Basic Education

The EU Regional Trust Fund in Response to the Syrian Crisis provides access for refugee children to formal education and schooling, non-formal education schemes, accelerated learning and catch-up classes, as well as remedial and homework support activities. Through this priority sector, the Trust Fund supports 252,291 children in Lebanon, Jordan, Turkey, and Iraq.

Ahmad, 11, and Manal, 9, both fled the war in Syria and now live in Jordan where they resumed their education. Like many Syrian children, Ahmad and Manal had lost several years of schooling. Thanks to the Back to the Future (BTTF) project, funded by the EU Regional Trust Fund, almost 100,000 children are being helped to go back to school, both in Jordan and Lebanon. More stories:

Huthayfa, 14, is a Palestine child refugee who fled with his family from Syria and now lives in Beirut, Lebanon. Huthayfa's journey brought him to resume his studies and even win medals during chess competitions. Like many other refugees who had to flee destruction and war, Huthayfa's family had to leave everything behind to start all over again. Together with UNWRA, the EU Regional Trust Fund contributes to more autonomy, protection and basic needs for more than 45,000 Palestine refugees from Syria and local youth in Jordan and Lebanon.
