aims to ensure that decisions are taken as closely as possible to the citizens and that EU-level action is justified in light of the possibilities and specificities at national, regional or local level. Shared management brings Europe closer to its citizens and connects local needs with European objectives. Moreover, it increases ownership of EU objectives, as Member States and the Commission share decision-making power and responsibility and jointly co-finance the programmes.

Choice of the instrument

Cohesion policy is the appropriate framework for the Just Transition Fund, as it is the main EU policy to address structural changes in Europe’s regions. It provides financial support for investments in a wide range of areas that contribute to jobs and growth, working in partnership with actors on the ground.

It also provides for an integrated place-based approach, which ensures synergies and coherence between investments supported under the Just Transition Fund and those supported under the mainstream cohesion policy programmes. This will accelerate the economic development and reconversion of the concerned regions.

In addition, it ensures ownership by Member States and regions. This is critical in the context of the Just Transition Fund, which needs to be anchored in tailor-made territorial transition strategies, encompassing in a comprehensive manner the numerous social, environmental and economic challenges raised by the transition.

Under cohesion policy, the choice of instrument is a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure as set out in Article 175, paragraph 3, of the Treaty.

3. RESULTS OF EX-POST EVALUATIONS, STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATIONS AND IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

- Ex-post evaluations/fitness checks of existing legislation

  N/A

- Stakeholder consultations

  There was no consultation of external stakeholders. However, the proposal echoes the discussions held with the Member States and the European Parliament over recent weeks, in the context of the negotiations on the proposal establishing the Just Transition Fund.

  Both the draft report of the rapporteur of the REGI committee and the opinion of the BUDG committee had in particular suggested a substantial increase of the JTF budget.

• Impact assessment
The impact assessment\(^3\) carried out to prepare the proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the European Regional Development Fund and on the Cohesion Fund\(^4\) had supported the objectives and the main features of the Just Transition Fund.

The proposed modifications on the JTF proposal take into account the increased challenges territories face in light of the recent COVID-19 pandemic. Apart from the increased resources, changes are limited and do not modify the architecture and the cornerstones of the initial proposal. A self-standing impact assessment was therefore not carried out.

4. BUDGETARY IMPLICATIONS
The additional resources from budget appropriations under the MFF 2021-2027 will lead to additional commitments in the years 2021-2027 and payments in the years 2022-2027 and post 2027.

The additional resources financed under the European Recovery Instrument proposal will lead to additional commitments in the years 2021, 2022 and 2023 and 2024 as well as payments in the years 2021 to 2027, based on external assigned revenues.

5. OTHER ELEMENTS
• Detailed explanation of the specific provisions of the proposal
The proposed amendments to the JTF proposal focus on the following elements:

• Increase of resources through additional budgetary appropriations and external assigned revenues
• No obligation to complement these additional resources financed under the European Recovery Instrument with transfers from ERDF and ESF+
• Amendment of Annex I in view of adapting it to the higher level of resources proposed

1.3. The proposal/initiative relates to:

☐ a new action
☐ a new action following a pilot project/preparatory action(*)
☒ the extension of an existing action
☐ a merger or redirection of one or more actions towards another/a new action

1.4. Grounds for the proposal/initiative

1.4.1. Requirement(s) to be met in the short or long term including a detailed timeline for roll-out of the implementation of the initiative

It is proposed to amend the proposal for the Regulation establishing the Just Transition Fund to ensure that the necessary investments in the green transition are accelerated to create the conditions for Europe’s long-term growth and resilience of the European economy to future shocks. It is therefore proposed that additional resources of EUR 35,613,048,000 (in current prices) are made available for the Just Transition Fund. Of these additional resources, EUR 2,810,048,000 in current prices should come from budget appropriations, bringing the level of the programme under the next MFF to EUR 11,270,459,000; these should be allocated in the course of the ongoing negotiations at the level of the European Council. The remaining additional resources of EUR 32,803,000,000 will cover the period from 2021 to 2024 and will constitute external assigned revenue stemming from the European Recovery Instrument.

1.4.2. Added value of Union involvement (it may result from different factors, e.g. coordination gains, legal certainty, greater effectiveness or complementarities). For the purposes of this point 'added value of Union involvement' is the value resulting from Union intervention which is additional to the value that would have been otherwise created by Member States alone.

In line with the objective of achieving EU climate neutrality by 2050 in an effective and fair manner, the Just Transition Fund aims at alleviating the economic, environmental and social cost of the transition towards climate neutrality, for the benefit of the territories that are most negatively affected by the transition. The Fund’s support is focused on economic reconversion measures, reskilling of affected workers and job seeking assistance.

(*) As referred to in Article 58(2)(a) or (b) of the Financial Regulation.
The Coronavirus disease outbreak ("COVID-19") has prompted many governments to introduce unprecedented measures to contain the pandemic. This in turn has led to a sharp decline in the level of output in many economies with severe social consequences. It will pose significant challenges for public finances and debt management in the years to come, which in turn may limit public investment necessary for the economic recovery.

In addition, national and regional capacities to address the effects of the crisis differ between Member States and regions due to the diverse economic structures and fiscal positions. If left unaddressed, such differences may result in an asymmetric recovery and lead to increased regional disparities, which in turn can undermine the Internal Market, the financial stability of the Eurozone and our Union as a whole.

In order to prevent the widening of disparities as well as to avoid an uneven recovery process, it is therefore necessary to provide additional support over the short and medium term to Member States and regions in order to help their economies and societies weather the situation and to ensure a swift and sustainable recovery of their economies.

1.4.3. Lessons learned from similar experiences in the past
1.4.4. Compatibility and possible synergy with other appropriate instruments

The support provided through the Just Transition Fund is complemented by a dedicated just transition scheme under InvestEU. It will support a wider scope of investments, notably by contributing to the transition through providing support to low-carbon and climate-resilient activities, such as renewable investments and energy efficiency schemes. This scheme will also be able to deploy financing for energy and transport infrastructure, including gas infrastructure and district heating, but also decarbonisation projects, economic diversification of the regions and social infrastructure.

Additionally, a new public sector loan facility implemented with the EIB will provide support to combining grants from EU resources with loans provided by the EIB for public entities in view of benefitting the most negatively impacted territories identified in the territorial just transition plans.

Synergies and complementarities between the three pillars will be ensured through the territorial just transition plans, where development needs of the most impacted territories stemming from the climate transition will be identified.

The proposal is limited to targeted amendments necessary for the purposes of establishing rules making available the additional resources and governing their implementation. The proposal is consistent with the Common Provisions Regulation. The measures are consistent with the Commission’s proposal for a Recovery Fund.

The additional amounts will be distributed among Member States reflecting their capacity to finance the necessary investments to cope with the transition towards climate neutrality in accordance with the methodology set out in Annex I of the proposed Just Transition Fund Regulation. In order to preserve the capacity of Member States and regions to use their cohesion policy resources to support economic, social and territorial cohesion, the additional resources from the European Recovery Instrument will not require transfers from national allocations under the European Regional Development Fund and the European Social Fund +.
1.5. Duration and financial impact

☐ limited duration

- in effect from [DD/MM]YYYY to [DD/MM]YYYY

☐ unlimited duration

- Financial impact from 2021 to 2027 for commitment appropriations and from 2021 to 2027 for payment appropriations.

1.6. Management mode(s) planned

☐ Direct management by the Commission (for 0.35% of the allocation related to technical assistance)

☐ by its departments, including by its staff in the Union delegations;

☐ by the executive agencies

☐ Shared management with the Member States

The proposal will lead to additional commitments in the years 2021 to 2027 as well as payments in the years 2021 to 2027 and post-2027.

Of these additional resources, EUR 2 810 048 000 in current prices should come from budget appropriations, bringing the level of the programme under the next MFF to EUR 11 270 459 000 in current prices; these should be allocated in the course of the ongoing negotiations at the level of the European Council.
