EU Support in Jordan

€2.1 billion is the total EU assistance to Jordan since 2011.

Over 163,000 refugee children have received education in public schools and kindergartens.

660,000 Syrian refugees have received monthly transfers to cover their basic needs (health, food, rent).

Over 100,000 Syrian refugees had access to health services.

“I like the feeling of the pencil in my hand when I draw. My ambition is to become a professional fashion designer.”

This is the ‘Happy Walls’ initiative, part of the QUDRA project which increases social cohesion and dialogue between Syrian refugees and local community children.

Eesra is one of the over 655,000 Syrian refugees registered in Jordan (UNHCR, 31/01/2019).
