The European Commission has started a campaign to raise awareness and increase the social acceptance of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Intersex (LGBTI) people. This is part of the Commission’s “List of Actions to advance LGBTI equality” presented in December 2015.

We invite you to take part in the ‘We all Share the Same Dreams’ social media campaign to lend your support to LGBTI people across Europe.

CAMPAIGN OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the campaign are:

• Increase the social acceptance of LGBTI people and help to combat and prevent discrimination;
• Promote positive messages about LGBTI equality and increase the number of ‘straight allies’ and multipliers in the promotion of LGBTI equality among the EU population;
• Increase visibility of how the European Commission is promoting the rights of LGBTI people.

All materials and links under embargo until 5 August (12.00 Brussels Time).
CAMPAIGN PRODUCTS

This toolkit contains the links to a series of visuals for your use on social media that are under embargo until the 5 August (12.00 Brussels time). A video will also be released on the 5 August. The video will be published on the EU webpage where it is also possible to find more information on the campaign and where you will be able to download all products available.

The European Commission will start a countdown to the official release of the video on 29 July on DG JUSTICE social media channels. Please make sure to help us spread the word by retweeting and reposting these messages on your social media accounts!

EUROPRIDE 2016 IN AMSTERDAM

As part of the campaign the European Commission participates with its own boat to the EuroPride2016 Canal Parade.

CAMPAIGN MESSAGE

Experiences such as being bullied or attacked in the street for being who you are, sadly still remain part of everyday life for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Trans, Intersex (LGBTI) citizens in Europe. 60% of EU citizens see discrimination based on sexual orientation & gender identity as widespread, while according to a 2012 survey by the EU Agency for Fundamental Rights, 47% of LGBTI people say they have been discriminated against over the last 12 months.

The European Commission wants to show Europe that all EU citizens are equal and that no matter whom we love or who we are, everybody shares the same dreams. This campaign provides an opportunity to reinforce anti-discrimination messages and ensure that LGBTI rights are respected.

Experiences such as being bullied or attacked in the street for being who you are, sadly still remain part of everyday life for LGBTI citizens in Europe. The 2015 Eurobarometer on discrimination shows that 60% of EU citizens see discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity as widespread. At the same time, 71% of respondents support equal rights for LGBTI people.

The Commission is committed to defending and promoting values of equality, tolerance and respect for each other. These are the values upon which the European Union is founded. To tackle discrimination against LGBTI people in the EU the Commission has put forward the ‘List of actions to advance LGBTI equality’. The Council of the European Union has adopted Council Conclusions on LGBTI Equality for the first time in June 2016, supporting the Commission activities in this area.

As part of the List of actions, the European Commission is raising awareness of the issue through its #ShareYourDream campaign. The campaign concept is built around the idea that no matter who you love or who you are, we all share the same dreams. Whether it's spending more time with loved ones, or making a difference in the world, the things we share can bring us together.

The concept of the campaign is the theme of the European Commission’s boat at the EuroPride 2016 Canal Parade in Amsterdam on the 6 August.
