Editing Service

Brussels, 28 March 2006

DGT's Editing Service (DGT-EDIT) has edited your English original document (RTD – Design measures to promote growth of young research-intensive SMEs and start-ups). We trust you find this service useful.

The editor's corrections are visible in the enclosed version only if you have Track changes switched on in Word XP and “Final Showing Markup”.

- The sections of text or individual words which the editor has deleted or inserted are in one colour only. The actual colour will depend on your own PC's setting for Track changes.
- If there are sections of text highlighted in yellow or green, this indicates that the editor was unsure of the desired meaning, and you are advised to check these passages and make them clearer. To get rid of the yellow/green highlighting, highlight the yellow/green portion once more and click on the yellow/green highlighter in the toolbar.

If you wish to accept any or all of the suggested revisions, you can do so by using the toolbar in Track changes (Accept changes) or by positioning the cursor on the marked portion of text, right-clicking and selecting "accept change" or "delete change".

If you have any problems, please get in touch with me (52098) or with the DGT-EDIT secretariat (55263), or simply send an e-mail to DGT-EDIT's functional mailbox.

Please also feel free to send us any feedback you might have, both negative and positive, and, for future reference, to draw our attention to any points where we have tried to correct usage which is conventional within your specialisation or service.
