Addendum
Vienna Western Balkans Summit 2015

Annex 1

Connectivity

The connectivity agenda has been fuelled by political leadership given by the Berlin process and the reinforced cooperation of the Western Balkan 6. This has been combined with substantial technical efforts by the countries supported by SEETO and the Energy Community Secretariat.

This has allowed the Western Balkan countries to make significant progress on the connectivity agenda since the Summit last year. The results are reflected in the Summit conclusions. Given their significance, they are reflected in more detail in this connectivity annex:

The three core network corridors to be extended for the Western Balkans as well as priority projects along sections of these corridors and on other important sections of the core network for possible EU funding over the next six years are included on pages 2-3.

An overview of the 10 transport and energy infrastructure investment projects which are proposed for EU co-financing under the 2015 Instrument for Pre-Accession programme feature on page 4.

The 'soft' measures on transport and energy are listed on respectively pages 5-6 and 7-9. They include specific time lines for each measure, and progress with regard to their implementation will be reviewed at the next Summit in France in 2016.

The regional core transport network for road, rail and inland-waterways are included in the connectivity information package distributed separately at this Summit.
EXTENDING THE TRANS-EUROPEAN TRANSPORT NETWORK (TEN-T)

The vision for Trans-European Transport Networks (TEN-T) reflects that rail, road, air and sea transport links are seen as key drivers not just for closer integration between Member States and their peoples, but also for increasing economic competitiveness. The TEN-T has two layers: the “core network”, which carries the most important passenger and goods flows; and the “comprehensive network”, which ensures access to the core network. The “core network corridors” facilitate the development of the core network.

In June 2015, WB6 Transport Ministers met with EU Transport Commissioner, Violeta Bulc, at the TEN-T Days in Riga, and tentatively identified three core network corridors to be extended for the Western Balkans as well as priority projects along sections of these corridors for possible EU funding over the next six years.

Extending the core network corridors to the Western Balkans ensures closer integration with the EU as well as the basis for leveraging investment in infrastructure, such as EU support through the Western Balkans Investment Framework and the Connecting Europe Facility.

The core network corridors, once completed, will provide quality transport services for citizens and businesses, with seamless integration within the region as well as with the EU. The priority projects will help remove bottlenecks, promote interoperability, and build missing cross-border connections.
