EU average = 0.5 %

Proposed target (in Single Market Act) = 0.5 %

(EU average = 19.7 months)

EU Pilot

The average response time of Greece respects the 70-day benchmark in EU Pilot.

Internal Market Information System

- The overall performance of Greece in IMI is around the EU average.
- Compared to the last Scoreboard, Greek authorities took more time on average to reply to requests. The time taken to accept requests and the percentage of requests answered within the agreed deadline are in line with the EU average. Greece receives a high number of incoming requests especially in the area of professional qualifications.
- A closer and more attentive follow-up of incoming requests should be carried out to reduce the time to reply. This would better meet the needs of counterparts and result in much higher levels of satisfaction.

EURES

OAED, the Public Employment Service, is the EURES member organisation responsible for providing EURES services in Greece. There are currently 17 EURES Advisers in Greece. The overall performance is relatively good; however the ratio of placements resulting from contacts with jobseekers and employers could be improved.

Your Europe

Greece provides information, including in English, French and German, to citizens and enterprises on a national portal. Apart from attending one Editorial Board meeting, the country again did not contribute at all to Your Europe in 2013.

Greece should continue to invest in its national portal and, furthermore, commit itself to cooperate with the Commission services as regards Your Europe by:

- designating a permanent member of the Editorial Board;
- attending the Editorial Board meetings organised twice a year;
- providing all missing information on how Greece applies single market rules and replying to any further requests addressed to the Editorial Board member;
- raising awareness about Your Europe within the national administrations and among potential end users;
- linking national websites to Your Europe.
