HOW TO IMPLEMENT THE MARINE LEISURE DIMENSION OF THE ATLANTIC MARITIME STRATEGY

ATLANTIC STAKEHOLDER PLATFORM CONFERENCE
Porto, 20 January 2015
Marine leisure in the Atlantic Area

• Marine leisure
  – Watersports and leisure activities related to water: recreation, discovery, group or lone activities, marine education, sporting competitions, events, adventure, lifestyle choice.
  – Sailing, kayaking, surfing, rowing, diving, sand-yachting, kite surfing, water skiing, surf life saving, angling, swimming, coasteering, aquatic walk, trips, discovery of maritime and aquatic environment…
  – Growing popularity of those activities on the sea and also on inland waters

• Marine leisure sector: the private, public and voluntary organizations of three complementary and interdependent subsectors:
  – Supervised activities: teaching, training, coaching, club activities, …
  – Ports and marinas of all sizes: pontoons, moorings, dry marinas, tidal slipway
  – Industry, services and trade: equipment manufacturing, maintenance, services delivery, retail
Marine leisure in the Atlantic Area

- European Atlantic Area
  - Ireland, West UK, West France, West Spain, Portugal and Macaronesia
  - 30 000 km of coastline, a huge number of estuaries, beaches, bays, islands, rivers, lakes,…
  - 58 million habitants
  - 100 million tourists

- Economic and social weight of the Atlantic marine leisure sector
  - 9 million participants
  - 6 000 structures for marine leisure supervised activities
  - 1 600 marinas, 230 000 berths on pontoons
  - 8 500 businesses: industry, trade and services, SMEs
  - 9 billion euros in turn-over
  - 85 000 direct equivalent full-time jobs

- 2008-2014: several projects: NEA2, Sail West, Dorna, ….but, as it is a new sector, still few stakeholders and few territories
Marine leisure in the Atlantic Area

- NEA, NEA2 and several projects have shown the benefits of marine leisure
  - Economy: production of goods and services, contribution to tourism
  - Human and social development: employment, maritime education and culture, social and territorial cohesion, well-being of the local populations
  - Environment: protection, development, valuation
  - Marine leisure: key interface between the populations and the Ocean

- The NEA2 network has contributed to the preparation of the action plan:
  1. A strong Atlantic marine leisure economy, creating employment.
  2. A population of the Atlantic Area focused on marine leisure and sea
  3. The development of the marine leisure governance in the Atlantic Area

- 26 June 2013: It is recognized in the Action Plan of the Atlantic Maritime Strategy that marine leisure can contribute to the AMS
  - An economic sector, with a high potential, relying in particular on tourism and production of equipments
  - A major vehicle for awareness and maritime education of the populations
Marine leisure and Atlantic Maritime Strategy

Marine leisure is concerned by 3 of the 4 priorities of the Atlantic Maritime Strategy

1. Priority 1: Promote entrepreneurship and innovation: development of businesses, development of maritime education in order to raise awareness of the maritime careers.

2. Priority 2: Protect, secure and develop the potential of the Atlantic maritime and coastal environment: contribution of marine leisure to the environmental protection, awareness and development

3. Priority 4: Create a model of regional development inclusive and sustainable: contribution to employment and well-being of local communities, social and territorial cohesion. Development of the local economy on tourism and production of equipment,
A full range of EU funds available for the development of the marine leisure part of the Atlantic Strategy.
Creation of an Atlantic one stop shop used as a leverage for the marine leisure sector

WHY?

➡ To develop the marine leisure part of the Atlantic Strategy
➡ To support and promote the marine leisure development projects
➡ To clarify and simplify the message sent to marine leisure stakeholders
➡ To support stakeholders to access EU funds
➡ To facilitate project inventory and monitoring
➡ To qualify and quantify the benefits of EU funds on the sector
Creation of an Atlantic one stop shop used as a leverage for the marine leisure sector

HOW ?

➡️ By creating a network of identified national help desks acting in each country of the Atlantic area

➡️ By gathering all the local, regional, national, crossborder, transnational marine leisure projects of the Atlantic area

➡️ By developing common actions: several thematic conferences, a biannual conference of the Atlantic marine leisure sector, emblematic sport events (Atlantic Games, Atlantic offshore race,…)

➡️ By developing common tools: « Atlantic Marine Leisure » web portal, common indicators,….

➡️ By organising strategic and regulatory surveillance on EU funds and providing advise to potential applicants
Examples of cooperation thematics for marine leisure development

- Innovation in boatbuilding (eco-building, …)
