This document aims to compile and track all EU legislation and provisions - as well as major policy documents - on the rights of the child, including other documents of particular relevance to children. It also includes Commission proposals for legislation in order to provide an overview. This document is intended as a practical reference tool for Commission officials and other stakeholders and all documents referenced are hyperlinked. A full directory of EU acquis is available here: http://eur-lex.europa.eu/collection/eu-law/legislation/recent.html

This compilation is child-focussed. Input has been sourced from the Directory referenced above, Commission lists on EU acquis, the Stockholm Programme mid-term review of 13 November 2012, Commission proposals mainstreamed by DG JUSTICE, consultation of members of the Commission's Interservice group on the rights of the child and various policy documents.

Note: The document is a work in progress and will be continuously subject to change. Not all financial programmes are included and some chapters may lack content.

2. CONTEXT

The promotion and protection of the rights of the child is one of the objectives of the EU on which the Treaty on European Union (notably Article 3(3)) puts further emphasis. The rights of the child are also enshrined in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, where Article 24 of the Charter recognises that children are independent and autonomous holders of rights. Article 24 of the Charter also makes the child's best interests a primary consideration for public authorities and private institutions.

The Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union applies to Member States only when they are implementing EU law. The public authorities of the Member States – legislative, executive and judicial – are only bound to comply with the Charter when implementing EU law, notably when they are applying EU regulations or decisions or implementing EU directives. Judges in the Member States, under the guidance of the Court of Justice, have the power to ensure that the Charter is respected by the Member States only when they are implementing EU law.

If a situation does not relate to EU law, it is up to national authorities, including the courts, to enforce fundamental rights. Where the Charter does not apply, fundamental rights continue to be guaranteed at national level according to the national constitutional systems. Member States have extensive national rules on fundamental rights, the respect of which is guaranteed by national courts.

All Member States have made commitments under the European Convention of Human Rights, independently of their obligations under EU law. Therefore, as a last resort, and after exhausting all remedies available at national level, individuals may bring an action at the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg for violation by a Member State of a fundamental right guaranteed by the European Convention on Human Rights.

The European Court of Human Rights has designed an admissibility checklist in order to help potential applicants work out for themselves whether there may be obstacles to their complaints being examined by the Court.

In this context, following on from the Commission Communication of 4 July 2006 (COM(2006)367 final); towards an EU Strategy on the rights of the child, the European Commission adopted an EU Agenda for the rights of the child in February 2011, reaffirming the strong commitment of all EU institutions and of all EU Member States to promoting, protecting and fulfilling the rights of the child in all relevant EU policies. The EU Agenda recalled that the standards and principles of the United Nations Convention on the rights of the child must continue to guide EU policies and actions that have an impact on the rights of the child. Under general principles, the EU Agenda underlined that the EU’s commitment to the rights of the child requires a coherent approach across all relevant EU actions...using the Treaties, the Charter of Fundamental Rights and the UNCRC as a common basis for all EU action relevant to children. Furthermore, the ”child rights perspective” must be taken into account in all EU measures affecting children. In the conclusion of the EU Agenda, the Commission called on the EU institutions and on the Member States to renew their commitment to step up efforts in protecting and promoting the rights of children. The action of the EU should be exemplary in ensuring the respect of the provisions of the Treaties, the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union and of the UNCRC with regard to the rights of children and stated that the Commission will continue to play its part in joint efforts to achieve the well-being and safety of all children. All acceding countries to the EU must have acceded to the UNCRC. A renewed commitment of all actors is necessary to bring to life the vision of a world where children can be children and can safely live, play, learn, develop their full potential, and make the most of all existing opportunities.

FRA has published a Handbook on European law relating to the rights of the child in cooperation with the Council of Europe and the European Court of Human Rights. The handbook is designed to assist lawyers, judges, prosecutors, social workers, non-governmental organisations and other bodies confronted with legal issues relating to the rights of the child. It covers issues such as equality, personal identity, family life, alternative care and adoption, migration and asylum, child protection against violence and exploitation, as well as children’s rights within criminal justice and alternative proceedings. The handbook is the first comprehensive guide to European law in the area of child rights, taking into account both the case law of the European Court of Human Rights (ECHR) and the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU). It provides information on: the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights, relevant Regulations and Directives; the European Social Charter (ESC); decisions of the

The Political Guidelines of the European Commission 2019-2024 “A Union that strives for more. My agenda for Europe” by President Ursula von der Leyen, July 2019 refer in several sections to actions relevant for the rights of the child.

The VicePresident for Democracy and Demography Ms. Dubravka Šuica has been entrusted in her mission letter to lead the work on a new comprehensive strategy on the rights of the child.

The order followed below is aligned with the enlargement process chapters of the acquis.

3. KEY ENLARGEMENT DOCUMENTS

3.1. Copenhagen criteria adopted by the European Council in Copenhagen on 21-22 June 1993

3.2. Communication from the Commission (COM (2018) 65 Final) to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on a Credible Enlargement Perspective for and enhanced EU Engagement with the Western Balkans.

3.3. Communication from the Commission (COM (2019) 260 Final) the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on the 2019 Communication on EU Enlargement Policy.

3.4. Communication from the Commission (COM (2020) 57 Final) to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on Enhancing the accession process - A credible EU perspective for the Western Balkans.

4. EUROPE 2020

Europe 2020 is the EU's strategy to promote smart, sustainable and inclusive growth.

The EU has set ambitious objectives to be reached by 2020 in five main areas:

- Employment - 75% of the population aged 20-64 should be employed
- Innovation - 3% of the EU's GDP should be invested in Research & Development
- Climate change - the "20/20/20" climate/energy targets should be met (including an increase to 30% of emissions reduction if the conditions are right)
- Education - the share of early school leavers should be under 10% and at least 40% of 30-34 years old should have completed a tertiary or equivalent education

32
• Poverty - reduction of poverty by aiming to lift at least 20 million people out of the risk of poverty or exclusion

4.1. Policy documents and Commission proposals

(Setting headline targets)

4.3. Conclusions of the European Council of 25-26 March 2010

(Agreeing headline targets in general, numerical rates and indicators to be discussed in June)

4.4. Conclusions of the European Council of 17 June 2010

(Adopting the Europe 2020 strategy and defining numerical rates for headline targets on education and poverty – see also Annex I to conclusions)

4.5. European Semester: Country-specific recommendations, Council Recommendations

Each year, based on the analysis included in the Semester country reports, and on the content of the National Reform Programs, the European Commission proposes a set of country-specific recommendations, which are discussed, and subsequently adopted by the Council. Given the numerous interlinkages in the social sphere, a number of those recommendations, from provision of early childhood education and care, to quality of education and prevention of early school leaving, to minimum income schemes and social safety nets are relevant for the situation of families and children. The table below shows which Member States have received recommendations in relevant areas since 2013 Semester cycle.

The Semester documents can be accessed on this website.

7.2. Directive 2010/13/EU of 10 March 2010 on audiovisual media services (AVMS)

(Limits amount of marketing to which children may be exposed during children's programmes, e.g. Article 9.1(g), Article 10.4, Article 11, Article 20.). (See modifications under point 7.6.)

7.3. Directive 2011/93/EU of 13 December 2011 on combating the sexual abuse and sexual exploitation of children and child pornography

(Filed in Chapter 24 in this document on Justice, Freedom and Security)

(See Directive 2011/93/EU on combating the sexual abuse and sexual exploitation of children and child pornography under Justice, Freedom and Security Chapter)

7.5. European Parliament and Council Recommendation 2006/952/EC of 20 December 2006 on the protection of minors and human dignity and on the right of reply in relation to the competitiveness of the European audiovisual and online information service industry

(The Directive contains several provisions related to children, modifying existing legislation. It covers aspects such as: promotion of co-regulation and self-regulation through codes of conduct for exposure of children to audiovisual commercial communications for certain foods and beverages; limitations to sponsorship of children’s programmes; limitation to product placement; limitation to interruption of children’s programmes by advertising; promotion among MS to take measures to ensure that video-sharing platforms protect the sharing of contents containing offences concerning child pornography and offences concerning racism and xenophobia, among others).

7.17. Policy documents and Commission proposals

Analysis of implementation of 1998 and 2006 recommendations

The strategy is articulated around four main ‘pillars’ that mutually reinforce each other: (1) Stimulating quality content online for young people; (2) Stepping up awareness and empowerment; (3) Creating a safe environment for children online; and (4) Fighting against child sexual abuse and child sexual exploitation. It proposes a series of actions to be undertaken by the Commission, Member States and the whole industry value chain.

(See Sections 2.6 on commercial communications (advertising targeting children) and Section 4 Conclusions)

(See Section 4 on advertising targeting children)

(The proposed modifications aim at simplifying the obligation to protect children against harmful content. It now says that everything that 'may be harmful' should be restricted on all services. The most harmful content shall be subject to the strictest measures, such as PIN codes and encryption. This will apply also to on-demand services.

Member States shall ensure that audiovisual media service providers provide sufficient information to viewers about harmful content to children. For this purpose, Member Stes may use a system of descriptors indicating the nature of the content of an audiovisual media service.)

8.1. Acquis

(Encouraging the consumption of fruit and vegetables, as well as of milk and milk products by school children. section I, Chapter II, Title I, Part II)

8.3. Council Regulation (EU) No 1370/2013 of 16 December 2013 determining measures on fixing certain aids and refunds related to the common organisation of the markets in agricultural products

(Annex I. EU aid for the supply of school fruit and vegetables and of school milk, accompanying educational measures and related costs)

(The Annex to Council Directive (EU) 2017/159 contains the text of the Social Partner Agreement concerning the implementation of the Work in Fishing Convention, 2007 of the International Labour Organisation. Article 6 of the Agreement sets the minimum age for work on board, including the standard minimum age (16 years) and the special circumstances that can justify derogations from this (allowing people aged 15 years to work on board). It also prohibits that night work and certain tasks - which are likely to jeopardize the health, safety or morals of young persons - are performed by persons less than 18 years. MS are obliged under Article 34 to adopt legislative measures that require the fishing vessel owner, fishermen, and any other person concerned to give due account to the safety and health of fishermen under the age of 18.)

9. CHAPTER 12: FOOD SAFETY, VETERINARY AND PHYTOSANITARY POLICY

9.1. Acquis

(Composition, labelling, pesticide residues, prohibition of very toxic pesticides)
9.3. Commission Regulation (EU) No 155/2014 of 19 February 2014 refusing to authorise certain health claims made on foods, other than those referring to the reduction of disease risk and to children’s development and health

10. CHAPTER 14: TRANSPORT POLICY

10.1. Road safety

(see also Chapter 20 Enterprise and Industrial Policy on motor vehicle safety)

10.2. Acquis

(Mandatory use of restraint systems in all categories of motor vehicles (private and commercial vehicles, heavy goods vehicles, buses and coaches) and obligation to use the safety belt when the vehicle is in motion for all seats fitted with one. The use of suitable Child Restraint Systems, specially adapted to the size and weight of children is also compulsory under this Directive.)

(The Directive does not mention children specifically but Recital 9 emphasises the importance of preventing possible dangers for all road users, including vulnerable users. This Directive applies to all roads which are part of the trans-European road network and Member States are encouraged to implement the provisions on secondary roads too: Member States are required to carry out a safety impact assessment at the pre-design stage, a safety audit at the design stage and regular safety inspections every three years once a road is in operation. Member States will also have to identify dangerous road stretches so as to resolve problems identified.)

11. CHAPTER 18: STATISTICS

11.1. Acquis

(Provisions for disaggregation of data according to age)

11.3. Commission Regulation EU No 216/2010 of 15 March 2010 - statistics on migration and international protection

(As amended by Directive 2007/30/EC of 20 June 2007 laying down minimum requirements for the protection of young people (under 18) at work in accordance with age)

12.3. Poverty and social exclusion

(Addresses issues surrounding severe material deprivation, child poverty, etc.)

(Addresses issues surrounding severe material deprivation, child poverty, etc.)

12.6. Commission Implementing Decision of 3 April 2014 setting out the annual breakdown by Member State of global resources for the European Regional Development Fund, the European Social Fund and the Cohesion Fund under the Investment for growth and jobs goal and the European territorial cooperation goal, the annual breakdown by Member State of resources from the specific allocation for the Youth Employment Initiative together with the list of eligible regions, and the amounts to be transferred from each Member State's Cohesion Fund and Structural Funds allocations to the Connecting Europe Facility and to aid for the most deprived for the period 2014-2020

(The Decision specifies the budget for those regions eligible for funding under the Youth Employment Initiative – Annexes III and IV)

12.7. Commission Implementing Regulation (EU) No 463/2014 of 5 May 2014 laying down pursuant to Regulation (EU) No 223/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council on the Fund for European Aid to the Most Deprived, the terms and conditions applicable to the electronic data exchange system between the Member States and the Commission

(The Commission shall establish an electronic data exchange system for all official exchanges of information between the Member State and the Commission)

12.8. Maternity leave

12.9. Council Directive 92/85/EC of 19 October 1992 on the introduction of measures to encourage improvements in the safety and health at work of pregnant workers and workers who have recently given birth or are breastfeeding (tenth individual directive within the meaning of Article 16(1) of Directive 89/391/EEC)

(The maternity leave directive has a direct link to and impact on the wellbeing of the child)
12.10. Policy documents and Commission proposals

12.11. Poverty and social exclusion

(The Fund would support Member State schemes providing food to the most deprived people and clothing and other essential goods to homeless people and materially-deprived children)

(Provides policy guidance to Member States on how to reform social policies, with a strong focus on investment throughout the individual's life and early intervention)

(Looks at recent trends and data on homelessness and discusses policy practices and approaches in the Member States, showing how the European Union intends to support the Member States; includes specific references to homelessness faced by families with children and children in particularly vulnerable situations)

(Provides policy guidance and related indicators to help the EU and Member States focus on successful social investment towards children in the fields of access to adequate income, quality services and child participation. Children of parents in prison were recognised as a particularly vulnerable group. The Recommendation provides policy guidance and related indicators to help the EU and Member States focus on successful social investment towards children in the fields of access to adequate income, quality services and child participation. The recommendation invites Member States to address child poverty and children's wellbeing through an integrated approach which would involve ensuring access to adequate income and living standards and empowering children through access to quality services. In so doing the recommendation emphasises the importance of family support (including preventive services).)

(Inter alia, ensuring through cross-sectorial cooperation that other EU policy domains (e.g. employment, education, social affairs, health) are made aware of the specific issues faced by young people. Contributing to the overarching priorities of the EU economic and social policy agenda, in particular the Europe 2020 Strategy and its implementing mechanisms)

The current one specifically mentions safeguarding of minors as a key topic.

12.4. Council conclusions on the contribution of sport to the EU economy, and in particular to addressing youth unemployment and social inclusion (2014/C 32/03)

(Through engagement in sport, young people gain skills and competences that actively support their participation, development and progression in education, training and employment)

12.5. 2019 Council conclusions on combating corruption in sport

(Corruption is recognised in the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) as one of the 'areas of particularly serious crimes with a cross-border dimension'. High profile corruption cases in recent years have shown the potential damage corruption can cause to the reputation of sport for integrity and fair play.)

12.6. 2019 Council Conclusions on Safeguarding children in sport

(The conclusions cover both the protection of children against violence as well as the promotion of children’s wellbeing, ensuring they can practice sport safely.)

(Point 13. Encourages the Member States, taking into account their specific situations, to address child poverty and promote children’s well-being through multi-dimensional and integrated strategies, in accordance with the Commission Recommendation Investing in children.)

(Chapter 3 – Principle 11, Childcare and support to children

a) Children have the right to affordable early childhood education and care of good quality.

The Pillar establishes that all children have the right to good quality ECEC. ECEC is understood as any regulated arrangement that provides education and care for children from birth to compulsory primary school age - regardless of the setting, funding, opening hours or programme content includes centre and family-based day-care; privately and publicly funded provision; pre-school and pre-primary provision.
Furthermore, the Pillar highlights the quality aspects of ECEC, understood as combining aspects related to access, workforce, curriculum, monitoring, evaluation and governance. Universally available and good quality ECEC is beneficial for all children and particularly those from a disadvantaged background.

b) Children have the right to protection from poverty. Children from disadvantaged backgrounds have the right to specific measures to enhance equal opportunities.

The provisions of the Pillar set a right for children to be protected from poverty, meaning that every child shall have access to comprehensive and integrated measures as set out in the 2013 European Commission Recommendation on investing in children. Prevention of poverty and social exclusion is most effectively achieved through integrated strategies. The targeted measures should, for instance, comprise access to adequate resources, a combination of cash and in-kind benefits allowing children to enjoy adequate living standards, access to affordable quality services in the area of education, health, housing, family support and promotion of family-based and community care, as well as legal protection and support for children to participate in decision-making that affects their lives.

In addition, Principle 11b gives children from disadvantaged backgrounds (such as Roma children, some migrant or ethnic minority children, children with special needs or disabilities, children in alternative care and street children, children of imprisoned parents, as well as children within households at particular risk of poverty) the right to specific measures – namely reinforced and targeted support - with a view to ensure their equitable access to and enjoyment of social rights.

12.10. Communication from the Commission (COM (2017) 250 final) to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions, Establishing a European Pillar of Social Rights

12.12. Commission Communication to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions. COM (2020) 14 final on a Strong Social Europe for Just Transitions, 14 January 2020

The Communication describes the multiple challenges Europe is facing: climate action, digitalisation and demographic change, and puts forward relevant initiatives. To take advantage of the opportunities that these provide, Europe needs an ambitious social policy moving forward. One of the initiatives put forward by the Communication is the Child Guarantee initiative, setup for adoption by the Commission in 2021.

12.13. Maternity leave

(The proposal's main objective is to increase the current entitlement of 14 weeks' maternity leave to 18 weeks)

(Defining the technical requirements which motor vehicles must meet with regard to safety belts and restraint systems. This Directive will be repealed as from 1 November 2014 as a result of the GSR. The equivalent UNECE Regulation is No 16 also includes specific provisions for child restraint systems.)

(Defining the technical requirements which motor vehicles must meet with regard to safety-belt anchorages, and with a specific article on (future) measures envisaged for disabled people. This Directive will be repealed as from 1 November 2014 as a result of the GSR. The equivalent UNECE Regulation is No 14 and includes specific provisions for child restraint systems (ISOFIX), but these are not incorporated in the Directive. UNECE Regulation No 44 on Child Restraint Systems and UNECE Regulation No 129 on Enhanced Child Restraint Systems are also applicable. Regulation No 44 of the Economic Commission for Europe of the United Nation (UNECE) — Uniform provisions concerning the approval of restraining devices for child occupants of power-driven vehicles (‘Child Restraint Systems’) [2016/1722]

(Requirements for the construction and functioning of motor vehicles and frontal protection systems in order to reduce the number and severity of injuries to pedestrians and other vulnerable road users who are hit by the fronts of vehicles and in order to avoid such collisions – Annex I on testing includes testing for child pedestrian safety)

14.1. EU Cohesion Policy 2014-20

(In the context of the EU 2020 strategy, the flagship initiative “European Platform against Poverty”, as defined in the 2010 Communication, includes recognising the fundamental rights of people experiencing poverty and social exclusion, enabling them to live in dignity and take an active part in society. People with a disability are among the groups at particular risk for whose circumstances Member States need to define and implement measures.

Measures for the shift from residential (institutional) to community-based care should be included as part of the national strategy for poverty reduction, the thematic ex-ante conditionality of the Common Provision Regulations of the next programming period 2014-2020. There is a specific investment priority referring to this measure under the European Regional Development Fund\(^5\); it is entitled "Investing in health and social infrastructure which contribute to national, regional and local development, reducing inequalities in terms of health status, and transition from institutional to community-based services)." The general ex-ante conditionality on disability (“the existence of a mechanism which ensures effective implementation and application of the UN Convention on the rights of persons with disabilities") reinforces the requirement to mainstream the rights of persons with disabilities in line with the UN Convention in structural and investment fund-supported measures.)

(See Article 7 Promotion of equality between men and women and non-discrimination: The Member States and the Commission shall take appropriate steps to prevent any discrimination based on sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation during the preparation and implementation of programmes. In particular, accessibility for persons with disabilities shall be taken into account throughout the preparation and implementation of programmes. See Annex XI - General ex-ante conditionality:

- Anti-discrimination – The existence of administrative capacity for the implementation and application of Union anti-discrimination law and policy in the field of ESI Funds (including Article 21 and 26 Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union)

- Disability - Existence of administrative capacity for the implementation and application of the UN Convention on the rights of persons with disabilities (UNCPRD) in the field of ESIF Article 19 "Living independently and being included in the community".

\(^5\) The European Regional Development Fund (ERDF) aims to strengthen economic, social and territorial cohesion in the European Union by correcting imbalances between regions. The ERDF supports regional and local development to contribute to all thematic objectives, by setting out detailed priorities to increase focus on nine main priorities, including health, education, and social infrastructures.

(See Article 8 Promotion of equal opportunities and non-discrimination: (…) Through the ESF, the Member States and the Commission shall also support specific actions (…) (that) shall aim to combat all forms of discrimination as well as to improve accessibility for persons with disabilities, with a view to improving integration into employment, education and training, thereby enhancing social inclusion, reducing inequalities in terms of educational attainment and health status, and facilitating the transition from institutional to community-based care, in particular for those who face multiple discrimination.)

Facilitating the transition from institutional to community-based care is part of the draft European Regional Development Fund (ERDF)\(^6\) regulation for 2014-2020; with a specific investment priority (Investing in health and social infrastructure which contribute to national, regional and local development, reducing inequalities in terms of health status, and transition from institutional to community-based services) referring to this measure.

Childcare facilities – in order to reinforce women's participation in the labour market, childcare facilities (crèche, kindergarten, etc.) should be available, in particular for marginalised groups.

Early childhood education and care facilities (crèche, kindergarten, primary school) should be available, in particular for marginalised groups in deprived areas.)

14.8. Policy documents and Commission proposals

14.9. Thematic guidance on the use of European Structural and Investment funds to support transition from institutional to community-based care (2014)

(The Guidance specifies that states are unable to use European Structural and Investment Funds for the maintenance or renovation of existing and the construction of new large residential institutional settings, and must prioritise support measures that enable the shift from institutional to community-based care services.)

(see Article 3 on scope and Article 9 on thematic objectives)

(Relevant proposed thematic objectives include promoting employment and supporting labour mobility, promoting social inclusion and combating poverty, investing in education, skills and lifelong learning as well as the relevant investment priorities within them. These include in particular early childhood education; reducing early school leaving; reconciliation between work and private life; access to services, including health care and social services; community-led local development strategies; support to the regeneration of deprived areas and transition from institutional to community-based services)

15. CHAPTER 23: JUDICIARY AND FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS

(see also in this document Section on Context which introduces the essential documents on the rights of the child)

\(^6\) The European Regional Development Fund (ERDF) aims to strengthen economic, social and territorial cohesion in the European Union by correcting imbalances between regions. The ERDF supports regional and local development to contribute to all thematic objectives, by setting out detailed priorities to increase focus on nine main priorities, including health, education, and social infrastructures.
15.1. Rights of the child

15.2. Acquis

15.3. Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union

Almost all articles apply to children as well as adults, but see in particular Article 24 specifically on the rights of the child and Article 32 prohibiting child labour.

Article 24
The rights of the child

1. Children shall have the right to such protection and care as is necessary for their well-being. They may express their views freely. Such views shall be taken into consideration on matters which concern them in accordance with their age and maturity.

2. In all actions relating to children, whether taken by public authorities or private institutions, the child's best interests must be a primary consideration.

3. Every child shall have the right to maintain on a regular basis a personal relationship and direct contact with both his or her parents, unless that is contrary to his or her interests.

Article 32
Prohibition of child labour and protection of young people

1. The employment of children is prohibited. The minimum age of admission to employment may not be lower than the minimum school-leaving age, without prejudice to such rules as may be more favourable to young people and except for limited derogations.

2. Young people admitted to work must have working conditions appropriate to their age and be protected against economic exploitation and any work likely to harm their safety, health or physical, mental, moral or social development or to interfere with their education.

15.10. Council Conclusions of 17 December 2014 (17016/14) on the Promotion and Protection of the rights of the child

15.11. Council conclusions on the application of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights in 2016 (12 October 2017)

Section c) on rights of the child: (point 14.) the Council highlights the importance of the protection of children and respect for the principle of the best interests of the child as a primary consideration in all actions affecting children. (Point 15.) the Council underlines that cooperation and dialogue with stakeholders are key to ensure the respect of children’s rights, and notably through the exchange of good practices, which should be further developed. It recalls the Annual Forum on the rights of the child, the informal Member States expert group on the rights of the child as well as the Commission’s initiative to establish a European guardianship network.

15.16 Communication to the European Parliament and to the Council - Helping national authorities fight abuses of the right to free movement: Handbook on addressing the issue of alleged marriages of convenience between EU citizens and non-EU nationals in the context of EU law on free movement of EU citizens (COM/2014/0604 final)
15.17. Commission SWD Handbook on addressing the issue of alleged marriages of convenience between EU citizens and non-EU nationals in the context of EU law on free movement of EU citizens

Accompanying the document Communication to the European Parliament and to the Council Helping national authorities fight abuses of the right to free movement: Handbook on addressing the issue of alleged marriages of convenience between EU citizens and non-EU nationals in the context of EU law on free movement of EU citizens

In September 2014, the Commission published a handbook to help Member States authorities to effectively tackle marriages of convenience between EU citizens and non-EU nationals in the context of EU law on free movement. The handbook expounds the legal framework at EU and international level, spells out what the application of these rules means in practice, offering national authorities operational guidance to assist them in effectively detecting and investigating suspected cases of marriages of convenience. The handbook expressly refers where children are involved when tackling marriages of convenience to the rights of the child (see in particular section 3.1.2.3)

15.18. Non-discrimination

(see also EUROPE 2020 section in this document)

15.19. Acquis

15.20. Racial equality

(Scope (Article 3) includes education, healthcare, housing, vocational training, public services)

15.22. Policy documents and Commission proposals

(Protection from discrimination is one of the areas in which EU law closely affects the everyday life of people in the EU. All 28 Member States have now transposed the relevant Directives and gained experience in their application.)
15.24. Female genital mutilation (FGM)

15.25. Policy documents and Commission proposals

15.27. Equal participation in the labour market – child care

15.28. Acquis

(The Recommendation identified four areas in which Member States should take measures to enable women and men to reconcile their occupational, family and upbringing responsibilities arising from the care of children: (a) leave policies for parents of young children, including maternity and parental leaves; (b) child care services; (c) ‘environment, structure and organisation of work’ (i.e. workplace measures) and (d) more equal ‘sharing of responsibilities arising from the care, and upbringing of children’ through increased participation by men.)

15.30. Policy documents and Commission proposals

15.31. Presidency Conclusions, Barcelona European Council, 15-16 March 2002 (SN 100/1/02/REV1)

(The Conclusions invite Member States to "remove disincentives to female labour force participation and strive, taking into account the demand for childcare facilities and in line with national patterns of provision, to provide childcare by 2010 to at least 90% of children between three years old and the mandatory school age and at least 33% of children under three years of age.")

15.32. Council conclusions of 17 December 2008 on Women and the economy Reconciliation of work and family life

(The Conclusions urge Member States to adopt appropriate measures for the reconciliation of work family and private life)

(The Conclusions urge action to improve the supply of adequate, affordable, high-quality childcare services for children under the mandatory school age with a view to achieving the objectives set at the European Council in Barcelona in March 2002, taking into account the demand for childcare services and in line with national patterns of childcare provision.)

15.34. Council Conclusions of 20 June 2011 on reconciliation of work and family life in the context of demographic change (11841/11)

(The Conclusions invite the Member States and the Commission to promote and set up several measures to tackle barriers to reconciling professional and private life. These measures included: (a) the promotion of flexible working arrangements and various forms of leave for both women and men (parental leave, possibility to work part-time); (b) the sufficient supply of affordable, high-quality childcare services and care facilities for other dependents; (c) encouraging employers to offer their employees childcare and other forms of family support and (d) taking into consideration the needs of families, and in particular those which are most vulnerable, including large or single-parent families.)

15.35. Council Conclusions of 2 December 2011 on the review of the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action – women and the economy - reconciliation of work and family life as a precondition for equal participation in the labour market

(Call on the Member States to invest in early childhood education and care so as to lay the foundation of children's future learning, and to combat child and family poverty by stepping up or continuing efforts to effectively support the reconciliation of work, family and private life throughout the life course for both women and men, and to further improve the collection, analysis and dissemination of comparable EU data, in the area.)

15.36. Report of 3 June 2013 from the Commission to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on the Barcelona objectives – the development of childcare facilities for young children in Europe with a view to sustainable and inclusive growth

(Addresses, inter alia, funding allocated to childcare services and women's participation in the labour market, the provision of affordable and quality childcare, early childhood education, leave entitlements after childbirth)

15.38. Equal treatment – goods and services

15.39. Acquis

(also applies to children in terms of equal access to goods and services)

15.41. Parental leave

15.42. Council Directive 2010/18/EU of 8 March 2010 implementing the revised framework agreement on parental leave concluded by BUSINESSEUROPE, UEAPME, CEEP and ETUC and repealing Directive 96/34/EC

(the directive confers the right on both parents to take four months' parental leave each (8 months altogether))
15.43. Children with disabilities

(The EU concluded the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD)\(^7\) which entered into force in 2011. The Convention aims to ensure that all people with disabilities enjoy their rights on an equal basis with others and devotes specific attention to the rights of children with disabilities.

In this regard, the UNCRPD sets out obligations for state parties to take all necessary measures to ensure the full enjoyment of all human rights and fundamental freedoms by children with disabilities on an equal basis with other children (Art. 7 UNCRPD\(^8\)), including the right to education, to care within the community, to health and to leisure activities.

In addition to Article 7, which is specifically devoted to children with disabilities, Article 16\(^9\) should be highlighted given that it makes a crucial reference to the measures that Member States must undertake in order to protect children with disabilities. Other articles referring to children explicitly include Article 3\(^10\), Article 18\(^11\), Article 23\(^12\), Article 24\(^13\), and Article 30\(^14\).

To ensure effective implementation of the UNCRPD across the EU, in November 2010 the Commission adopted the European Disability Strategy 2010-2020. – see below).

15.45. Financing programmes on rights of the child and the prevention of violence against children

(Financing programme – prevention of violence against children)

\(^7\) All EU Member States have signed the UNCRPD. As of October 2012 the Convention has been ratified by 23 Member States, while 18 have ratified its Optional Protocol. The table for Convention signatures and ratifications is available at http://treaties.un.org/pages/ViewDetails.aspx?src=TREATY&mtdsg_no=IV-15&chapter=4&lang=en.

\(^8\) Article 7 sets out the responsibilities of States Parties to ensure the full enjoyment by children with disabilities of all human rights and fundamental freedoms on an equal basis with other children, to ensure that actions concerning children with disabilities are taken with their best interests as a primary consideration, and to ensure their right to express their views and have them given due weight.

\(^9\) Article 16 UNCRPD requires all State Parties to "Take appropriate legislative, administrative, social, educational and other measures to protect persons with disability, within and outside home from all forms of exploitation, abuse..."

\(^10\) Respect for the evolving capacities of children with disabilities, as well as for their right to preserve their identities.

\(^11\) Liberty of movement and nationality.

\(^12\) Respect for home and family.

\(^13\) Education.

\(^14\) Participation in cultural life, recreation, leisure and sport.

(It provides the framework for empowering people with disabilities to fully participate in society and ensure that they can enjoy their fundamental rights. This strategy aims also to facilitate the implementation of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD). While actions contained in this Strategy are designed to benefit all persons with disabilities, some measures more specifically address the situation of children with disabilities. 15) The strategy reiterates that the EU committed to promote the participation of

15 The Commission, inter alia, aims to promote the transition from institutional to community-based care notably by using Structural Funds to support the development of community-based services and raising awareness of the situation of people with disabilities living in residential institutions, in particular children and elderly people. The Strategy also recognises the importance of integrating children with disabilities into the general education system disabled people in leisure activities, employment, education and health and social services and to achieve the transition from institutional to community based care.)

(Approaches the promotion and protection of the rights of the child under Article 7 (p.41)

15.1. Gender equality

15.2. Presidency Conclusions of the Barcelona European Council on 15 and 16 March 2002

(The Barcelona European Council establishes objectives with regard to the availability of affordable and high quality childcare (including targets). Member States should remove disincentives to female labour force participation, taking into account the demand for childcare facilities and in line with national patterns of provision, to provide childcare by 2010 to at least 90% of children between 3 years old and the mandatory school age and at least 33% of children under 3 years of age.

15.3. Council Conclusions of 2 May 2007 on the review of the implementation by the Member States and the EU institutions of the Beijing Platform for Action – indicators in respect of the education and training of women

(Urge the Member States to take concrete measures to implement gender mainstreaming while developing policies for the integration of migrant girls and women as well as migrant boys and men into the education system in order to overcome gender stereotypes)

15.4. Council Conclusions of 30 October 2007 on the review of the implementation by the Member States and the EU institutions of the Beijing Platform for Action – indicators in respect of women and poverty

(Recall the commitment that the Member States made, at the World Summit for Social Development held in Copenhagen in 1995, to give special priority to the needs and rights of women and children, who often bear the greatest burden of poverty)

15.5. Council Conclusions of 26 May 2008 on the review of the implementation by the Member States and the EU institutions of the Beijing Platform for Action – indicators in respect of the girl child

(Includes indicators on (1) sex and relationship education: parameters of sexuality-related education in schooling, (2) body self-image: dissatisfaction of girls and boys with their bodies, (3) educational accomplishments: comparison of 15-year-old students’ performance in mathematics and science and the proportion of girl students in tertiary education in the field of science, mathematics and computing and in the field of teacher training and education science.

and that effective individualized support measures are provided in environments that maximize academic and social development.)
15.6. Council Conclusions of 17 December 2008 on the review of the implementation by the Member States and the EU institutions of the Beijing Platform for Action

(Recall that the Member States are determined to eradicate violence against women and girls in armed conflicts and to eliminate all obstacles to allow women to participate fully in conflict-prevention and resolution, in accordance with the Beijing Platform for Action)

15.7. Council Conclusions of 30 November 2009 on the review of the implementation by the Member States and the EU institutions of the Beijing Platform for Action

(Reaffirm that the full enjoyment of all human rights by women and girls is an inalienable, integral and indivisible part of universal human rights and is essential for the advancement of women and girls, peace, security and development)

15.8. Council Conclusions of 8 March 2010 on the eradication of violence against women in the European Union

(Call on the Commission and the Member States to continue efforts to support the implementation of the EU guidelines on violence against women and girls and combating all forms of discrimination against them)

15.9. Council Conclusions of 6 December 2012 on combating violence against women and the provision of support services for victims of domestic violence

(Call on all actors (EU Member States and EU institutions) to combat all forms of violence against women and girls)

15.10. Council Conclusions of 5-6 June 2014 on preventing and combating all forms of violence against women and girls, including female genital mutilation

(Call on all actors to prevent and combat all forms of violence against women and girls, including female genital mutilation. Strong focus on collecting prevalence data, providing training for relevant professionals, supporting victims, implementing existing EU legislation, and raising awareness of the issue)

(The Directive provides for minimum standards with regard to paternity leave, parental leave, carer’s leave as well as the right to request flexible working arrangements for working parents and carers. The aim is to encourage the sharing of care responsibilities among working parents and a better work-life balance for each of the parents and enhance female labour market participation.)

15.12. Report from the Commission to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions (COM/2018/273 final) on the development of childcare facilities for young children with a view to increase female labour participation, strike a work-life balance for working parents and bring about sustainable and inclusive growth in Europe (the "Barcelona objectives")

(The report considers the state of play with regard to the Barcelona objectives on childcare participation. While overall the targets are reached at EU level, there are considerable difference across Member States. Member States are encouraged to invest in availability of affordable and high quality childcare infrastructures, including through European Structural Investment Funding.)

The EU Gender Equality Strategy delivers on the von der Leyen Commission’s commitment to achieving a Union of Equality. The Strategy presents policy objectives and actions to make significant progress by 2025 towards a gender-equal Europe.

15.14. Funding programmes

15.17. Funding programme: Erasmus+

Funding programme on education. Besides, particularly sport, is an integral part of Erasmus+. 1.8% of the annual budget of Erasmus+ is dedicated to activities related to sport, with the aim of supporting collaborative partnerships and not-for-profit European sports events. The programme should also contribute to strengthening the evidence base for policymaking, i.e. fund studies. Finally, the programme also supports dialogue with relevant European stakeholders.

16. CHAPTER 24: JUSTICE, FREEDOM AND SECURITY

16.1. General

16.2. Acquis

(Provisions with regard to children – Article 9(1)(e) - more severe sanctions in case of the illegal employment of a minor; Article 13(4) a possibility to grant residence permits of limited duration, linked to the length of the relevant national proceedings, to third-country nationals who have been subjected to particularly exploitative working conditions or who were illegally employed minors and who cooperate in criminal proceedings against the employer)

16.4.  Trafficking in human beings

(Provisions on Offences and Penalties, Art. 2 and 4, explicitly refer to children and several provisions are based on the best interest of the child. Art. 13-18 set forth: General provisions on assistance, support and protection measures for child victims of trafficking in human beings; Assistance and support to child victims; Protection of child victims of trafficking in human beings in criminal investigations and proceedings; Assistance, support and protection for unaccompanied child victims of trafficking in human beings. In addition, Article 18 refers in particular to children in relation to measures for prevention)

16.6. Council Directive 2004/81/EC of 29 April 2004 on the residence permit issued to third-country nationals who are victims of trafficking in human beings or who have been the subject of an action to facilitate illegal immigration, who cooperate with the competent authorities

(If Member States apply the derogation under Article 3.3, Article 10 includes provisions on children (best interests of the child, access to education, unaccompanied children)

16.7. Sexual abuse

16.8. Directive 2011/93/EU on combating the sexual abuse and sexual exploitation of children and child pornography

Note corrigendum to Directive number

- Criminalisation covering wide range of situations of sexual abuse and exploitation (20 offences), of which 9 are new; covering new phenomena like child grooming, webcam abuse, or web viewing child pornography
- Increased levels of penalties, ranging 1-10 years
- Levels of penalties more detailed, depending on severity of offence and (in some cases) age of the victim): levels at 1, 2, 3, 5, 8 or 10 years
- New aggravating circumstances, including vulnerable children, abuse by family members, gang rape, or recidivism
- Greater approximation of MS legislation
- Sanctions on legal person as in FD 2004
- Extensive victim assistance and support measures
- Obligation to ensure prompt removal of webpages in MS' territory
- Obligation to endeavour to obtain removal if hosted outside MS' territory
- Possibility of MS to block access to webpages, with safeguards:
  - transparent procedures
  - necessity and proportionality
  - information to users
  - possibility of judicial redress
• Blocking possible through public action and/or self-regulation, with adequate level of legal certainty and predictability

• Main potential hurdles for effectiveness of exchange of criminal records (ECRIS) removed:

  • information on disqualification subject to exchange, regardless of where it is stored (in criminal records or separate records)

  • obligation of MS to exchange information with ECRIS for the purpose of facilitating effectiveness of disqualification and background checks by employers

16.9. Data protection

16.10. Directive (EU) 2016/680 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by competent authorities for the purposes of the prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of criminal offences or the execution of criminal penalties, and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Council Framework Decision 2008/977/JHA

(Footnote No 28: future development of a comprehensive strategy to follow up on the Action Plan on Unaccompanied Minors (2011-2014) to cover missing and unaccompanied children, in order to look at the specific vulnerabilities of children)

(Strengthening law enforcement and cooperation – online child sexual abuse material)

16.15. Trafficking in human beings

(Children are a particularly vulnerable group to trafficking in human beings and several deliverables of the EU Strategy 2012-2016 concerned children, including: Commission's Study on High Risk Groups for THB, in particular children; FRA published a Handbook on Guardianship for children deprived of parental care, aiming at reinforcing guardianship systems to cater for the specific needs of child victims of trafficking. Commission Guidelines for the identification of victims of THB, addressed in particular to border guards and consular services, aiming at improving coordination and coherence in the area of victim identification and facilitating the work of front-line officials)

(Endorsing the EU Strategy towards the eradication of trafficking in human beings 2012-2016)

16.18. Council Conclusions of 13 June 2013 on an EU framework for the provision of information on the rights of victims of trafficking in human beings

(Inviting Member States to take into consideration and use the Commission document "The EU rights of victims of trafficking in human beings", to supplement that document with national information, to facilitate victims' easy access to user-friendly comprehensive information, to disseminate information to all relevant actors, to check that objectives of these conclusions have been met by June 2014; Inviting the Commission to support Member State efforts in providing and disseminating Member State-specific document(s), to allocate the necessary budget to fund projects concerning the implementation of the rights of victims)

(The Report takes stock of how the EU Strategy towards the Eradication of Trafficking in Human Beings 2012-2016 has been implemented, from early 2012 to the third quarter of 2014. It highlights the most important elements of the EU’s legal and policy framework on THB and the efforts made to mainstream this work at regional, national, European and international levels. It addresses, inter alia, under Chapter 4, child-sensitive protection systems, children as a particularly vulnerable group, guardianship for children deprived of parental care)

(This first report addresses the Directive in the context of a strengthened protection and assistance framework for children, the best interests of the child, unaccompanied children, etc.)

(Report based on information from the Member States, EU Agencies, civil society and reports by relevant international organisations. Includes data for the period 2010-2012 and 2013-2014 on trafficking in human beings in the EU, including child trafficking; identifying trends in child trafficking and highlighting key needs, such as strengthening integrated child protection systems and their cross-border cooperation)
16.22. Transposition report – Report assessing the extent to which Member States have taken the necessary measures in order to comply with Directive 2011/36/EU on preventing and combating trafficking in human beings and protecting its victims in accordance with Article 23 (1) COM(2016) 722 final

(The report analyses the efforts made by Member States to transpose the Directive into their national laws. It also identified some room for improvement in particular with respect to: specific child protection measures, presumption of childhood and child age assessment, the protection before and during criminal proceedings, access to unconditional assistance, compensation, non-punishment, assistance and support to the family member of a child victim as well as prevention.)

16.23. Communication 'Reporting on the follow-up to the EU Strategy towards eradication of trafficking in human beings and identifying further concrete actions, COM(2017) 728 final

(Report based on information from the Member States, EU Agencies, civil society and reports by relevant international organisations. Includes sections on child trafficking and child protection. For further information and data refer to the Study on data collection on trafficking in human beings in the EU 2015-2016.)

16.25. Visas

16.26. Acquis

(many references to children throughout this document)

(See Article 13 on biometric identifiers (Article 13.1 and Article 13.7(a), Article, Article 16 on visa fee, Article 57 on monitoring and evaluation (Article 57.4) on finger prints of children)
16.29. Border management

16.30. Acquis

16.31. Commission Recommendation of 6 November 2006 (C(2006)5186 final) establishing a common "Practical handbook for border guards (Schengen Handbook)" to be used by Member States' competent authorities when carrying out the border control of persons (See Sections 2.2.4 and 3.7 on minors)

(The objective of the Handbook is to lay down guidelines, best practices and recommendations relating to the performance of border guard duties in the Schengen States, including in relation to children. Please note that the Schengen Handbook was amended several times – not all amendments have a specific reference to or mention of children.)

16.33. Amended by Commission Recommendation of 29 September 2009 (C(2009)7376 final) (Guidelines on the movement of Turkish nationals crossing EU external borders in order to provide services within the EU, no specific references to children)

16.34. Amended by Commission Recommendation of 16 August 2010 (C(2010)5559 final) (references to family members)

16.35. Amended by Commission Recommendation of 20 June 2011 (C(2011)3918 final) (guidance on invalidated travel documents containing a valid visa and to take into account the guidelines on marking of fraudulent documents)

16.38. Regulation (EU) No 1052/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 October 2013 establishing the European Border Surveillance System (Eurosur) (includes a reference to existing rights of the child/special needs of children, see Article 2.4 on scope; no new obligations)

(The Schengen Borders Code requires that border guards pay particular attention to children (Article 20 (1) (f) and point 6 of Annex VII)

(includes a lot of child protection aspects, e.g. best interest of the child (article 34 (3)), non-discrimination (article 21(4)), code of conduct (article 35(1)), specific training in the protection of children (article 36 (1)), staff with expertise in child protection (recital 37, article 18(5), article 29(2&4), article 30(2&4), article 31(2&4)).

16.41. Policy documents and Commission proposals

16.42. Communication from the Commission (COM (2016) 220 Final) to the Council - Assessment of Greece's Action Plan to remedy the serious deficiencies identified in the 2015 evaluation on the application of the Schengen acquis in the field of management of the external border

(As regards addressing the needs of children and other vulnerable persons, the Commission points out that the number of additional places dedicated for persons falling under these groups in Lesvos (18), Chios (25) and Kos (32) does not seem to be sufficient, given the high number of these persons observed. In the other two hotspots, in Leros and Samos, there is no existing or planned area with the capacity to accommodate groups of vulnerable persons)

16.44. Immigration and asylum

16.45. Acquis

16.46. Temporary protection

(Includes specific provisions for unaccompanied children)

16.48. Reception conditions

(The 'Reception Conditions Directive' includes provisions for children of asylum seekers (e.g. access to education) and for unaccompanied children. It is repealed for the Member States bound by that Directive with effect from 21 July 2015. For the other Member States, Directive 2003/9/EC remains in force.) (The UK is bound by the 2003 Directive, DK and IE are bound by neither of the two. All other Member States are bound by both Directives (by the current one until its repeal).)

(The ‘Reception Conditions Directive’ includes special guarantees for minor and unaccompanied minor asylum seekers - see in particular Recitals 9, 18, 22; Article 2 Definitions, Article 14 Schooling and education of minors, Provisions for vulnerable persons Article 21 General principles and Article 23 on Minors.) (The UK is bound by the 2003 Directive, DK and IE are bound by neither of the two. All other Member States are bound by both Directives (by the current one until its repeal).)

16.51. Family reunification

(The 'Family reunification directive' includes specific provisions for unaccompanied children)

16.53. Dublin Regulation and EURODAC Regulation

16.54. Council Regulation No 343/2003 of 18 February 2003 establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an asylum application lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national

(The 'Dublin Regulation' includes provisions for reuniting unaccompanied children with family found on EU territory. Repealed by Regulation 604/2013 – see entry below in this Chapter)

(The 'Dublin Implementing Regulation' (Regulation 1560/2003) includes provisions on the cooperation between Member States for reuniting unaccompanied children with family found on EU territory. The Implementing Regulation was amended and supplemented by Commission Implementing Regulation 118/2014.

16.56. Regulation (EU) No 604/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013 establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an application for international protection lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national or a stateless person (recast)

(The recast emphasises the best interests of the child, expands the possibilities of reuniting children with siblings and other relatives, and provides for a mechanism for tracing family members on EU territory – see in particular Recitals 13, 16, 24 and 35, Article 2 (Definitions), Article 6 (Guarantees for minors), Article 8 (Minors), Article 16 (Dependent persons) and see also statement by the Council, the European Parliament and the Commission annexed to the Regulation.)

16.57. Regulation (EU) No 603/2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 June 2013 on the establishment of 'Eurodac' for the comparison of fingerprints for the effective application of Regulation (EU) No 604/2013 establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an application for international protection lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national or a stateless person and on requests for the comparison with Eurodac data by Member States’ law enforcement authorities and Europol for law enforcement purposes, and amending Regulation (EU) No 1077/2011 establishing a European Agency for the operational management of large-scale IT systems in the area of freedom, security and justice

(The ‘EURODAC’ Regulation which entered into force on 20 July 2015 contains special guarantees for children. The best interest of the child should be a primary consideration for Member States when applying this Regulation. In cases where it is established that Eurodac data pertain to a child, these data may only be used for law enforcement purposes in accordance with that requesting Member State’s laws applicable to children and in accordance with the obligation to give primary consideration to the best interest of the child. Furthermore, the procedure for taking fingerprints shall be determined and applied in accordance with the national practice of the Member States and with the safeguards laid down in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, in the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms and in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child.)

16.58. Proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Regulation (EU) No 604/2013 as regards determining the Member State responsible for examining the application for international protection of unaccompanied minors with no family member, sibling or relative legally present in a Member State (COM(2014) 382 final)

(See in particular amendments to Article 12 on unaccompanied children, Annex VIII Standard form for the exchange of information relating to an unaccompanied child and Annex XI Information for unaccompanied children who are applying for international protection)

16.60. Asylum procedures

(The ‘Asylum procedures directive’ includes provisions for unaccompanied children. Repealed by Directive 2013/32/EU for all Member States except DK, IE, and UK (see entry below in this chapter). For IE and UK this directive remains in force. DK is bound by neither of the two directives.)

(The ‘Asylum procedures directive’ includes special guarantees for minor and unaccompanied minor asylum seekers – see in particular Recital 33; Article 2 Definitions, Article 15(e) on interviews with children and Article 24 on guarantees for unaccompanied minors. This directive applies to all Member States except DK, IE and UK. Directive 2005/85/EC remains in force for IE and UK. DK is not bound by either of the two directives.)
16.63. Relocation

16.64. Council Decision (EU) 2015/1523 of 14 September 2015 establishing provisional measures in the area of international protection for the benefit of Italy and of Greece

(When implementing this decision, MS shall consider the bests interests of the child as a primary consideration and ensure that family members are relocated to the same MS, Article 6.1, 6.2.)

16.65. Council Decision (EU) 2015/1601 of 22 September 2015 establishing provisional measures in the area of international protection for the benefit of Italy and Greece

(When implementing this decision, MS shall consider the best interests of the child as a primary consideration and ensure that family members are relocated to the same Member State, Article 6.1, 6.2.)

16.66. Council Decision (EU) 2016/1754 amending Decision (EU) 2015/1601 establishing provisional measures in the area of international protection for the benefit of Italy and Greece

16.67. Return

(The 'Return directive' includes provisions on the best interests of the child, right to education, and unaccompanied children (see Articles 5, 10, 14 and 17))

The use of detention for the purpose of removal is subject to the principles of necessity and proportionality with regard to the means used and objectives pursued. Detention is justified only to prepare the return or carry out the removal process when there is a concrete risk of absconding or a person concerned avoids or hampers the preparation of return or the removal process, and if the application of less coercive measures would not be sufficient. This means that in general detention can only be used as a means of last resort and if there is a reasonable prospect of removal. Persons in detention must be treated in a humane and dignified manner with respect for their fundamental rights and in compliance with international and national law. They should be accommodated as a rule in specialised detention facilities. With regard to children, the best interests of the child shall be a primary consideration in the context of detention of children pending removal. Given the exceptionality of detention measures, which are a last resort and to be applied for the shortest appropriate period of time, the Directive sets several additional safeguards for children in detention with the aim of ensuring their best interests pending the removal procedure. These safeguards are:

- Families detained pending removal shall be provided with separate accommodation guaranteeing adequate privacy
- Access to leisure activities which are appropriate to the age of the child
- Access to education, depending on the duration of stay before return
- In particular with regard to unaccompanied children, Article 17 provides that they have to be, as far as possible, provided with accommodation in institutions with personnel and facilities which take into account the needs of persons of their age.
16.69. Qualification

16.70. Directive 2011/95/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 13 December 2011 on standards for the qualification of third-country nationals or stateless persons as beneficiaries of international protection, for a uniform status for refugees or for persons eligible for subsidiary protection, and for the content of the protection granted (recast)

(Article 2(l) provides a definition of ‘unaccompanied minor’; Article 20 on protection of vulnerable persons includes provisions for children and the best interests of the child; Article 31 lays down specific guarantees for unaccompanied children).

(Repealed as of 21 December 2013 by Directive 2011/95/EU for those Member States bound by Directive 2011/95/EU (see entry below in this Chapter). For UK and IE Directive 2004/83/EC remains in force. DK is bound by neither of these directives.)

16.72. Policy documents and Commission proposals

16.73. Immigration and asylum

(Page 15 and 16 references to protecting children: The European Agenda for Migration puts a particular emphasis on the need to protect children and to follow up on the Action Plan on Unaccompanied Minors. This work is now under way, to employ a comprehensive approach for the protection of children throughout the migration chain. Priority for the vulnerable, and in particular unaccompanied children, is also built into the relocation process. Child protection and child safeguarding are planned to be fully integrated into the hotspots. In particular Annex 6 on actions for the protection of children in children in migration)

16.77. Communication from the Commission (COM (2016) 141 Final) to the European Parliament and the Council: Progress report on the implementation of the hotspots in Greece

(It reports about recommendation and status, including on the reception of unaccompanied children)

16.78. Communications from the Commission to the European Parliament, the European Council and the Council on relocation and resettlement:

First report on relocation and resettlement COM(2016) 165 final
Second report on relocation and resettlement COM(2016) 222 final
Third report on relocation and resettlement COM (2016) 360 final Fourth report on relocation and resettlement COM (2016) 416 final Fifth report on relocation and resettlement COM (2016) 480 final
Sixth report on relocation and resettlement COM (2016) 636 final

(These reports include information on the relocation of unaccompanied children including the data on arrivals, profiles, number of unaccompanied children so far relocated, as well as actions to address challenges related to the relocation of vulnerable applicants, including unaccompanied children.)

16.79. Communication from the Commission (COM (2016) 377 Final) to the European Parliament, the Council, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on an Action Plan on the integration of third country nationals

(Education: children, regardless of their family or cultural background or gender, have the right to education to further their development. Early Childhood Education and Care is fundamental for the integration of families and children from third countries. Investing in Early Childhood Education and Care has proven effective in tackling poverty and social exclusion, and making sure that all children are given the chance to realise their full potential. Gaining an understanding of the laws, culture and values of the receiving society is crucial for third country nationals to understand the responsibilities linked with their new life in the receiving society and actively participate in it. The document also include Commission planned actions in this field as well as recommendations for Member States)

16.80. Communications from the Commission to the European Parliament, the European Council and the Council on progress in the implementation of the EU-Turkey Statement:

First Report on the progress made in the implementation of the EU-Turkey Statement (COM (2016) 231 Final)

Second Report on the progress made in the implementation of the EU-Turkey Statement (COM (2016) 349 Final)

Third Report on the progress made in the implementation of the EU-Turkey Statement (COM (2016) 634 Final)

(Reference is made to children, as they are included under the UN vulnerability criteria.)

16.81. Proposal (COM(2016) 270 final) for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an application for international protection lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national or a stateless person (recast)

(Under the new system, the rights of unaccompanied children are strengthened and the assessment of the best interests of the child reinforced. The proposal clarifies that the Member
State where the child first lodged his or her application for international protection will be the one responsible, unless it is demonstrated that this is not in the best interests of the child. Before transferring an unaccompanied child to another Member State, the transferring Member State will have to make sure that the receiving Member State will take the necessary measures to safeguard their rights without delay.

16.82. Proposal (COM(2016) 272 final) for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the establishment of 'Eurodac' for the comparison of fingerprints for the effective application of [Regulation (EU) No 604/2013 establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an application for international protection lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national or a stateless person], for identifying an illegally staying third-country national or stateless person and on requests for the comparison with Eurodac data by Member States' law enforcement authorities and Europol for law enforcement purposes

(The proposal reinforces the special procedural guarantees that are available for vulnerable persons, and in particular those foreseen for unaccompanied children. The best interests of the child continue to be the primary consideration in all procedures applicable to unaccompanied children. The Commission has foreseen several measures aimed to secure prompt and effective guardianship for these children. Special procedures, such as accelerated examination and border procedures, can only be applied to unaccompanied children in limited and justified circumstances.)

16.84. Proposal (COM(2016) 466 final) for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on standards for the qualification of third-country nationals or stateless persons as beneficiaries of international protection, for a uniform status for refugees or for persons eligible for subsidiary protection and for the content of the protection granted and amending Council Directive 2003/109/EC of 25 November 2003 concerning the status of third-country nationals who are long-term residents

(The proposal ensures that reception conditions are adapted to the specific situation of children, whether unaccompanied or within families, with due regard to their security, physical and emotional care and are provided in a manner that encourages their general development. The proposal does not change the fact that, in application of Article 37 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, as a rule, minors should not be detained. However, as it is already the case in the current Reception Conditions Directive, as a last resort, children may be detained with their families and unaccompanied children may detained, but only in exceptional circumstances.)

(The Communication aims to set out a series of coordinated and effective actions to address the main protection gaps and needs that children face once they reach Europe, ranging from their identification, reception, implementation of procedural safeguards, as well as establishment of durable solutions.

It refers also to cross-cutting actions at all migratory stages, such as using better and in a more targeted way EU financial support, improving data collection on children in migration and providing training to all those working with children in migration. The principle of best interests of the child must be the primary consideration in all actions or decisions concerning children.)

16.89. Conclusions (10085/17) of the Council of the European Union and the representatives of the governments of the Member States on the protection of children in migration (8 June 2017)

16.91. Council conclusions on the application of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights in 2016 (12 October 2017)

EU and national actions should particularly take into account the serious risks of abuse and exploitation, for example by smugglers and human traffickers, with women and children facing greater risks of violence and discrimination (point 13.). Section c) on rights of the child: (point 14.) the Council highlights the importance of the protection of children and respect for the principle of the best interests of the child as a primary consideration in all actions affecting children. (Point 15.) the Council underlines that cooperation and dialogue with stakeholders are key to ensure the respect of children’s rights, and notably through the exchange of good practices, which should be further developed. It recalls the Annual Forum on the rights of the child, the informal Member States expert group on the rights of the child as well as the Commission’s initiative to establish a European guardianship network.

16.93. Unaccompanied children

Includes a focus on prevention of unsafe migration and a child protection system approach in the country of origin is expressly articulated.

16.96. Return

16.97. Commission recommendation of 1.10.2015 establishing a common "Return handbook" to be used by Member States' competent authorities when carrying out return related tasks

(The Return Handbook specifies as vulnerable persons, among others, minors, unaccompanied minors, single parents with minor children (Chapter 1); it includes a section of unaccompanied minors (Chapter 10), providing a number of safeguards, and stating that action must take into account the "best interests of the child"; assistance of appropriate bodies other than the authorities enforcing return shall be granted with due consideration being given to the "best interests of the child"; return of the unaccompanied minor from the territory of a MS to a family member, a nominated guardian or adequate reception facilities; among the cited safeguards pending return (Chapter 12), are grant of access to basic education system (subject to the length of their stay); detention of unaccompanied minors and families with families shall only be a measure of last resort and for the shortest appropriate period of time (Chapters 14 and 16).)

(In its Recommendation of 7 March 2017 on making returns more effective when implementing the Directive 2008/115/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council, the Commission encouraged Member States not to preclude the possibility to place children in detention in full compliance with the safeguards set by the Directive, where this is strictly necessary to ensure the execution of a final return decision insofar as Member States are not able to ensure less coercive measures than detention that can be applied effectively in view of ensuring effective return. Measures should also be taken to ensure that a viable range of effective alternatives to detention are available and used in the Member States.)

The 2017 version of the Handbook contains child-specific guidance on the right to be heard in Chapter 12 on procedural safeguards (in particular Section 12.1 on right to good administration and right to be heard).

Revised Chapter 16 on detention of minors and families provides that the best interests of the child must always be a primary consideration in the context of detention of minors and families; Member States are encouraged to involve child protection bodies in all matters related to detention and, where there are grounds for detention, everything possible must be done to ensure that a viable range of effective alternatives to detention for minors (both unaccompanied and with their families) is available and accessible. Chapter 16 refers to UNHCR and FRA's examples of good practices on alternatives to detention for unaccompanied minors and families with children. The Commission recommends that national legislation should not preclude the possibility to place minors in detention, where this is strictly necessary to ensure the execution of a final return decision, and insofar as less coercive measures cannot be applied effectively in the individual case.

Revised Chapter 14 in the part on the obligation to provide for effective alternatives for detention (14.1), indicates that Member States must provide in national law for alternatives to detention. Revised Chapter 14.1 indicates also that examples of alternatives to detention include residence restrictions, open houses for families, (...), and refers to UNHCR's practical examples of good practices on alternatives to detention.

(See page 8 on the Return Handbook, page 10 on unaccompanied children, detention conditions of children on page 18, assistance to unaccompanied children on page 19)
16.102. Judicial cooperation in civil matters

16.103. Acquis

16.105. Council Decision (2008/431/EC) of 5 June 2008 authorising certain Member States to ratify, or accede to, in the interest of the European Community, the 1996 Hague Convention on Jurisdiction, Applicable Law, Recognition, Enforcement and Cooperation in respect of Parental Responsibility and Measures for the Protection of Children and authorising certain Member States to make a declaration on the application of the relevant internal rules of Community law

(The 'Brussels IIa Regulation' contains several provisions on the best interests of the child (Articles 12, 15 and 23) and several provisions on the child's right to be heard (Articles 11, 23, 41, 42).

(Includes provisions on the best interests of children in Article 7 (confidentiality of mediation); Article 4 covers quality of mediation, including training)

(Article 46 includes provisions for free legal aid in respect of applications through central authorities concerning maintenance to children (below the age of 21))

(Recital 53 and Article 27.3 on formal validity of dispositions of property upon death made in writing include references to minors and age)

The Regulation, which applies from 16 February 2019, is based on Art 21 TFEU on the free movement of citizens. It aims at cutting red tape and costs for citizens who need to present to the authorities of a Member State a public document issued by the authorities of another Member State. The Regulation covers public documents (for example, court documents, administrative certificates and notarial acts) issued in certain areas that may concern children such as name, birth, parenthood, adoption and nationality. Within the scope of the Regulation, public documents must be accepted as authentic by the authorities of another Member State without such documents being accompanied by proof of authenticity such as legalisation or an apostille stamp.

It is important to note that the Regulation deals with the authenticity of the public documents (that is, their formal evidentiary value) but not with the recognition in another Member State of their content or effects. The recognition of the content or effects of public documents is currently governed by national law and therefore depends on the law of the Member State where the public document is presented. However, when applying their national law, Member States must respect Union law, including the case law of the Court of Justice, on the free movement of citizens within the Union.

The recognition based on national law of the content or effects of public documents concerning the status of children (for example, their name, birth, parenthood, adoption and nationality) is generally without difficulties in all Member States except in those where same-sex families are not known in national law. This poses difficulties for the free movement of, in particular, children of same-sex families.

Union rules on the recognition between Member States of the content or effects of public documents concerning the status of children (or of citizens in general) would require a legislative initiative (unless the Court of Justice rules before on the free movement of all citizens beyond the Coman judgment). When considering proposals for legislative measures, the Commission must assess the feasibility of their adoption by the legislator. To date, the adoption by the legislator of legislative measures as regards the recognition of the status of citizens has not been considered feasible.
16.112. Policy documents and Commission proposals

(The “Brussels IIa Recast” Regulation which will apply from 1 August 2022 will lead to substantial improvements in judicial cooperation in matters of parental responsibility for the particular benefit of the children concerned. The new rules amend several aspects of the existing Brussels IIa Regulation and lay down in particular: (i) full abolition of exequatur for all decisions in matters of parental responsibility ensuring free circulation of judgments, (ii) clearer rules on the opportunity for the child to express his/her views with the introduction of an obligation to give the child a genuine and effective opportunity to express his/her views (iii) enhanced effectiveness of the procedures which will be achieved through clear deadlines for the child’s return procedure and a minimum harmonisation of the refusal/suspension grounds for enforcement. Moreover, clearer rules on cooperation between Central Authorities will increase their effectiveness and thereby help parents and their children.)

16.120.Criminal law

16.121.Acquis

(Article 3.3 of the Framework Decision on the European arrest warrant includes, as grounds for mandatory non-execution of the European Arrest Warrant, cases where a child is below the minimum age of criminal responsibility (MACR). It means that if, according to the national law of the executing Member State, a child is below the minimum age of responsibility, the executing judicial authority must refuse the execution of such arrest warrant.)

(Council Framework Decision 2008/909/JHA is relevant for young offenders and children of imprisoned parents. Article 3 specifies the purpose of the framework decision: facilitation of social rehabilitation - Article 4 provides criteria for forwarding a judgment and certificate to another Member State: references to where a person 'lives' incorporating elements of family ties (see Recitals 9 and 17). Article 7 contains provisions on recognition of judgments and enforcements of sentence, without verification of double criminality, for crimes of sexual exploitation of children and child pornography. Article 9 (g) grounds for refusal provides that the executing State may refuse to recognise the judgment and enforce the sentence if the sentence has been imposed on a person who, under the law of the executing State, could not be held criminally liable for the acts in respect of which the judgment was issued). It should be noted that this is an optional ("may refuse") and not a mandatory ground for refusal.

16.124. Council Framework Decision 2008/947/JHA of 27 November 2008 on the application of the principle of mutual recognition to judgments and probation decisions with a view to the supervision of probation measures and alternative sanctions

(Framework Decision 2008/947/JHA is relevant for young offenders and children of sentenced/imprisoned parents - Article 1: states that FD aims at facilitating the social rehabilitation of sentenced persons; Recitals 8 and 14 refer to family, Article 9 covers recognition, without verification of double criminality, for crimes of sexual exploitation of children and child pornography. Article 11(g) allows refusal in case of absence of criminal liability in executing State due to age.)

16.125. Council Framework Decision 2009/829/JHA of 23 October 2009 on the application, between Member States of the European Union, of the principal of mutual recognition to decisions on supervision measures as an alternative to provisional detention (Council Framework Decision 2009/829/JHA is relevant for young offenders and children of sentenced parents. FD has threefold objective: (a) to ensure the due course of justice and, in particular, that the person concerned will be available to stand trial; (b) to promote, where appropriate, the use, in the course of criminal proceedings, of non-custodial measures for persons who are not resident in the Member State where the proceedings are taking place; (c) to improve the protection of victims and of the general public.)

16.126. Council Framework Decision 2009/315/JHA of 26 February 2009 on the organisation and content of the exchange of information extracted from the criminal record between Member States

(Provides for the exchange of criminal records of EU citizens among Member States, with some limitations, for the purposes of criminal proceedings, but also for other purposes (such as employment relating to the supervision of children) to prevent concealment of child-related offences. See Recitals 12 and 15, Articles 6, 7, 9. Note that most limitations have been removed by the adoption of Directive 2011/93/EU above on combating the sexual abuse and sexual exploitation of children.)

(Directive 2010/64/EU does not contain any specific separate provisions for children but generally applies to child suspects/accused during criminal proceedings and proceedings for execution of a European Arrest Warrant. Article states that 2 Member States shall ensure that suspected or accused persons who do not speak or understand the language of the criminal proceedings concerned are provided, without delay, with interpretation during criminal proceedings before investigative and judicial authorities, including during police questioning, all court hearings and any necessary interim hearings. Interpretation should also be available for communication with legal counsel. This directive is binding for UK and IE, both opted in (see recital 35). Denmark does not take part in this directive (see recital 36). It had to be transposed by Member States on 27 October 2013.)

(Recital 15 and Article 7 on child subjects of a European protection order (needs of particularly vulnerable victims such as children))

(The directive applies to all suspects and accused persons in criminal proceedings, including children. It provides for the right to information about procedural rights (Article 3). According to Article 3(2) Member States shall ensure that the information provided for under para 1 shall be given orally or in writing, in simple and accessible language, taking into account any particular needs of vulnerable suspects or vulnerable accused persons. Moreover, recital 26 foresees that "competent authorities should pay particular attention to persons who cannot understand the content or meaning of the information, for example because of their youth or their mental or physical condition." In case of arrest or detention (Article 4) and in European Arrest Warrant proceedings (Article 5), a written Letter of Rights shall be provided. The directive also ensures for suspects and accused persons (including children) the right to information about the accusation and the right of access to the materials of the case. This
Directive is binding for UK and IE, both opted in (see recital 44). Denmark does not take part in this directive (see recital 45). It had to be transposed by Member States on 2 June 2014.

(Extensive provisions for children: See Recital 14 on best interests of the child and right to be heard, Recital 17 on children of victims of gender-based violence, Recital 19 on rights of child victims, Recital 38, Recital 42 on right to be heard, Recital 54 on privacy, Recital 57 on secondary or repeat victimisation, Recital 60 on child's guardian or representative, Recital 66 on rights of the child, Recital 69 on more far-reaching provisions on victims of trafficking or victims of child sexual abuse, sexual exploitation or child pornography taking precedence; Article 1 on child's best interests and a child-sensitive approach, Article 2 definition of a child, Article 10 on right to be heard, Article 21 on privacy, Article 22.4 on individual assessment of child's special protection needs, Article 23 on special measures (adapted premises, trained professionals, etc.), Article 24 on child victims, Article 26 on cooperation and coordination of services, and note Article 28 on provision of data and statistics.)

16.132. Directive 2013/48/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 22 October 2013 on the right of access to a lawyer in criminal proceedings and in European arrest warrant proceedings, and on the right to have a third party informed upon deprivation of liberty and to communicate with third persons and with consular authorities while deprived of liberty

(The directive applies to all suspects and accused persons in criminal proceedings, including children. Article 5, which deals with the right to have a third person informed of deprivation of liberty, contains specific rules for children defined as persons below the age of 18 years (see Article 5(2) second sentence). The Directive foresees that the holder of parental responsibility of the child is informed as soon as possible of the deprivation of liberty and of the reasons pertaining thereto, unless it would be contrary to the best interests of the child, in which case another appropriate adult shall be informed (see Article 5(2) first sentence). With the purpose to avoid that children could be held incommunicado Member States need to make sure that at least an authority responsible for the protection or welfare of children is informed in cases where a possible temporary derogation is applied18 (see Article 5(4). Recitals 52 and 55 contain additional explanations.

UK and IE opted out (see recital 58). DK does not take part either (see recital 59). For all other Member States the directive, which had to be transposed by 27 November 2016, is binding.)

18 Member States legislation may allow for derogations only where justified in the light of the particular circumstances of the case on the basis of one of the following compelling reasons:
(a) where there is an urgent need to avert serious adverse consequences for the life, liberty or physical integrity of a person;
(b) where there is an urgent need to prevent a situation where criminal proceedings could be substantially jeopardised.

(The directive applies to children (persons below the age of 18 years) who are suspects or accused in criminal proceedings or subject to a European arrest warrant proceeding. It does not apply to other types of proceedings, in particular proceedings which are specially designed for children and which may lead to corrective or educative measures (see recital 17). This is a horizontal legislative instrument foreseeing procedural safeguards for children who are suspects or accused in criminal proceedings. It applies until the final conviction. It contains notably provisions on (mandatory) assistance by a lawyer in specific circumstances (Article 6), a particular right to information for children (Article 4), a right to have the holder of parental responsibility informed (Article 5) and to be accompanied by the holder of parental responsibility (Article 15), a right to an individual assessment (Article 7), a right to a medical examination (Article 8), rules on audio-visual recording of questioning (Article 9), safeguards in case of deprivation of liberty and detention (Articles 10-12) such as limitation of deprivation of liberty, alternative measures and specific treatment in case of deprivation of liberty, including separate detention of children from adults, a right to protection of privacy (Article 14), a right to appear in person at, and to participate in trial (Article 16), a right to legal aid (Article 18), as well as provisions on training and costs (Articles 20 and 22). UK and IE opted out (see recital 69). DK does not take part either (see recital 70). For all other Member States, the directive is binding. It needs to be transposed by Member States by 11 June 2019.)

(The directive applies to all suspects and accused persons in criminal proceedings. It lays down minimum rules concerning the right to legal aid for suspects and accused persons in criminal proceedings and persons who are subject of European arrest warrant proceedings. This directive complements Directives 2013/48/EU and (EU) 2016/800. Article 9 foresees that the particular needs of vulnerable suspects, accused persons and requested persons should be taken into account in the implementation of the directive. UK and IE opted out (see recital 32). DK does not take part either (see recital 33). For all other Member States, the directive is binding. It needs to be transposed by Member States by 5 May 2019.)

(The directive applies to all natural persons who are suspects and accused persons in criminal proceedings. It lays down minimum rules concerning certain aspects of the presumption of innocence in criminal proceedings and the right to be present at the trial in criminal proceedings. The directive applies also to children involved in criminal proceedings and foresees in recital 43 that “children are vulnerable and should be given a specific degree of protection. Therefore, in respect of some of the rights provided for in this directive, specific procedural safeguards should be established (see in this context Directive (EU) 2016/800, mentioned above).
UK and IE opted out (see recital 50). DK does not take part either (see recital 51). For all other Member States, the directive is binding. It had to be transposed by Member States by 1 April 2018.

Some examples of environment legislation are provided. They do not explicitly mention children. However, they were framed with a sense that children would be amongst the main beneficiaries, particularly with regard to the safeguarding of human health in relation to environmental pollutants.

19.1. Acquis

(Children are not explicitly mentioned, but the Ozone Directive aims at notifying populations of harmful ground level ozone exposure. The thresholds take account of vulnerable populations including children.)

(introduced a stricter standard for lead, in line with WHO advice, in view of the detrimental effect on children's cognitive development of excessive levels of lead – see Recital 13)

(aims at eliminating or reducing the exposure of bathers to pollutants in bathing water. Although children are not specifically mentioned, the fact that bathers include children arguably has practical consequences for the Directive's interpretation (e.g. paddling in shallow water) – see Article 3 on monitoring: "The monitoring point shall be the location within the bathing water where: (a) most bathers are expected; ...")

(The Impact Assessment Directive gives the public concerned by a wide range of public and private projects (e.g. the execution of construction works or of other installations or schemes, or other interventions in the vicinity including those involving the extraction of mineral resources) a right to participate in decision-making. This includes projects that may raise health and safety concerns for children living in their vicinity.)

20. CHAPTER 28: CONSUMER AND HEALTH PROTECTION

20.1. Acquis

20.2. Directive 87/357/EEC of 25 June 1987 on the approximation of the laws of the Member States concerning products which, appearing to be other than they are, endanger the health or safety of consumers

(Recital on barriers to the free movement of goods and unequal competitive conditions without ensuring effective protection for consumers, especially children, and Article 1(2) on the likelihood for children to confuse non-food products with foodstuffs)

20.3. Directive 2001/20/EC of 4 April 2001 on the approximation of the laws, regulations and administrative provisions of the Member States relating to the implementation of good clinical practice in the conduct of clinical trials on medicinal products for human use

(Recital 3 on vulnerabilities of children – see new proposal just below)

(Addressing the risks for children posed by certain products)

20.6. Commission Implementing Decision (EU) 2016/575 of 29 March 2016 extending the validity of Decision 2006/502/EC requiring Member States to take measures to ensure that only lighters which are child-resistant are placed on the market and to prohibit the placing on the market of novelty lighters

(The revised Tobacco Products Directive, which repeals the current Directive 2001/37/EC, aims to improve the functioning of the EU’s internal market for tobacco products whilst assuring a high level of public health by reducing smoking initiation, in particular amongst young people/children. Its various measures include large mandatory picture and text health warnings for cigarette and roll-your-own tobacco packs, the prohibition of characterising flavours in these products and the prohibition of misleading elements on tobacco packs.)

20.9. Policy documents and Commission proposals

20.10. Commission Decision of 3 March 2004 setting up Scientific Committees in the field of consumer safety, public health and the environment (Text with EEA relevance)

(Children are not explicitly mentioned, but Scientific Committees will work in the interests of, inter alia, children)

20.12. (The Communication discusses building mental health in infants, children and adolescents as a contribution to promoting the mental health of the population.) Commission Decision of 11 May 2006 requiring Member States to take measures to ensure that only lighters which are child-resistant are placed on the market and to prohibit the placing on the market of novelty lighters

(Most recitals and articles refer to the risk to children's safety and/or child-resistance requirements)

(Includes specific provisions for minors, a minor being 'a subject who is, according to the laws of the Member State concerned, under the age of legal competence to give informed consent' See Recital 65 on rights of the child, Article 31 on clinical trials on minors and Article 32 on clinical trials in emergency situations

See consumer protection Chapter 24: consumer law

20.14. Communication from the Commission to the Council, the European Parliament, the European Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions - An EU strategy to support Member States in reducing alcohol related harm

(See Chapter 5.1 and 5.4 on the protection of the unborn child, children and under-age from alcohol-related harm)

20.15. Council Conclusions of 1 December 2009 on alcohol and health (2009/C 302/07)

(Invites the Commission to consider further steps to protect children from alcohol related harm, in particular to reduce under-age drinking and harm to children growing up in families with alcohol problems)
20.16. Council Conclusion of 7 December 2015 on an EU strategy on the reduction of alcohol related harm

20.17. Council Conclusions of 6 June 2011 on Childhood immunisation: successes and challenges of European childhood immunisation and the way forward

(The Council conclusions invite Member States inter alia to make efforts to maintain and strengthen their processes and procedures for offering vaccines to children with unknown or uncertain vaccination history, to make efforts to maintain and strengthen public trust in childhood immunisation programmes and the benefits of vaccination, and to identify under-vaccinated groups and ensure their equitable access to childhood vaccinations.)

(The Council Conclusions invite Member States to strengthen mental health promotion of children and young people by supporting positive parenting skills, holistic school approaches to reduce bullying and to increase social and emotional competences as well as supporting families where a parent has a mental disorder.)

(In February 2014 the High Level Group agreed on an Action Plan on Childhood Obesity, voluntary initiatives to contribute to halting the rise in childhood obesity by 2020. The Plan covers, inter alia, health, diet, physical activity, marketing and advertising, and what can be done in school to promote healthier environments.)

20.20. Council conclusions on nutrition and physical activity from 20 June 2014

(The Council conclusions on nutrition and physical activity call for Member State action on Nutrition and Physical Activity, especially on children. It mentions the need to "Report back to the Council by 2017 and again in 2020 on the progress made in implementing the EU Action Plan on Childhood Obesity 2014-2020 as well as on other initiatives implemented in the context of the Strategy for Europe on Nutrition, Overweight and Obesity related health issues". Council Conclusions of 17 November 2011 on prevention, early diagnosis and treatment of chronic respiratory diseases in children (Con. 12/11)

20.21. Draft Council conclusions on the promotion of motor skills, physical and sport activities for children from 4 November 2015

(The Draft Council conclusions on the promotion of motor skills, physical and sport activities for children considers the importance to raise awareness of the importance of developing physical and sporting activities suitable for young people (Con. 12-16))

21. CHAPTER 30: EXTERNAL RELATIONS

21.1. Policy documents and EEAS or Commission proposals

(Revised in 2017, the Guidelines provide an overview of the EU's policy on the rights of the child in the EU external action. The document promotes a systems-strengthening approach while identifying all the necessary measures, structures and actors which need to be in place to protect the rights of all children. EEAS reports on the implementation of the Guidelines to EU member States on an annual basis (COHOM).

21.3. Council Conclusions of 26-27 May 2008 on the promotion and protection of the rights of the child in the European Union's external action – the development and humanitarian dimensions

(Identifies rights of the child as one of three cross-cutting themes for a targeted EU campaign rights of the child – building on the "EU agenda for the rights of the child" and both sets of EU guidelines on children)

(Objective nº 15 encompasses the promotion, protection and fulfilment of children's rights and foresees actions on support partner countries to promote, protect and fulfil children's rights, including in the area of child protection, and to promote the ratification of the Optional Protocols to the UNCRC.

Through the objective no. 20b, EU and EUMS committed to support the work of the UN Special Representative for Children and Armed Conflict and notably support the development, implementation and monitoring of Action Plans to end and prevent grave violations against children affected by armed conflict, including through advocacy and programming activities.)

21.11. Council Conclusions of 14 June 2010 on child labour

(see TRADE reference to 2013 staff working document)
21.12. Council Conclusions of 15 October 2012 on Social Protection in European Union Development Cooperation

(The Council recalled the importance to ensure universal and non-discriminatory access to essential services throughout the life cycle with particular attention to children).

21.13. Council Conclusions of 17 December 2014 (17016/14) on the Promotion and Protection of the rights of the child

(EU policy and political commitments with a gender-equality approach for girls and women)

21.15. Council Conclusions on the Gender Action Plan 2016-2020

(Conclusions on gender equality actions, including girls among the target group)

21.16. Council Conclusions on Child Labour (20 June 2016)

(The Council reaffirmed its strong commitment to ensuring every child is protected from child labour including its worst forms and stressed the importance of eradicating the recruitment and use of children in armed conflict including child soldiers.)

(The Council recalled the respect of core labour standards, such as child labour, and other ILO Conventions in trade agreements.)

21.20. Council Regulation (EU) 2016/369 of 15 March 2016 on the provision of emergency support within the Union

Council Conclusions adopting the revision of the EU Guidelines for the Promotion and Protection of the Rights of the Child (in external policy) (2017), Leave no child behind (6 March 2017)

(It reaffirms the EU’s commitment to comprehensively protect and promote the rights of the child in its external policy, in line with the provisions of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and its Optional Protocols and other relevant international standards and treaties. The Guidelines promote the system strengthening approach; they also institutionalisation among the risks facing children in vulnerable situations. The document highlights the importance of appropriate and quality alternative care for children that allows them to participate in community life, preventing family and child separation (section 5.A) and states that the primary consideration when considering any spending should be identification of the best interests of the child (see section 5.D). It further recommends improving coherence in the EU’s external action on children, including that carried out by Member States.)

In the chapter on “A Stronger Europe in the World” President von der Leyen requests that every new trade agreement concluded will have a dedicated sustainable-development chapter and the highest standards of climate, environmental and labour protection, with a zero-tolerance policy on child labour.

Building on the achievements of two previous EU Action Plans (2012-2014 and 2015-2019), the new action plan constitutes an ambitious roadmap setting the priorities on human rights and democracy in the EU’s external relations for the next five years.

(Conclusions refer to women's and girls’ rights)

21.39. European Consensus on Development (2017), as part of the EU response to the UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

21.40. A New Strategic Agenda for Europe agreed at European Council of 30 June 2019

Namely, “Protecting citizens and freedoms”, specifically: Determination to further develop a fully functioning comprehensive migration policy, deepening our cooperation with countries of origin and transit to fight illegal migration and human trafficking and to ensure effective returns

Building on and strengthening our fight against cross-border crime. Namely, “Promoting Europe’s values in the world” and specifically:

Lead the response to global challenges, by showing the way forward in cooperating with partner countries on migration

Namely, III “Partners for sustainable growth and jobs” specifically. Emphasis on inclusive and sustainable economic growth on both continents. The importance of economic opportunities and decent job creation in Africa and the EU could be substantially enhanced through joint action on four priority fronts. The most relevant for children in a development context would be increasing access to quality education, skills, research, innovation, health and social rights. Increasing employability, decent work opportunities, inclusive social protection systems and improved social rights contribute to eradicate child labour.

Namely, V “Partners on migration/mobility” specifically: Demographic trends, the aspiration for economic opportunity and political stability, flight from crises and conflicts, and adaptation to climate change and environmental degradation, all mean that the levels of migration and forced displacement will continue to pose both challenges and opportunities for our two continents.

To address such challenges Africa and the EU need a balanced, coherent and comprehensive approach to migration and mobility, guided by the principles of solidarity, partnership and shared responsibility and based on the respect for human rights and international law.

Across all activities, the EU will continue to pay particular attention to respecting its core values and in particular to taking into account the particular needs of persons in vulnerable situations, including women, children, unaccompanied minors and persons with disabilities.
21.42. Humanitarian aid

21.43. Policy documents and communications

21.44. Commission Communication (COM(2013)141 final) of 12 March 2013 on enhancing maternal and child nutrition in external assistance

23. EUROPEAN COURT OF JUSTICE CASE LAW

This is the result of a rapid review by a DG JUSTICE lawyer of approximately 1200 cases where one of the words: "child, children, baby, babies, minor, minors, infant, infants" was mentioned. In principle all ECJ cases are relevant for children as much as for adults. For this reason, it was decided to include solely the cases where the ECJ decision or assessment has been particularly influenced by the fact that a child is involved in the case.

Other criteria used in drawing up this list (in line with European Commission policy):

- a child is a person 0-17
- We do not cover cases about unborn children
- There are a lot of cases concerning equal access to parental leave which naturally involve children. However, the Court has always approached this matter from the point of view of equality between men and women or balance of working and private life and these are not therefore included
- The vast majority of cases concern social security of workers, family benefits and child allowances. They are referenced as the Court has clearly determined that these kind of allowances are given for children's benefit and not for the workers themselves
• Trade mark disputes at OHIM do not impact children as they determine the IP rights and obligations only for the parties interested and as such do not provide higher protection to children.

FRA has published in 2015 a Handbook on European law relating to the rights of the child in cooperation with the Council of Europe and the European Court of Human Rights. The handbook is designed to assist lawyers, judges, prosecutors, social workers, non-governmental organisations and other bodies confronted with legal issues relating to the rights of the child. It covers issues such as equality, personal identity, family life, alternative care and adoption, migration and asylum, child protection against violence and exploitation, as well as children’s rights within criminal justice and alternative proceedings. The handbook is the first comprehensive guide to European law in the area of child rights, taking into account both the case law of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) and the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU). It provides information on: the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights, relevant Regulations and Directives; the European Social Charter (ESC); decisions of the European Committee of Social Rights; other Council of Europe instruments; as well as on the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and other international instruments.

23.2. Judicial cooperation in civil matters

Preliminary ruling C-376/14 - Where a parent has lawfully removed a child from a Member State, in conformity with a judgment of a court of that State allowing it to do so, and has meanwhile settled in another Member State with the child, but a subsequent judgment on appeal reverses the decision at first instance and orders the return of the child, it is for the courts of the second State to determine whether the child has obtained habitual residence there by the time of the judgment on appeal.

Judgment C-656/13 on Brussels IIa Regulation – prorogation of jurisdiction under Article 12(3) –

(Article 12(3) of Council Regulation (EC) No 2201/2003 of 27 November 2003 concerning jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and the matters of parental responsibility, repealing Regulation (EC) No 1347/2000, must be interpreted as allowing, for the purposes of proceedings in matters of parental responsibility, the jurisdiction of a court of a Member State which is not that of the child’s habitual residence to be established even where no other proceedings are pending before the court chosen. Article 12(3)(b) of Regulation No 2201/2003 must be interpreted as meaning that it cannot be considered that the jurisdiction of the court seised by one party of proceedings in matters of parental responsibility has been ‘accepted expressly or otherwise in an unequivocal manner by all the parties to the proceedings’ within the meaning of that provision where the defendant in those first proceedings subsequently brings a second set of proceedings before the same court and, on taking the first step required of him in the first proceedings, pleads the lack of jurisdiction of that court.)

Judgment C-648/11 MA and Others – asylum, MS responsible for examining asylum application of unaccompanied minors, Article 24 of the Charter

Reference for a preliminary ruling from the Court of Appeal (England and Wales) (Civil Division) (United Kingdom)) - Regulation (EC) No 343/2003 (Dublin II) – Determining the Member State responsible for examining asylum applications lodged by unaccompanied minors who are third-country nationals – Several applications – Best interests of the minor

Question referred

In Regulation 343/2003/EC establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an asylum application lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national (OJ L50 25 February 2003 p. 1), where an applicant for asylum who is an unaccompanied minor with no member of his or her family legally present in another Member State has lodged claims for asylum in more than one Member State, which Member State does the second paragraph of article 6 make responsible for determining the application for asylum?

Judgment:

"The second paragraph of Article 6 of Council Regulation (EC) No 343/2003 of 18 February 2003 establishing the criteria and mechanisms for determining the Member State responsible for examining an asylum application lodged in one of the Member States by a third-country national must be interpreted as meaning that, in circumstances such as those of the main proceedings, where an unaccompanied minor with no member of his family legally present in the territory of a Member State has lodged asylum applications in more than one Member State, the Member State in which that minor is present after having lodged an asylum application there is to be designated the ‘Member State responsible’.

23.8. Social policy, social security, child allowances, maintenance obligations

Case C-308/14 Advocate General's Opinion Commission v United Kingdom – social security system – allowances for children - Checking whether claimants are lawfully resident in the host Member State in accordance with EU law when claims for certain social benefits are dealt with is justified by the necessity of protecting that State's public finances

Judgment C-5/12 Betriu Montull – Social policy – Right to leave of employed fathers – National legislation providing for the right of employed fathers who adopt a child, but not those who have a child by birth, to suspend their contract of employment and to return to the
