

Nr	Organisation	Coverage	Category	Description of pledge
1	Academy Cube	European		Academy Cube is a learning and matching platform for digital jobs with specific focus on the Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) area. Academy Cube's goal for 2020 is to have at least 500,000 registered talents that can apply to more than 50,000 jobs and are able to attend more than 2,000 e-learning courses.
2	Ada National College for Digital Skills	European	Education	Ada, The National College for Digital Skills pledges to educate 5000 new learners by 2021 in advanced digital skills including programming and computational thinking skills. In addition to that Ada College will embark upon a strategy for recruiting more young women and students from low income households, in order to ensure that by 2021 50% of the college intake are young women and 50% come from low-income households.
3	AICA	National	For All	During 2017, AICA will deliver around 50,000 ECDL Digital Skills certification training programmes to students, teachers and adult population, boosting the exchange of good practice and the collaboration among its network AICA DIGINET, across 20 Italian Regions.
4	Amsterdam Economic Board	National	Labour + ICT professionals+Education	The mission of the Amsterdam Economic Board is to sustainably enhance the prosperity and well-being of the Amsterdam Metropolitan Area so that the area could become the most adaptive and appealing labour market of Europe by 2025. The Amsterdam Economic Board commites to tackle youth unemployment by ensuring a 25% increase of the number of students studying IT at all educational levels by 2025.
5	Autodesk	European	Education	Autodesk commits to provide access to 400,000+ new students and educators to professional 3D Design software; develop, launch and localise 5 new MOOC Online Courses reaching 1,000 students; and offer 40 Designathons to 800 students in the EU in 2017 and 2018.
6	Basque coalition for digital skills and jobs 4.0	Local	Labour+ICT Prof	Basque Coalition for Digital Skills and Jobs 4.0. is an initiative to combine, prioritize and guide the efforts of all the ecosystem agents towards the improvement of digital competences within the Basque Industry Strategy 4.0.
7	Barclays	European	For all	Barclays will provide digital and financial literacy skills training to help empower employees, customers and the UK public at large. Barclays will help build the enterprise, employability or financial skills of five million 10-35 year olds and will have more than 1 million digital skills engagements across the UK in 2016.
8	Bebras	European	Education	BEBRAS is a collaborative international network aimed to promote Informatics among primary, secondary and high school students and teachers. The network pledges to develop common framework and methodology for informatics curricula for schools, to provide trainings for Informatics teachers, to organize easily accessible and highly motivational annual online Informatics challenges in EU countries and beyond. Through sharing best practices BEBRAS aims to increase its scope to EU countries, which are not part of it yet.

Nr	Organisation	Coverage	Category	Description of pledge
9	CA Technologies	European	Education	CA Technologies is pledging to increase the scale and reach of Create Tomorrow, a Europe-wide programme that encourages secondary school children to consider STEM studies and careers, aiming to reach 2,000 secondary students and 150 secondary school teachers from January 2017 to January 2018.
10	Cambridge Spark	European	Labour	Cambridge Spark's pledge is to help the European workforce become more employable and relevant by providing people with the IT skills most demand (such as data science and software development) through training at least one thousand people across a wide range of backgrounds by 2017.
11	CEPIS	European	ICT Professionals	CEPIS is pledging to launch IT Professionalism Europe (ITPE), a network of organisations who commit to furthering IT professionalism in Europe and promoting best practice in managing IT staff to companies. CEPIS commits to gather 50 organisations in this network by the end of 2018.
12	CISCO	National	For all	Professional Digital Skills for Refugees. CISCO pledges to train 35.000 refugees in Germany using Cisco Networking Academy in three years. The trainings will follow the broad usage of IT skills profiling Mobile Application which will be funded and developed by Cisco.
	CISCO	European	Labour	Cisco Networking Academy is a non-profit educational program that offers courses on digital skills, LMS platform and teachers professional development for educational institutions. Cisco will expand the Cisco Networking Academy program in the EU through investment in instructor trainings and courses localization to enable new education institutions, teachers and students to have access and benefit from the courses.
	CISCO	European	Labour +ICT Professionals	New courses for Industry 4.0. Cisco will introduce within its Cisco Networking Academy Programme a new series of courses enabling European students to acquire professional skills in Industry 4.0 area. The new courses will include: Internet of Things (IoT) - Connecting Things; Big Data & Analytics; a Hackathon Playbook for European education institutions.
13	DIDASCA - Italiana Cyber School	National	Education	Rete DIDASweb is a digital infrastructure created and managed by DIDASCA - The First Italian Cyber Schools for Lifelong Learning, which allows Italian teachers to learn and master G Suite for Education apps, while fostering creativity and spreading best practices. Didasca commits to train how to 'Read, Write, Search, Communicate and Think' digitally 200 000 teachers in 2000 schools across Italy by 2020.
14	Digital Leadership Institute	European	For all	Through the European Ada Awards, the Digital Leadership Institute, aims at cultivating and nurturing a community of excellence among female practitioners in digital sectors in Europe and the organisations and individuals who support them. DLI will identify and showcase annually 5-10 outstanding girls and women in digital sectors in Europe and 1-3 initiatives exemplifying best practices in getting girls and women into digital studies and careers in Europe.
15	Digital Skills Academy	European	Labour+ICT Prof	Digital Skills Academy pledges is to increase the number of digitally-skilled employees across Europe by reskilling 1,600 jobseekers in Ireland, with the goal of 92% graduate employment, and upskilling 8,400 working professionals across Ireland, France, Germany, Greece, Spain, Portugal and the UK by 2020.

Nr	Organisation	Coverage	Category	Description of pledge
16	European Digital SME Alliance	European		European Digital SME Alliance is pledging to reach 5000 people by 2019 with its #digitalSMEs4skills campaign. The campaign will enroll hundreds of digital SMEs, such as software developers and tech integrators, which will transfer digital skills to people by offering them internships.
17	ECDL	European	Labour+ICT Prof	PLEDGE 1: ECDL Foundation pledges that by the end of 2018, 2 million digital skills assessments leading to certification under ECDL standards will be taken in the EU. This will contribute to reducing the share of Europeans (45%) who lack basic digital skills and increase their employability and mobility in the labour market.
	ECDL	European	Labour+ICT Prof	PLEDGE 2: ECDL Foundation pledges to implement the Digital Marketing module developed and piloted as pledge for the Grand Coalition for Digital Jobs in 2015 in at least 5 EU countries by the end of 2017. This pledge is aimed to tackle the problem of a small share of SMEs who sell online (16%) and across borders (7.5%).
	ECDL	European	Labour+ICT Prof	PLEDGE 3: ECDL Foundation pledges to launch an ECDL Computing module which will cover all elements of computing (including, but not restricted to coding) and to pilot it in Europe. The module will be aimed at students aged 12 to 16 years, who wish to start learning about computational thinking and coding
18	eSkills Malta Foundation	National	Education	eSkills Malta Foundation pledges to train 50/60 career advisors and guidance teachers coming from Maltese schools by the end of 2017. The training will take form of informative seminars addressing several digital skills issues, such as employability and barriers to further take –up of ICT studies.
19	ESRI	European	Education	ESRI is pledging to establish a “GIS School Program” offering free access to and use of the ArcGIS Online platform - a Cloud-based package, which allows the visualisation and analysis of geospatial data- to 300 primary and secondary schools and vocational institutions in 10 EU member states by the end of 2017.
20	European Schoolnet	European	Education	Since 2014, European Schoolnet has been running open online courses to train educators on innovative teaching practices and on the effective use of pedagogical technology. Now the commitment is to find ways to localise and translate some of the open online courses to languages other than English (the current working language) to reach out to much broader audiences.
21	GEYEC eSkills for Volunteers	European	For All+ Labour	The eSkills for volunteers pledges to help young volunteers build the digital literacy skills needed to fully exploit all the potentials of digital education and digital skills in their volunteering work and at the same time it covers the Innovative Learning and Teaching pledge.
22	Gezinsbond	National	For All	The Gezinsbond pledges to provide by the end of 2017 120 “online safety” training sessions for at least 3,000 Belgian parents, aimed to develop their skills in understanding and responding to the risks of online activities their children get involved in.

Nr	Organisation	Coverage	Category	Description of pledge
23	Google	European	For All	Google is pledging to continue to support European to gain digital skills through the following initiatives: Digital Workshop (online training hub); engaging young job seekers; helping small businesses to grow; funding 10,000 Android scholarships via Udacity and in partnership with Bertelsmann for EU mobile developers.
24	HEPIS	European	For All+ Labour	HePIS will partner with multinational companies, SMEs, organizations and philanthropic foundations to develop programmes and initiatives that will help young people acquire basic, intermediate and advanced computer and coding skills. Through these programmes HePIS aims to train around 4000 young people on Basic Coding skills in Cyprus and Malta by 2017 while also providing advanced coding lessons and certification opportunities to unemployed young people enrolled in various activities.
25	HPE	National	Education	HPE is pledging to provide 40.000 training hours, reaching 2.000 Italian students, during the academic year 2016-2017. This through the FabLab@HPE project, dedicated to the secondary level high schools with the aim of developing high-quality digital and soft skills to manage a FabLab inside the schools.
26	Kaspersky Lab	European	Labour	Kaspersky Lab pledges to help narrowing the digital skills and talent divide, particularly in relation to cybersecurity, through continuing its awareness raising campaign aimed at secondary and tertiary school students, "Futureproofing Cybersecurity, as well as formalising more cooperation frameworks with Universities.
27	Liberty Global	European		Liberty Global strongly believes in the transformative power of the internet and the liberating power of technology. This is why we aim to develop and support initiatives that fuel people's imagination and empower them to bring positive change in their communities. Our flagship program, Digital Imagination, is a collective movement to create digital solutions that respond to pressing societal challenges.
28	Likta	National	Labour+ICT Prof	Likta commits to provide high quality digital skills courses to 7,000 SMEs employees and 1,500 ICT professionals in Latvia in the period 2017-2020. The courses will be organised by LIKTA within 2 projects co-financed by the European Regional Development Fund.
28	Microsoft	European	For All+Labour Force+Education	Microsoft will increase access to computer science education and digital skills training for 5 million youth across 28 EU member states in the next 2 years. This will be accomplished through a holistic approach that directly empowers both educators and youth. Furthermore, we are refocusing our non-profit-led training efforts in 21 EU member states by aiming to reach at least 50% girls.
30	Oracle	European	All+Edu	Oracle, through its Oracle Academy, is pledging to invest US $1.4 billion in direct and in-kind support for computer science education in the EU member states over the next 3 years, reaching students in 1,000 additional EU educational institutions, nearly doubling its current EU Oracle Academy membership.

Nr	Organisation	Coverage	Category	Description of pledge
31	SAP Next Generation	European	Education	SAP pledges to expand the network of SAP Next-Gen Labs and hubs across Europe. SAP Next-Gen is an open innovation platform connecting students, researches, thought leaders, start-ups, accelerators with corporates and venture capitalist to seed in disruptive innovation and accelerate the digital transformation and digital futures of the economy.
32	Telecentre Europe	European	For All+ Labour	Telecentre Europe pledges to organise an annual campaign called Get Online Week, to raise awareness among European citizens about the benefits offered by the digital transformation, and how they can take advantage of them. The campaign is expected to involve more than 70,000 people and encompass over 3,000 events in 2017.
33	Telefonica	National	For All	Telefónica Educación Digital pledges to offer free access for all citizens to: MiriadaX, a MOOC platform with over 90 universities offering more than 500 courses in a wide range of subjects, including ICT and teacher development; StemByMe platform which provides free online courses and guidance to children aged 12+ within the area of STEM and ICT, particularly in the field of robotics and programming; and SclarTIC, an online teacher development resource centre which brings together experts and the teaching community to improve digital skills and impact on learning outcomes
34	Transformify	European	For All+ Labour	Transformify #GoRemote program commits to collect data about the digital skills demanded by the business. Based on the report, Transformify will offer e-learning opportunities and finally provide targeted remote job opportunities to increase the employment rate among seniors, youth, single parents, stay at home mothers, people living in high unemployment areas and refugees.
35	Ubiquim Code Academy	National	All categories	Ubiquim Code Academy and its partners pledge to increase the number of digitally-skilled employees in Europe, and to help tackle youth unemployment, by reskilling 3,000 jobseekers by 2020. These ambitious goals will be achieved via the delivery of a series of digital skills-based technology career programs using the Story-Centered Curriculum (SCC) approach.
36	University of Urbino	European	Education	The University of Urbino pledges to scale up their successful "Coding in your classroom, now!" MOOC (CodeMOOC), in many different ways: by delivering it for at least 2 years, by combining it with a road show, by delivering a new MOOC to assist the teachers who completed CodeMOOC in the process of involving their colleagues, by making both the format and the contents available for reuse in other countries.
37	WINGS ICT Solutions	National	For all+ Labour+ ICT professionals	WINGS ICT Solutions commits to developing systems that can contribute to upskilling/ reskilling employees/jobseekers, so as to develop high level digital skills for ICT professionals in line with the demand from different industry sectors. By the August 2017 WINGS ICT Solutions aims to have at least twenty new employees in new or existing projects. Each year it is aimed to contribute to having thirty to forty new employees with augmented skills working in large industrial companies.

As of 01/12/2016

Nr	Organisation	Coverage	Category	Description of pledge
38	Women and girls go digital in greece	National		The Women and Girls Go Digital Local Coalition (WGGD), coordinated by the Greek General Secretariat for Gender Equality (GSGE) together with the European Centre for Women and Technology and local partners, is pledging to promote in a European and National level Greek women employability and STEM education in the period 2017-2018.
39	YouRock	European	Labour	YouRock.Jobs is an online employability site allowing users to create dynamic skills personality profiles in support to young people (16-30+) with little or no work history. Its pledge is to reach 15,000 new users and connect with 20 National Collations by the end of 2018.