Third AFRICAN UNION - EUROPEAN UNION Agriculture Ministerial Conference

PROGRAMME

Rome, 21 June 2019

AGRICULTURE, OUR FUTURE
PROMOTING SUSTAINABLE REGIONAL AGRICULTURAL VALUE CHAINS
The 3rd AU-EU Ministers of Agriculture Conference is one of the exemplary ways of operationalizing the valuable partnership between Africa and Europe in the area of sustainable agriculture.

As partners with a long and consistent history of partnership, we are more than convinced that we are on the path where we desire to be and continuing to register stronger and more efficient cooperation not matched by other regions.

We are cognizant and welcome the vision enshrined in the new Africa-Europe Alliance for Sustainable Investment and Jobs as a promising initiative for realizing growth and development in Africa, Europe and beyond. The initiative is timely and compliments Africa’s own effort and landmark progress made towards an Africa Continent Free Trade Area which is expected to boost trade in agricultural commodities and services within Africa and on the global market scene.

Africa’s renewed commitment to the Comprehensive Africa Agriculture Development Programme (CAADP) is testament that Africa's agriculture-related initiatives that fall under my docket remains the sector prioritized to spur Africa's transformation in the coming years. I count on the AU-EU partnership instruments to support the delivery of Africa’s transformation agenda.

I commend the work undertaken by the Task Force Rural Africa since it was established in June 2018. It has given us all a very good focus on how to build on agri-food and rural agenda between our two continents.

The Task Force Report challenges us to do more, and do it effectively and in the most practical way. For the first time since we began this Conference, Task Force Rural Africa Report gave us the basis for planning the thematic areas to address. I applaud and welcome their recommendations in its entirety since they resonate with our focus in Africa.

Last but not least, the ministerial conference will allow us to reflect on joint work to understand what is working, what needs to be strengthened and the emerging issues we ought to take forward. Luckily, since 2014, African leaders already tasked us on ensuring mutual accountability on delivery of our various commitments towards Africa transformation. This conference is one of the mutual accountability processes to ourselves.

I wish all delegates fruitful deliberation, and a results-driven conference.

Josefa Sacko
African Union Commissioner for Rural Economy and Agriculture
FOREWORD

This Ministerial Conference is the latest – and a very important – step in the great journey of cooperation and partnership our two great continents are making together. Africa and Europe can be very proud of the fact that we are building an ever closer partnership of equals, especially given that this is a time when other global regions are loosening their ties and growing further apart.

I am convinced that the new Africa-Europe Alliance for Sustainable Investment and Jobs will be a strong force for progress and prosperity, not alone on our two continents but throughout the world.

And of course I am particularly proud that the policy area of agriculture and rural development is leading the way!

Every journey needs a roadmap, and thankfully we have a very good one.

In March 2019, the Task Force Rural Africa delivered the first report to outline concrete policy recommendations for the Alliance. We now have a roadmap for an agri-food and rural agenda between our two continents.

The report is not intended to just deliver nice words – it is all about action.

The Task Force Report calls on us to do more, to do better, and to do it differently. It is innovative in several ways. I welcome its call for a territorial approach to rural development. Our own experience in Europe shows that this is the right approach.

I also welcome the emphasis on partnership between Africa and Europe at three levels: people to people, business to business and government to government. Collective action between our societies, businesses and governments is the key to developing rural areas and the agri-food sector.

Finally, I welcome the focus in the Report on how the private sector can provide responsible investment to develop Africa’s agri-food industry and increase jobs, prosperity and food security.

This summit is a great opportunity to take stock of the progress we have already made, and elaborate further concrete actions. I wish all delegates the best of luck, and I hope you have an enjoyable and productive summit.
