The Western Balkans Investment Framework

A new approach to financial support

The Western Balkan region has strong growth potential. In recent years the region has outperformed other European economies, its governments making efforts towards macroeconomic stability and reform. However, the recent global crisis has also struck the region and a number of significant factors continue to hold the economy back. These factors include underdeveloped infrastructure networks, low levels of foreign direct investment, cumbersome administrative procedures and weak project preparation.

The European Commission, as the leading provider of grants to the region together with the Council of Europe Development Bank (CEB), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) and the European Investment Bank (EIB) as the leading providers of investment resources to the region, are committed to ensuring that their assistance is as effective as possible. The Western Balkans Investment Framework (WBIF) honours that commitment. It has two main objectives:

- pooling of grants, loans and expertise in order to prepare financing for priority investment projects;
- strengthening coherence and synergies among donors in order to increase the positive impact and visibility of investments in the Western Balkans.

What does the WBIF do?

The Western Balkans Investment Framework offers a new approach of addressing the region’s extensive and diverse investment needs. It consists of two key components:

- Joint Grant Facility (JGF), which pools grants from the European Commission’s budget, CEB, EBRD, EIB and bilateral donors;
- Joint Lending Facility (JLF), based on loans provided by CEB, EBRD and EIB and increased cooperation with other multilateral development and bilateral financial institutions.

The resources of the Joint Grant Facility are intended to be used primarily to support operations jointly financed by the institutions cooperating in the Joint Lending Facility. The Joint Grant Facility’s guiding principles are beneficiary demand, ownership and long-term sustainability. It is governed by a Steering Committee, providing strategic guidance on the WBIF operations and deciding on grant allocations. The Project Financiers’ Group is the ‘single entry’ point for grant support requests. It screens and assesses the requests received from beneficiaries and international financial institutions (IFIs) involved in the WBIF and submits proposals to the Steering Committee for approval. All project applications can be assessed by the technical services of the cofinancing IFIs and can benefit from Technical Assistance supervised by relevant experts.

How does the WBIF work?

Projects are selected on the basis of regional and/or country needs and their consistency with EU accession priorities. They may be targeted at improving environmental, energy or transport infrastructures, education, healthcare and other social needs. Alternatively, they may involve support to small and medium-sized business (SMEs) or the financial sector. Both private and public entities engaged in projects in the beneficiary countries are eligible for support. The grant approval and implementation process under the Joint Grant Facility has six phases:

I: Project identification, in close cooperation with beneficiary, National IPA Coordinator (NIPAC), Donor Coordination Offices and other relevant local stakeholders;
II: Submission of grant requests to the Project Financiers’ Group by the beneficiaries via NIPACs or by the partner IFIs in coordination with the NIPACs and Donor Coordination Offices;
III: Screening of submitted grant requests to verify eligibility and consistency of proposed projects with EU pre-accession policies;
IV: Assessing the long-term sustainability, technical and financial quality of project requests;
V: Submission of grant requests by the Project Financiers’ Group to the Steering Committee for its approval;
VI: Implementation of approved projects under the coordination of the Project Financiers’ Group.
